FOOD BILL WITH BONE DRY CLAUSE IS BEFORE SENATE

Some Members Declare They Will Never Permit Measure to Pass With Beer on Prohibited List Unless by New Cloture Rule.

Long Fight on Measure Will Prevent Its Passage by July 1; Senators Flooded With Messages.

Measure, as Reported, Would Give Government Power to Operate Factories, Oil Wells and Mines.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Consideration of the food control bill as amended to include the new prohibition sections was begun today in the Senate. The original bill was laid aside and the revised draft was substituted.

The prohibition question looming large, promise da spectacular and probably long struggle.

Some Senators told leaders they would never permit the bill to pass containing the "bone dry" provisions unless the Senate's new cloture rule were invoked to force it.

The new prohibition section is that which was put in yesterday by the Senate Agriculture Committee and is the same as the House provision, prohibiting the manufacture of foodstuffs into intoxicating liquor, with the exception that the President is empowered to permit the manufacture of wine.

Senators Flooded With Letters.

Not in years, according to several Senators, has such interest been aroused as indicated by telegrams and letters on the prohibition issue. Thousands of telegrams poured in upon Senators today advocating and opposing the "bone dry" plan with a majority in opposition. The communications come from farmers, merchants, labor unions, temperance societies, municipal officers and organizations.

Wisconsin farmers and agricultural organizations telegraphed today that thousands of acres of barley had been planted there in expectation of continuance of brewing. Labor unions are emphasizing loss of employment from closing of breweries and municipal officers the loss of local license revenues. Many of the telegrams are in identical language, indicating organized opposition.

Personal efforts are also being made upon the legislation, especially that which would stop brewing. Attorneys and other representatives of national brewing and distilling organizations are busy in the lobbies and offices, interviewing Senators. The "drys" also are active, with leaders of the national Anti-Saloon League engaged in personal solicitation of Senators.

President's Powers Extended.

In extending the scope of the legislation and the President's powers, the committee adopted amendments which would provide for Government control, in addition to food, feeds and fuel, of iron, steel, copper and their products, farm implements and machinery, fertilizers and binding twine materials.

Other important amendments approved would authorize the Government to take over and operate factories, packing houses, oil wells, and mines, regulating wages of their employes and to commandeer supplies of any and every kind when needed for the army and navy, "or any other public use connected with the public defense."

Another would empower the Government to buy and sell, for general civilian purposes, food, feeds, and fuels, with limitation upon the general legislation making it apply to agencies and products only in interstate or foreign commerce.

Vote on Dry Clause Close.

The prohibition section was written into the bill yesterday by a vote of 9 to 7 with Sheppard of Texas, Thompson of Kansas, Johnson of South Dakota, Gronna of North Dakota, Norris of Nebraska, Kenyon of Iowa, Kendrick of Wyoming, Page of Vermont and Brady of Idaho voting aye. Against the proposal were Smith of South Carolina, Ransdell of Louisiana, Warren of Wyoming, Wadsworth of New York, Chamberlain of Oregon, Gore of Oklahoma and Smith of Georgia.

The provision for commandeering of factories, packing houses, oil wells and other plants for military or public defense purposes also would authorize their operation. The committee added an amendment providing that in regulating wages of employes of plants commandeered in case of dispute the Federal wage rates shall be settled by arbitration through the board of mediation and conciliation.

LIBERTY BONDS READY NEXT WEEK

Engraved Certificates Soon to Be Sent Out From Washington.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The second payment of 18 per cent from subscribers to the Liberty Loan who bought bonds on the installment payment plan, was due today. The next payment of 20 per cent is due July 30.

The engraved bonds probably will be ready next week.

Canadian Triplane Defeats German Flier 20,000 Feet in Air

CANADIAN ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, June 28.

IN an air duel fought at probably the highest altitude at which aviators have met in combat—nearly four miles—a Canadian triplane today pursued and defeated a German two-seated aviatik.

The German machine had sought safety by climbing upward and the triplane pursued. At a height of 20,000 feet the pilot of the German craft either fell or jumped from it and disappeared, at the moment of the first burst of fire from the gun of the Canadian. The German observer was then seen to climb out upon the tail of his machine, where he lost his hold and plunged headlong. The aviatik turned its nose down and fell.

PERSHING COMMENDS PETAIN'S 'WHY WE ARE FIGHTING' ARTICLE

Declares Heroism of French Armies Will Inspire Those Fighting by Her Side.

PARIS, June 28.—Major-General Pershing was asked today to comment on the article entitled "Why We Are Fighting," published yesterday in the Army Bulletin, in which Gen. Petain, the French Commander in Chief, explained the objects of the war and why a premature peace must not be concluded. Gen. Pershing said:

"I have read Gen. Petain's article with deepest interest. His answer to the question is complete and logical. The facts set forth should convince the world of the justice of our great cause. I cannot think it possible that anyone should hold a different view of why we are in the war. It is quite beyond reason that anyone knowing the truth should fail to condemn the course pursued by the German Government, and the truth has been clearly pointed out by the distinguished Commander in Chief of the French Army.

"There must be no peace except a lasting peace. The ideals for which the Allies are contending must be held sacred. France will continue her splendid fight for human rights and human liberties, and fresh examples of heroism by her valiant armies will still further inspire those fighting by her side."

U. S. TROOPS IN FRANCE OMEN OF VICTORY, SAYS LONDON PAPER

Arrival of Americans Predominant Feature in News Columns of British Press.

LONDON, June 28.—Arrival of an advance force of the American army in France is the predominant feature in the news columns of the morning newspapers, which display under big headlines such details as are allowed to be published. The Times comments on the arrival as an omen full of hope and promise to friends of ordered freedom, a sure presage of an allied victory, and the signal of a democratic peace to be wrung from defeated Germany.

As a symbol of the union of mind and feeling of the democracies of England, France and the United States, it promises, says the Times, to rank forever among the great historic landmarks in the moral and political history of mankind.

SEVEN GERMAN NUNS APPLY FOR FIRST CITIZENSHIP PAPERS

They Are Stationed at Hospital at Highland, Ill., and Wish to Serve as Red Cross Nurses.

Seven German Catholic nuns applied for first citizenship papers yesterday afternoon at Edwardsville. They are preparing to go to the front as Red Cross nurses if accepted. They are stationed at St. Joseph's Hospital at Highland, Ill.

The nuns were amused at some of the questioned asked by Circuit Clerk Mellon, but answered promptly as to their ages, weight, color of hair and eyes, and whether they were anarchists or believed in polygamy. They ranged in age from 30 to 58 years.

In the party were Catherina Chordell, Josephine Schulte, Theresia Becker, Gertrude Sharing, Anastasia Woycrechowski, Catharina Thomas, Wilhelmina Otte Dotteln, Anna Dupphahan and Anna Uhlenbrock. Their convent names were not asked for.

KANSAS TECHNICAL TRADES CONVICTS FREED TO SERVE U. S.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., June 28.—Several prisoners possessing technical qualifications have been pardoned from the Kansas State penitentiary and are serving the Government in their technical trades, Warden J. K. Codding of the institution announces. He was discussing the National Prison Congress, to be held next week at Washington, when prison authorities will discuss a proposed movement for the release of such men who have expressed desires to serve during the national emergency.

The suggested action was said to concern such men as electricians, mechanics and others of a similar nature.

The extent of the pardoning here was not revealed nor would the warden assert where the men had been placed.

50 DEATHS FROM SUMMER AILMENT IN DUNKLIN COUNTY

Those Who Succumbed Mostly Young Children—200 Other Cases, Coroner Says.

16 FATALITIES AT ORAN

Others at Various Places in Scott County, Including Two at Moberly.

Dr. C. M. Harrison of Kennett, Mo., Coroner of Dunklin County, told the Post-Dispatch today over the long-distance telephone that 50 children have died in that county in the past six weeks from an aggravated form of enterocolitis, an infection of the intestines, and that probably 200 persons, mostly children, are suffering with the disease now, of whom 50 are in a serious condition.

Sixteen deaths have occurred at Oran, in Scott County, and two at Morley, also in Scott County, and there are said to have been numerous fatalities at other places in the vicinity.

Children 5 years and younger have been the principal victims. The majority are under 2 years of age. Some middle-aged persons have been attacked, but have withstood the disease more successfully, and none of these has died.

Ailment Unusually Severe.

Dr. E. S. Tate of Morley, Mo., Coroner of Scott County, told the Post-Dispatch that the disease which caused the afatalities in Scott County is iliocolitis of an unusually severe type, a summer complaint which is similar to enterocolitis.

Coroner Tate attributes the epidemic to the unusual weather conditions of the spring and early summer. Unseasonably cool weather, he explained, changing suddenly to high temperature, had caused vapor to rise from the sandy soil creating an unhealthy condition and making children and older persons susceptible to the intestinal irritation caused by early vegetables. Flies, he said, have been a factor in the spread of the disease.

Treating Over 15 Cases.

Coroner Tate said he was treating between 15 and 20 cases, some of which were serious, and the epidemic in Morley seemed to be getting worse, both in the number of cases and the severity of the disease. He said that he had not heard of cases anywhere in Scott County except at Oran and Morley.

Oran is 151 miles from St. Louis, on the Frisco, and 20 miles from Cape Girardeau. Morley is 26 miles from Cape Girardeau on a branch line.

Dispatches from Cape Girardeau state that the mothers of Scott and Dunklin Counties are frantic because of the number of children that have fallen victims to the malady. Two children were taken to Cape Girardeau for treatment. One died.

Four have died at Senath, in Dunklin County, and sixteen cases are being treated there now.

Dr. Hughes of Senath says there is no epidemic there, but that cholera infantum has been prevalent. The four deaths were caused by that disease, he says, and the 16 under treatment have the same malady. He attributes it to the eating of fresh vegetables.

The situation was so serious that an appeal to the State Board of Health was considered, but yesterday the doctors decided they had the situation in hand and could deal with it successfully, and no appeal was made.

List of Deaths at Oran.

The following have died at Oran: Lain and Gladys, children of Jessie Crafton; James, son of J. R. Limbaugh; Philip, son of Thomas Swafford; Harry, son of C. M. Stehr; Leo, son of Alonzo Roberts; Mary, daughter of Philip Stehr; Frederick, son of Henry Menz; Elsie, daughter of Gentry Brown; Harry, son of C. H. Ates; Kathaline, daughter of Fred Sturgeon; Julius, son of S. H. Crader; child of W. B. Steele, child of William Haughn, child of Peter Molenhour.

UNSINKABLE CARGO BOAT WILL BE TESTED BY ITALY

Has Two Hulls, Space Between Them Being Intended to Protect Vessel From Torpedo.

ROME, June 28.—Umberto Pugliere, a naval engineer, has designed a new type of unsinkable cargo boat which has been accepted by the Italian Ministry of Marine.

The Revista Maritima, describing the ship, says the vessel has a displacement of 10,100 tons, and can carry 5800 tons of cargo. It has a double skin, the space between the inner and the outer hulls being filled with coal and other material which is intended to protect the ship from mine or torpedo.

BISHOP OF MALINES SAID TO BE IMPRISONED IN GERMANY

Several Other Priests of Cardinal Mercier's Entourage and His Secretary Reported Put in Prison.

AMSTERDAM, June 28.—According to the Telegraaf, several priests of the entourage of Cardinal Mercier, primate of Belgium, were arrested recently and imprisoned in Germany. One of them is Bishop Legraive of Malines.

Twenty others, the newspaper says, have been imprisoned in Belgium. Among this number is Cardinal Mercier's private secretary, who was sentenced to a year in prison for preaching on Whitsunday on Christian charity.

PRICES OF COAL REDUCED $1 TO $1.50 AT MINES

Operators Agree to Reduction Pending Fixing of Maximum Charge by Government.

BIG SAVING TO PUBLIC

Further Decrease Likely After Investigation Into Cost of Production.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—An immediate general reduction of $1 to $1.50 a ton in the price of coal at the mine was agreed upon here today by representatives of the coal operators.

This reduction is expected to be followed by still further decreases in price after investigation into the costs of mining coal and it is probable that the Government will be given a still lower price than that to the general public. Hundreds of millions of dollars will be saved to the American people through this decision.

The operators agreed to the immediate reduction at a meeting here today after adopting a resolution by which coal prices would be fixed with the aid and approval of the Secretary of the Interior, the Federal Trade Commission and the Committee on Coal Production of the National Defense Council.

About 600,000,000 tons of coal were mined in this country last year and Secretary Lane, who has earnestly urged a reduction, believes that the saving to the American people will be enormous. After hearing of the operators' action, Lane wrote the following letter to F. S. Peabody, chairman of the Coal Production Committee, who has been in constant conference with the operators:

"I have just learned of the action of the coal operators and I wish to express my appreciation of the generous, prompt and patriotic manner in which they have acted. They have dealt with the situation in the way that I had hoped they would as large men dealing with a large question. They manifestly see that this is no time in which to consider primarily the opportunities which the war gives for personal aggrandizement. We must gain for each by gaining for all. This country is in a mood for sacrifice. It is intent upon the success of the war, is willing to do everything needed to give insurance to the world against a repetition of this awful condition.

"Will you not be good enough to express to the coal men my appreciation of the spirit they have shown in determining that their prices shall be reduced so that the industries of the country may not be hampered and the people may not feel that their spirit is broken down by the thought that this is to be a war for individual advantage instead of self protection. I felt from the moment of my talk to them that no body of men more truly represented the high purpose to yield personal desire for general good than did they. Now I trust that we shall immediately put into concrete form the spirit of your resolution."

Early in the day the conference of 400 operators, representing all coal-producing states, adopted resolutions authorizing their committee "to give assent to such maximum prices for coal free on board" cars at mines in the various districts as may be named by the Secretary of the Interior, Federal Trade Commission and the Coal Production Committee of the Council of National Defense.

Committee Reports Resolution.

The resolution giving "assent" to fixing of maximum prices was reported by former Gov. Fort, from a special committee. He said he believed that the resolution was entirely safe for the conference to adopt, and that any responsibility as to the legality of the fixing of the prices was put on the Government and not the operators, under the terms of the resolution.

The resolution points out that a great national emergency now exists in the nation's fuel supply, and that the coal operators and miners desire to closely co-operate with the Government.

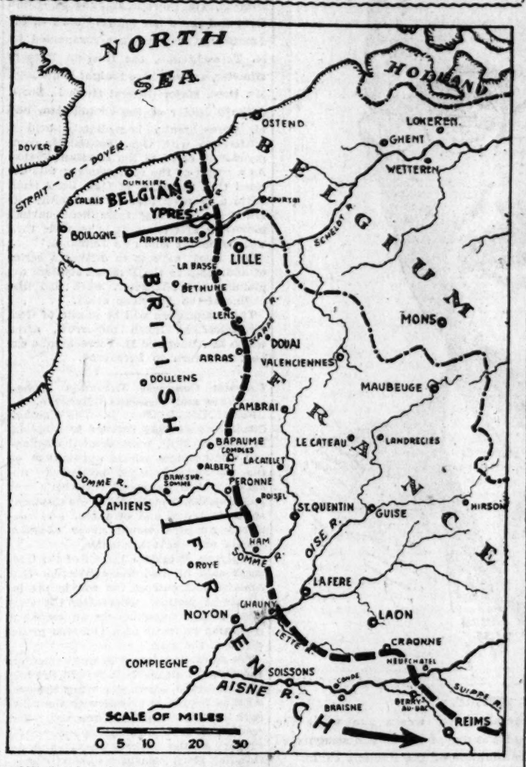

The resolution was unanimously adopted. It was a revision of a former resolution recalled because of fear that questions might be raised as to the legality of the operators agreeing upon a price, even though, at the instance of the Government, Attorney-General Gregory having sent word that R. Colton Lewis, special Assistant Attorney-General, who had been conferring with the operators, had no right or authority to outline what the Government's policy might be under the anti-trust laws in connection with price fixing.

As soon as this resolution was agreed to, another one was presented under which it was proposed that the Government authorize the Government representatives named in the resolution to issue a statement forthwith, fixing a tentative price which in their judgment, shall be a fair and reasonable one for the various districts, and to be effective from July 1 until the committee shall fix a permanent price.

Secretary Lane sent the conference a letter asking immediate action in reducing the prices, the tentative prices fixed to continue until the investigation into costs and conditions warranted an increase or reduction in the tentative prices. He suggested that the tentative fixing of prices should not affect present contracts or export trade.

Battle Line Where U. S. Force May Be Placed Between British and French

THE Belgians hold the first 22 miles from the sea. The British come next, holding 120 miles to a point east of Peronne. The French hold the remainder of the line to Switzerland, a distance of about 220 miles. While there has been nothing to indicate what sector of this line the American forces will take over, it has been assured that for sentimental reasons it will be placed next to the French forces and since the command is to be an independent one, between the French and the British.

U. S. AVIATOR REPORTED KILLED IN FIGHT WITH SEVEN GERMANS

Corporal James Hall, Author of Kitchener's Mob," Shot Through Lung—Machine Falls in French Lines.

PARIS, June 28.—Corporal James Hall of Colfax, Io., a member of the Lafayette Escadrille, which is composed principally of American aviators, is believed to have been killed in an encounter with seven German airplanes, according to the Herald. He was shot through the lung. His machine fell within the French lines.

Corporal Hall, who was the author of "Kitchener's Mob," joined the American squadron a short time ago after being wounded in the British army and discharged. He brought down a German airplane four days ago.

Sublieut. Dorme, one of the most skillful French aviators, who has been credited officially with bringing down 23 German machines, has been missing since he flew over the enemy's lines on May 25 on a scouting mission. His fate is unknown.

MISSOURI SHORT 600 ON REGULAR ARMY QUOTA

Week of Big Drive Has Produced 338 Enlistments—938 Were Needed.

The campaign to enlist 938 men in the regular army this week to complete Missouri's quota of 6586 recruits has resulted in 338 enlistments in the State since last Saturday, of which St. Louis has furnished 88, with 14 applicants being held for further medical examination.

This leaves Missouri 600 men short of its quota, and an extra effort will be made by the recruiting officers to fill out the ranks by the end of the week.

Since April 1, Missouri has enlisted 5986 men. Many states have completed their quotas.

President Wilson, in an effort to recruit 70,000 volunteers to bring the regular army up to war strength of 300,000, designated this as Army Recruiting week, but the recruiting officers are calling it "President's" week.

Men who wish to go to France quickly can do so by joining the regular army. The recruiting offices are authorized to say that recruits will be with Gen. Pershing's forces in the autumn. Men registered for the draft are particularly desirable and they can inter upon their career as soldiers most quickly and under highly favorable conditions by enlisting with the regulars.

Maj. Goode, in charge of recruiting, said today that he had rejected 52 applicants since Saturday, and was holding 14 who might pass. He pointed out that if everybody in Missouri would do his duty and urge men of eligible age to enlist the 600 men required could be easily enrolled before the end of the week.

Maj. Goode also announced that he had received word from Washington that volunteer enlistments would be continued throughout the period of the war.

Country-Wide Recruiting Continues to Fall Off.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Regular army recruiting fell off heavily again yesterday despite the great drive being made to fill regiments to war strength.

Unless a better showing is made during the next three days, it seems certain that the reserve for the regular army will have to be taken from men drafted for the national army. Officials hoped that the arrival of Gen. Pershing's regulars in France would stimulate interest and bring a large number of volunteers to the colors during the next three days. It was again said today that men who join the regulars for the duration of the war can be certain of early action at the American front soon to be established in France.

With recruiting week more than half gone about 55,000 men still are needed. Only 1400 additions were reported yesterday, the best showing being made by Illinoise and Massachusetts, both of which have exceeded their quota.

60 Auto Loads of Liquor Seized.

TRANSPORTING OF U. S. SOLDIERS TO FRANCE ESTABLISHES A RECORD

Thousands of Regulars and Marines Assembled and Taken Across Sea Within a Month.

SUPPLIES FOR MONTHS ARE LANDED IN FRANCE

Sibert, One of the New Major-Generals in Charge of First Expedition—Seasoned Troops Will Be Ready Soon to Take Their Place on the Fighting Front.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Thousands of America's fighting men are today encamped in France and soon will be ready to take their places in the trenches beside the seasoned campaigners of the allies.

Regulars and marines, fresh from service on the Mexican border or in Haiti or Santo Domingo, were landed yesterday after a voyage in which the German submarines were eluded and all records were broken for transporting overseas a large military unit.

The forces will be a net gain to the allies, as the men will be fed, clothed, armed and equipped by this Government. Already there are being stored at the encampment supplies sufficient for many months. The American forces will be an independent unit, co-operating with the allies. It has been suggested that the Americans might be placed as a connecting link between the French and British armies, but the exigencies of the coming campaigns will decide that question.

No formal announcement came from the War Department, none will come probably until Major-General Pershing's official report is received. Then there may be a statement as to the number and the composition of the advance guards. Press dispatches from France presumably sent forward with the approval of Gen. Pershing's staff, show that Major-General Sibert, one of the new Major-Generals of the army, has been given command of the first force sent abroad under Gen. Pershing as commander in chief of the expedition.

One thing stands out sharply, despite the fact that the size of the task that has been accomplished is not fully revealed as yet. This is that American enterprise has set a new record for the transportation of troops.

Record in Transportation Set.

Considering the distance to be covered and the fact that all preparations had to be made after the order came from the White House the night of May 18, it is practically certain that never before has a military expedition of this size been assembled, conveyed and landed without mishap in so short a time by any nation. It is a good augury of future achievements. The only rival in magnitude is the movement of British troops to South Africa in the Boer War, and that was made over seas that were unhampered by submarines, mines or other obstacles.

Gen. Pershing and his staff have been busy for days preparing for the arrival of the men. Despite the enormous difficulties of unpreparedness and submarine dangers that faced them, the plans of the army general staff have gone through with clocklike precision.

When the order came to prepare immediately an expeditionary force to go to France, virtually all of the men now across the seas were on the Mexican border. There were no army transports available in the Atlantic. The vessels that carried the troops were scattered on their usual routes. Army reserve stores were still depleted from the border mobilization. Regiments were below war strength.

That was the condition when President Wilson decided that the plea of the French high commission should be answered and a force of regulars sent at once to France. At his word the War Department began to move. Gen. Pershing was summoned quietly to Washington and was in the capital when the President's order for the dispatch of troops was made public.

Thousand Activities Afoot.

There were a thousand other activities afoot in the department at the time. All the business of preparing for the military registration of 10,000,000 men, of providing quarters and instructors for nearly 50,000 prospective officers, for firearms and equipment for millions of troops yet to be organized, of expanding the regular army to full war strength, of preparing and recruiting the national guard for war was at hand.

Gen. Pershing dropped quietly into the department and set up the first headquarters of the American expeditionary forces in a little office hardly large enough to hold himself and his personal staff.

There came a day when Gen. Pershing was no longer in the department. Officers of the general staff suddenly were missing from their desks. No word of this was reported. Then came word from England that Pershing and his officers were there. All was carried through without publicity. Other matters relating to the expedition were carried out without a word of publicity. The regiments that were to go with Gen. Pershing were all selected before he left the country and moving toward the seacoast from the border. Other regiments also were moving north, east and west to the points where they were to be expanded and the movements of the troops who were to be first in France were obscured in all this hurrying of troop trains over the land.

Great shipments of war supplies began to assemble at the embarkation ports. Liners suddenly were taken off their regular runs with no announcement. A great armada was made ready, supplied, equipped as transports, loaded with men and guns and sent to sea, and all with virtually no mention from the press.

Navy Has Share in Work.

The navy bears its full share in the achievement. From the time the troop ships left their docks and headed toward sea responsibility for the lives of their thousands of men rested upon the officers and crews of the fighting ships that moved beside them or swept free the sea lanes before them. As they pushed on through the days and nights toward the danger zone where German submarines lay in wait, every precaution of trained minds of the navy could devise was taken.

The news from France today shows that the plans were well laid. While his troops were embarking or steaming toward their destination, Gen. Pershing and his staff, supplemented by a special corps of general staff officers have been busy in France preparing the way for the new army. The camp sites have been selected, the details of the final training to be given before they move to the front have been worked out and the question of supply and transportation reviewed. Regiments of the national army, composed of railroad workers and engineers, will aid in that work. They, too, have been created in a few weeks' time.

First Force Arrived Tuesday.

The press dispatch yesterday from a French seaport spoke of the arrival of the "second contingent" of the American troops yesterday morning and of the arrival of crowds who had gathered for hours in "anticipation of the duplication of yesterday's surprise." While no announcement has been made, it is assumed that the first troops arrived in France Tuesday.

The dispatch concerning the landing continued:

"Enthusiasm rose to fever pitch when it was learned that the transports and convoys had successfully passed the submarine zone. The port was speedily beflagged in honor of the occasion.

"All the troops now arrived were transferred today to a camp not far distant from this point, where Major-General William L. Sibert is installed. Thence they probably will go soon to a point near the front.

"All the troops are in excellent shape, enthusiastic over the successful trip and their reception, and are eager for action.

"Major-General Pershing, the American commander, is expected tomorrow.

"The harbor is dotted with convoys. The streets are filled with soldiers in khaki and with bluejackets. Great numbers of trucks are transporting immense supplies to the camp in which the troops are concentrating."

CARRIED ON BIG SHIPS

Complete Equipment and Supplies Taken, Even Coal for Vessels' Return Trip.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 28.—The troops selected for the first American army ever to be sent to Europe were happy during the days they remained in the port from which their transports sailed. Troop ship after troop ship was loaded and towed to an anchorage. River craft and ferries, loaded with civilians, almost got upon speaking terms with some of the khaki-clad soldiers.

To thousands of persons who had the privilege of seeing the soldiers on the last two or three days prior to their sailing, there was keen disappointment one morning when they awoke and saw that the fleet had quietly departed.

To residents of the cities to which the trains carried the troops it was readily apparent they were seasoned troops. Many of them had been on the border for years.

The preparation of the ships to carry the men was a tip as to what was coming. Each was fitted for trooping after many days of labor. Most of this work was done in the various shipyards from which the public was barred, but the subsequent shifting of coastwise liners about the harbor, their appearance in war paint and their fittings of life boats and rafts for a long ocean voyage were unmistakable evidence of what was going on.

Ships to Carry an Army.

One of the most striking things in this connection and one which caused the most comment was the sudden appearance of so many large vessels flying the American flag, in refutation of the oft-expressed opinion that this country did not have enough vessels under the Stars and Stripes to carry an army.

The requisitioning by the Government of its first transport fleet did not deplete the American merchant marine. Not a steamship line was put out of business by the taking of its ships. Not a liner under the American flag carrying passengers to Europe was taken, yet the first step was to requisition 12 liners, all over 5000 tons, and most of them much larger.

With them were taken several large freighters to carry equipment and supplies. No one steamship company had all its vessels taken. Only one line had to give over as many as three ships.

Despite hurried fitting of the ships the work was most carefully and minutely carried out. Wherever possible comfort as well as care of the men was considered. Instead of hammocks, wooden rack berths were installed for each man. On some of the larger vessels three decks were fitted with berths. Several of the liners that were constructed for service in tropical waters were already equipped with cold air plants. All of them were stocked with provisions of the best quality.

Refrigerating plants on all the vessels were packed with beef and other meats, eggs, milk and fresh vegetables. Enough extra supplies were carried to last the crews on the return to this country. Coal also was taken for the round trip so that there would be no drain on the supply in either England or France.

The plans of every ship available had been secured by the Government engineers some time ago and their specifications in the case of each vessel were carefully worked out without a hitch. Many of the largest liners were completely fitted for the transport service, coaled and provisioned in two weeks.

While the troops were waiting to be assembled on the piers they exchanged all sorts of repartee with onlookers. One thing that was unmistakable was a solid confidence among the men over their undertaking. They even expressed anxiety to get to France and into the trenches. Time and again hardened troopers called out:

"On to France!"

"We took Vera Cruz; now for Berlin!"

"Lead us to the Germans!"

Each time such a shout was heard cheers were given by the soldiers and those in boats gathered about the steamships.

The regiments arrived at port after several days on trains, for the majority of the troopers had come from Texas. Long-legged infantrymen, short, stocky artillerymen, and quiet, skilled mechanics of the engineers were in the contingents.

Conditions under which the troopers traveled were not as good, perhaps, as will be the case with future contingents, for there were long delays en route and the travel conditions became tiresome. Some of the troops' trains were sidetracked for days when nearing the Atlantic coast and this was not at all satisfying to the soldiers. They wanted to leave the trains immediately and go at once on board the transports.

Arrangements had been made for the discharge of all soldiers from trains within 12 hours after they arrived at the seaboard. The inevitable happened in many instances, however, and troop trains and transports failed to connect. The soldiers did not seem to fear submarines. All they talked of was the prospect of getting into the trenches. The regiments were filled to war strength.

During the interval of three or four days, during which many of the battalions were obliged to sleep in their cars in yards of different railroads, prior to completing their journey to the tide-water terminals, the men were given the privilege of visiting nearby cities.

Probably nearly 250,000 civilians were aware of the whereabouts of the troops and where they were going before the first contingent sailed, yet not one word was printed in the newspapers.

There were no celebrations held in their honor by city and town officials. Neither were they allowed to parade—even to stimulate recruiting. New found friends, mostly on the seaboard, bid them Godspeed—only near the trains, however. No outsider was allowed on the docks or near them. They moved to the transports mostly at night.

On the side of the cars on which the troops rode were many painted cloth signs or chalk writings. Here are some of them:

"We're going to get the Kaiser's goat."

"Down the Wilhelmstrasse for ours."

"Belgium first, the Rhine next."

"Send on your Zepps, Willie."

"France, we are on our way."

"Good by Yankeeland. See you later."

"We fear no submarine, Von Tirpitz."

"These Germans won't call us 'stumers' or 'duds' when we get afoul of them," said an infantry sergeant just before he sailed.

"What's a 'stumer' or 'dud?'" he was asked.

"A 'stumer' or 'dud,'" replied the soldier, "is a bad shell that does no damage, or rather that doesn't even explode. If you bet on a horse and he doesn't finish in the money—well, he's a stumer! You can put your coin on us boys and place it only one way—to win."

"How do you like the prospects of getting into a real battle?"

"Say, the boys of my regiment went to Vera Cruz and didn't get any action. Then we were taken to Texas and for two years and eight months have done nothing but guard the Rio Grande.

"Say, Buddy, believe me, it was some lonesome. The only thing to keep us company were sand fleas and armadillos. We thought they were never going to give us the high sign to move into civilization again, but now we are free at last, and, believe me, when we get to France and reach those first line trenches, there's going to be hell to pay."

Marines Went Away Quietly.

So quietly did a regiment of marines, included in that part of the Pershing expedition which has landed in France, slip away from the League Island navy yard that a sailor baseball team at practice on the parade ground did not know 2700 men under command of Col. Charles A. Doyen were on their way. No drums or bugles sounded, and the only ceremony which attended the leave taking was a brief speech to the officers by Major-General George Barnett, commandant of the corps. The story of their quiet march from barracks was released here last night.

At 2:30 o'clock the afternoon of the departure the baseball players had the parade ground to themselves, and no one was in sight on the street in front of the home of the post commander. A few seconds later the head of a column of soldiers of the sea in khaki and in heavy marching order swung into the brick-paved street in front of the commander's house. Major-General Barnett and a little group of other officers from headquarters took up posts on the turf of the parkway beside the curb.

The company officers of the battalion stepped out in front of Major-General Barnett and saluted. For half a minute the corps commandant addressed them. He spoke in an every-day conversational tone, saying simply that he trusted that the marines, who were setting out that day to fight under Gen. Pershing, would staunchly uphold the high traditions of the corps.

The officers saluted and marched back to their places. The battalion stood at rigid attention for a moment. Then rifles jumped to shoulders, squads swung into column formation, and the line passed swiftly down the street to the gate of the navy yard.

No Cheering Crowds.

No cheering crowd greeted the men as they emerged at the gateway; only a handful of civilians saw them board a train of day coaches for an Atlantic port. The sunbrowned fighting men, veterans of campaigning in Hayti and Santo Domingo, waved their hats from the windows as the train pulled out, but neither they nor their friends indulged in any cheering.

The departure of this first battalion had not stirred the least ripple of excitement in the navy yard. Half an hour later another battalion marched down the same brick street and formed in the parade grounds. The bluejacket nine was still at its baseball practice. A third battalion formed and stacked arms in front of the barracks.

Presently, without so much as a bugle note for warnings, the two battalions filed out of sight back of a screen of trees.

A quarter of an hour later a rumor came to the bluejacket baseball players that the marines were boarding ship. The jackie beside the home plate dropped his bat and ran down toward the street, his teammates close behind him. But they were too late to catch even a glimpse of the rear guard.

Noted Engineering Officer Who Led First U. S. Army Contingent to Europe

GEN. WM. L. SIBERT.

Gen. Sibert was made a Major-General a few weeks ago while the Pershing expedition was being organized. He is one of the most distinguished engineers in the world and was one of the builders of the Panama canal.

Gen. Sibert was born in Alabama, Oct. 12, 1860, and entered West Point as a cadet in 1880. He became a Second Lieutenant four years later, a First Lieutenant in 1888, a Captain in 1896, and a Lieutenant-Colonel in 1909. In March, 1915, he was made a Brigadier-General.

ROOT AND GEN. SCOTT VISIT RUSSIAN FRONT

They Held Conference With Gen. Brussiloff at the General Staff Headquarters.

RUSSIAN STAFF HEADQUARTERS, June 26, via Petrograd, June 27.—Elihu Root and the whole military staff of the American Commission, accompanied by M. Tereschtenko, the Russian Foreign Minister, arrived here tonight (Tuesday). Mr. Root, Major-General Hugh L. Scott, military leader of the commission, and M. Tereschtenko immediately held a conference with Gen. Brussiloff, commander in chief of the Russian armies. As a result of the conference it was decided that the aides of Gen. Scott shall begin a 10 days' tour of the Southwestern front, starting from headquarters tomorrow afternoon. It is possible they will go as far south as Rumania.

Gen. Scott expects to deliver a series of addresses to the Russian soldiers explaining the character, work and discipline of the American army.

The commission will be guests of Gen. Brussiloff at lunch tomorrow, after which Mr. Root and M. Tereschtenko expect to return to Petrograd.

Cossack Congress Demands Immediate and Vigorous Offensive.

PETROGRAD, June 28.—The Cossack Congress yesterday listened to a speech by John R. Mott, member of the American Commission; whose appearance on the platform brought prolonged applause. Mott described America's war preparations, complimented the Cossacks on their unity and strength, and declared America would never abandon Russia and the other allies.

Replying, President Dutoff of the Congress said he had the conviction that America had entered the war in the interests of justice. Thereafter the Congress passed unanimously an emphatic resolution in favor of a vigorous prosecution of the war.

The resolution demands an "immediate and decisive attack." It rejects the idea of a separate peace, declaring the war must be fought in accord with the allies until victory has been reached. The resolution concludes by appealing for support of the "liberty loan," and demanding stern measures against deserters and traitorous propagandists.

Washington for standardizing statistical and other information relating to coal production, marketing and other matters, was agreed to by the conference. It will be made up by various state and district coal associations and will serve as an intermediary for information between the coal operators and the Government.

COAL CONSUMERS TO PROFIT BY REDUCTION, DEALERS HERE SAY

St. Louis coal dealers, commenting today on Washington dispatches telling of the operators' agreement to lower prices at mines, said that standard coal, mined in the Belleville district, could not stand a reduction of $1, as it now sells at $2.25 at the mine, but that Southern Illinois coal, which sells at $3.50 at the mine, could stand such a reduction and still be produced at a profit.

Whatever reduction there is, the dealers say, will be followed by a corresponding decrease in the price from the retailer to the consumer.

DETAILS ARE LACKING AS TO SINKING OF LINER MONGOLIA

Uncertain Whether All of P. & O. Steamer's Passengers Arrived at Bombay.

LONDON, June 27.—Full details have not been received concerning the sinking of the Peninsular and Oriental passenger liner Mongolia, which, according to word given out yesterday, was sunk by a mine off Bombay, June 23.

Information at hand does not indicate precisely whether all the passengers and crew were saved, although yesterday's advices said passengers and crew had arrived at Bombay.

The Mongolia was a vessel of more than 9000 tons. This is the first accident from a mine in Indian waters.

MINISTRY HEADED BY VENIZELOS WARMLY ACCLAIMED BY GREEKS

Military Precautions When Members Are Sworn in Found to Be Unnecessary.

ATHENS, June 28.—The Greek ministry, headed by Eliptherios Venizelos, took the oath at the palace yesterday and was acclaimed by an enthusiastic crowd on returning to the Government Building, where M. Venizelos delivered a speech from a balcony, warmly thanking the people for their plaudits. Strong military precautions against possible disorders proved unnecessary, as the malcontents were in a small minority.

M. Venizelos is Premier and Minister of War.

Solicitor for Volunteers of America Says She Was Thrown Out.

Mrs. Lucille Manion of 3110 Easton avenue, a solicitor for the Volunteers of America, today filed a $10,000 damage suit against the Planters Hotel Co., alleging she was forcibly ejected from the hotel last Friday night, when she went there to solicit contributions.

She alleges she was kicked and thrown down and that one of her teeth was knocked out.

FRANCE'S NEW WAR BUDGET

$1,968,600,000 Needed for Third Quarter; Total for 38 Months, $19,766,400,000.

PARIS, June 28.—France will require for the third quarter's expenses 9,845,000,000 francs ($1,968,600,000), or about 218,000,000 francs more than for the second quarter of 1917, making total appropriations for 38 months of 88,832,000,000 francs ($19,766,400,000).

These are the totals which will be submitted to the Senate tomorrow by M. Millies-Lacroix, general reporter of the Appropriations Committee. He is authority for the statement that more than 20 per cent of the appropriations already made has not yet been disbursed. Upward of 6,000,000,000 of the total has been advanced to France's allies.

German Uniforms of Metal Fiber.

LONDON, June 28.—Germany's latest device to supply lack of wool is to manufacture uniforms of metal filament reduced to a supple fiber. The material looks like cloth, but is inclined to be brittle, and furnishes only the slightest protection against cold. The paper fiber the Germans are using for uniforms gives less wear than the metal composition and cannot withstand heavy rains.

CANADIANS TAKE TWO MILES OF TRENCHES BEFORE LENS

Advance Up Slopes Takes Them to Within Mile of Center of City—Crack German Troops Made Prisoner.

CANADIAN ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, June 28.—Under a protecting concentration of artillery fire Canadian troops early today stormed and captured the German front line before Avion, a suburb of Lens.

The Canadians, heartened by successes gained during the last few days at relatively small cost, decided this morning to attack across the open ground sloping upward to Avion and the village of Leauvette, near the Souchez River. They met with opposition of a serious character at only one point, where a combination of machine gun fire and uncut wires delayed the advance. The attack was not intended to be pressed home at this particular spot, as the ground specially favored the Germans, so that the delay did no harm.

Mile From Center of Lens.

By this morning's advance the British line has been carried forward to within one mile of the center of Lens.

The attack was made along a two-mile front. On the extreme left Nova Scotians pushed their way up the Lens-Arras road to the village of Leauvette. Here they took a number of prisoners.

At the other end of the line, east of the railways tracks, enemy dugouts were bombed. Their occupants belonged to the crack Prussian Guards corps, the Fifth Guard Grenadiers, who refused in most cases to come out and surrender. One officer and 21 men of the Grenadiers decided that discretion was the better part of valor. Others are believed to be still alive in the dugouts, which will be thoroughly explored after the ground won is consolidated.

Canadian Heavy Guns Busy.

At daybreak Canadian airplanes flying low over Avion saw few Germans there. Craters which recently were made by mine explosions at the crossroads are now seriously hindering them in bringing up troops from Lens for counter-attacks.

The enemy's guns have been shelling Canadian communication trenches, but Canadian "heavies" are now taking them on with good results.

Between Avion and Lens there is a considerable stretch of marsh along the Souchez. This has been flooded and wire entanglements have been constructed on the eastern side of the flood area. There, as it is to the south, the new German line is strongly held.

Germans Repulsed in Attack on French Salient in Alsace.

PARIS, June 28.—The Germans last night attacked the salient of Wattweiler, northeast of Thann, in Alsace, according to the War Office announcement today. They were repulsed, leaving a number of dead.

British Repulse German Attack; Six German Airplanes Downed.

LONDON, June 28.—German attacks south of the Cojeul River were repulsed by the British last night, the War Office announces.

"During the night the enemy's artillery heavily bombarded our positions in the neighborhood of Fontaine-lez-Croiselles," says the statement. "Hostile attacks against our advanced posts south of the Cojeul River were successfully repulsed. A German raiding party entered our trenches last night east of Vermelles. It was at once ejected. One of our men is missing."

Last night's official report said:

"A hostile raiding party was repulsed early this morning north of Roeux after sharp fighting, in which the enemy suffered considerable loss.

"Much successful work was accomplished by our airplanes yesterday. Five German machines were brought down. Two others were driven down out of control, and one hostile machine was shot down by fire from the ground. None of our airplanes is missing."

German Writers Predict Surprise British Offensive Soon.

COPENHAGEN, June 28.—German military writers, with enlightenment furnished to them by the War Press Bureau, express the opinion that the British are preparing a new offensive, but Field Marshal Haig's tactics in striking nowhere, and now there along the British front leave them in uncertainty as to the section which the blow will fall.

Capt. von Salzmann writes in the Vossische Zeitung that the feints of the British commander in the last week evidently were to cover a regrouping of troops, and a surprise attack which probably will be made like the Wytschaete offensive against a narrow front with an extraordinarily heavy concentration of artillery and infantry. He believes the attack may come north of Ypres.

Lieutenant-General von Ardenne, military critic of the Tageblatt, who has the same facts to go on, makes the guess that the British will strike in the Warneton region, at the southern end of the new defensive line taken up by the Germans after the Wytschaete defeat. All the critics agree that no serious French offensive is to be expected at present.

Gen. von Ardenne also declares a Russian offensive is entirely impossible at this time. The General dismisses the convention of Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates which decreed an offensive as "a meeting swayed by gold and alcohol," which was guilty of false pretenses in assuming to speak in the name of the Russian people.

Gen. Cadorna Confers With Gen. Foch in France; Returns to Headquarters.

ROME, June 28.—It is officially announced that Lieutenant-General Count Cadorna, chief of the Italian general staff, and Gen. Ferdinand Foch, chief of staff of the French Ministry of War, had a conference at the railroad station at Saint Jean de Maurienne, Department of Savoie, France, Monday morning. Gen. Radcliffe, chief of the British military mission at Italian headquarters, was present.

Gen. Cadorna returned to Turin Monday afternoon and from there proceeded direct to the Italian headquarters in the field.

German Long Range Guns Bombard Dunkirk in France.

BERLIN, via London, June 28.—The official statement issued today reads:

"Heavy long-range batteries yesterday bombarded the Anglo-French fortified port of Dunkirk (about 20 miles from the German lines) with visible effect. As a retaliatory measure the enemy took Ostend under his fire. There was no military damage. A bombardment by our artillery and mine throwers caused great damage to the English trenches on the coast.

"After a quiet morning the firing activity in some sectors on the Flanders and Artois front increased to an appreciable extent. Southeast of Nieuport a Belgian post was broken up by our thrusting troops."

SUFFRAGISTS TO LEAVE JAIL TOMORROW

Six Women Held in Washington for Conduct Before White House Sing in Prison.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Six women suffragists, convicted in Police Court yesterday of obstructing the sidewalk by displaying propaganda banners before the White House and sent to jail, will be released tomorrow morning. The suffragists had the choice of $25 fines or jail.

At a little organ in the carpeted corridor of the jail last night sat Miss Mabel Vernon of Reno, Nev., playing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," while about her stood the little group of singers—Miss Katharine Morey of Boston, Miss Virginia Arnold of Asheville, N. C., Miss Lavina Dock of Philadelphia, Miss Maud Jamison of Norfolk, Va., and Miss Annie R. Arnell of Wilmington, Del. Huddled on a stairway beyond a barred partition were 30 negro women and a few white women, who joined in the refrain.

Each suffragist was assigned to a separate cell on the lowest tier of the cell block, with individual bertha, toilet facilities and towels.

"Considering that it is a jail, we are very comfortably fixed," said Miss Vernon to a reporter. "We had shoulder, kale, bread and tea for supper and now we are just having a little singing bee before bedtime."

Bessie Jones, a negro woman charged with larceny, interrupted at this point, shouting through the bars:

"And don't you forget that we've been here a long time and we're having a good time tonight for once."

For breakfast today the fare was rice, molasses, bread and coffee; for dinner beef stew, bread and coffee, and for supper, beef stew, bread and tea. The women are provided with paper, pens and ink and will spend part of the time writing arguments for woman suffrage, to be published later.

GIRL KILLED ON STREET BY UNIDENTIFIED PERSON

Woonsocket (S. D.) Resident Shot at Sioux City (Io.), Where She Was Visiting Friends.

SIOUX CITY, Io., June 28.—The murder of Miss Thekla Gerken, 22 years old, of Woonsocket, S. D., who was shot late last night by an unidentified person, while going to the home of a friend, whom she was visiting, remained a mystery today.

One theory advanced is that the girl was shot by a man who was deranged.

MRS. MATLACK IS PLANNING TO STOP HER DIVORCE SUIT

Considers Action, She Says, Solely to Protect Husband From Mrs. Hamsley.

ORGED HIM TO ENLIST

Declares He Promised at One Time to Join Engineers' Corps; Won't Let Him Suffer.

Mrs. Sarah B. Matlack of Webster Groves, today told a Post-Dispatch reporter that she is considering the advisability of withdrawing the divorce suit which she filed against her wealthy husband, Elwood V. Matlack, June 14. If she does this, she says, her purpose will be to protect Matlack from himself and from Mrs. Estelle Metzger Hamsley, the soul mate to whom he recently was "spiritually married" in Chicago.

Mrs. Matlack made it clear that it was not affection, but rather pity which prompted her in trying to "save Daddy from himself."

"I neither like nor hate him," she said. "While I pity him I also despise his present mental attitude. An idle mind is the Devil's workshop.

"My husband would have been much better off if he had not retired from business 12 years ago. His lack of occupation since then has been a curse to him. He has a brilliant mind and great talents as an engineer. I pleaded with him to give his country the benefits of his knowledge in the present war and I urged him to join the Engineers' Corps. He promised to do it, but he permitted his brilliant mind to become poisoned in an unhealthy atmosphere and this soulmate busines is the result.

Says He Will "Come To."

"Daddy will come to. Whatever the results of his present foolishness may be I will see that he never suffers.

"When my husband signed a separate maintenance agreement last February he deposited sufficient securities in a St. Louis County bank to provide an income of $5000 a year for me and our minor son. He can't touch those securities without my consent, and it has been my idea that if he should ever need help I would furnish it out of my own personal fortune, or out of the securities pledged for my support. There is a provision in the agreement that at my death the securities are to be divided equally between Mr. Matlack and our son."

Mrs. Matlack said she desired again to make it clear that she was in no way responsible for Matlack's being divorced from his first wife, Ella, 20 years ago. She also called attention to the fact that her first husband, Matlack's brother, Charles, did not obtain a divorce from her, but it was she who obtained the decree.

Matlack Leaves His Hotel.

Matlack checked out at the Warwick Hotel and also gave up his room at the Terminal Hotel last night. Mrs. Hamsley departed from the Warwick Wednesday night.

The publication of stories about the soulmate union of Matlack and Mrs. Hamsley has, in a measure, satisfied the curiosity of other guests at the Warwick who had wondered as to the relationship of "the man on the fifth floor" and "the lady on the third floor." Their apparent devotion to each other had become a matter of gossip about the hotel. They were so much together in the hotel parlors and in the dining room that they attracted much attention.

Women guests never tired of saying that although both were middle-aged they "acted like young lovers." Curiosity was further arounsed by their nightly walks, when sometimes for hours they would stroll up and down Locust street in the vicinity of the hotel. Sometimes they would not return until after midnight. Then Matlack, in the lobby, would bid Mrs. Hamsley good night and she would go to her room. He would depart from the hotel for his room at the Terminal, eight blocks away.

While he retained his room at the Warwick and used it in the daytime it was said at the hotel that he never slept there.

A St. Louis man who would not permit the use of his name because, he said, he "didn't want to get mixed up in this soul mate business," told a Post-Dispatch reporter that Mrs. Hamsley formerly was a railroad telegraph operator at Jaynesville, Wis. It was there she met Charles R. Hamsley, the Chicago telegrapher, who now says he is willing to give her up to Matlack. She worked the day shift and Hamsley the night at the same railroad station.

Member of Spencer Center.

About 12 years ago she became prominent in certain "intellectual" circles in Chicago and was a member of the Whitman Spencer Center, organized by Parker H. Sercombe, who published a magazine called "Tomorrow." The St. Louisan described this as a "nut paper."

"But," he added, "Mrs. Hamsley was not a 'nut.' She was a very smart woman and when seated at the round table at the Whitman Spencer Center she delighted to argue with the others and explode the eccentric theories of Upton Sinclair, Parker Sercombe and others of the 'elect.'"

Ten years ago Mrs. Hamsley caused a sensation in occult circles in Chicago when she exposed and ridiculed Henry Clayton Thompson, once Socialist candidate for Governor of Ohio.

Thompson was a member of the Bahai Cult, which had considerable vogue with Chicago mystics at that time. He professed to believe that he had been chosen "from on High" as the leader of the cult in America.

Thompson's mission had been received in the shape of strange Sanskrit tablets which had come to him from the headquarters of the Bahai movement in Syria. Mrs. Hamsley believed he was being duped and she planned an April Fool joke on him. She invented a "new god," whose fantastic name was suggested to her by the trademark on a ginger snap box. She prepared a number of tablets purporting to come from the Bahai god, "Zoi Zhoum." In these it was declared that Thompson was a "Messiah."

Exposed the Hoax.

Thompson took it all seriously and called a meeting of the Chicago cult members at which he nad planned to announce his "divinity." At the meeting Mrs. Hamsley exposed the hoax and the ginger and the snap were knocked out of the revelations, which were dated April 1, in fake Sanskrit.

Mrs. Hamsley at that time said she believed Thompson had referred to her as his "soul mate," but she was not and she exposed him because she was convinced that he was being deluded by occult schemers and she "desired to save him from himself," just as Mrs. Matlack now desires to save Matlack.

Mrs. Matlack yesterday said she was a year and two months older than her husband, who is 58. Mrs. Hamsley, as has been told, says she is 39.

July Records Are Patriotic.

The new Victor records for July include many patriotic selections by noted singers and musicians.

Clarence Whitehill has sung "America" and Reinal Werrenrath "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." Both are notable records, but in addition there is a record of "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," as sung by Lambert Murphy and the Orpheus Quartet. Other patriotic songs in the list are "My Own United States," by Raymond Dixon and a male quartet; "We'll Never Let Our Old Flag Fall," by Edward Hamilton and male quartet; "It's Time for Every Boy to Be a Soldier," by Charles K. Hart, with "What Kind of an American Are You," on the reverse side of the record. There are several other patriotic selections which are worthy of a place in all music libraries.

THREE OF ZEPPELIN CREW ALIVE WHEN RAIDER IS BROUGHT DOWN

Officer and One Private Held in England After Dropping From 6000 to 9000 Feet.

LONDON, June 28.—An interesting fact not disclosed when a Zeppelin was brought down in one of the eastern counties, June 17, is that one officer and two of the crew were found alive. One of the privates died within a few hours, but the officer and other survivor are living. Both of the officer's legs are broken and the private's face is severely scratched.

This is the first time there have been any survivors of a crew of a Zeppelin brought down in flames. Considering that the airship was destroyed at a height estimated from 6000 to 9000 feet, the escape of these men astounds military experts. They fell clear of the wreckage, part of which caught in a tree.

The salvation of the men is ascribed to the fact that the blazing airship, instead of plunging suddenly like its predecessors, retained enough buoyancy to glide diagonally, occupying five minutes in falling. One of the survivors is said to have been saved by using his overcoat as a parachute.

Dr. Clarence M. Westerman of 6134 Washington avenue, has been commissioned as First Lieutenant in the Medical Officers' Reserve Corps, for a term of five years, and will depart for Washington at once to report for immediate service. F Company, Fifth Missouri Infantry, last night elected First Sergeant William H. Bowman as Second Lieutenant to replace J. E. Mitchell, promoted to First Lieutenant.

LOSS OF SHIPS TO U-BOATS FELL OFF SLIGHTLY LAST WEEK

Twenty-One English Vessels of More Than 1600 Tons, and Seven of Less Size Were Destroyed.

LONDON, June 28.—Twenty-one British vessels of more than 1600 tons each and seven under 1600 tons were sunk by mines or submarines last week, according to the weekly statement of losses issued by the Admiralty last evening. No fishing vessel met with disaster.

The statement reads.

"Arrivals 2876; sailings 2923.

"British merchant ships over 1600 tons, including one prevously, sunk by mine or submarine, 21; under 1600 tons, including one previously, seven.

"British merchant ships unsuccessfully attacked, including seven previously, 22."

The number of vessels destroyed shows a net falling off of four as compared with the lasses reported the previous week, which numbered 32. Of these 27 were of more than 1600 tons and five in the smaller division.

ROME, June 28.—The weekly statement of shipping losses shows that only one Italian steamship was sunk in the week ended June 24. Arrivals at Italian ports were 583 and departures 536.

WIDE POWER FOR LOCAL BOARDS IN ARMY EXEMPTIONS

Government Will Map Out Only General Procedure; Regulations Expected in Few Days.

RULES TO BE FLEXIBLE

Men Deficient in Stature or Weight Will Not Necessarily Be Rejected.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The exemption regulations under the national army selective draft law, which are expected to be made public by the War Department in a few days, probably will map out only the general procedure of the local Exemption Boards. It is believed that no specific class exemptions will be provided for, and that each man will be appraised on his individual occupation and physical capacity.

No man with serious physical defects will be called upon for military service. The judgment of the civilian doctors who are attached to local Exemption Boards as to the ability of any individual to live a soldier's life will be a determining factor.

Married men will not be exempted as a class. In each case the object of the board will be to determine whether the dependency of wife, children or other relatives upon any man is so complete as to warrant his rejection as a soldier.

Occupational Exemption.

The boards may be furnished with suggestions as to occupational exemption. The Government can outline generally the professions or trades which must be maintained at full strength. The importance of an individual in that profession or trade, however, can only be determined by the local board.

No inkling has been given as to the part to be assigned to those who are to be granted partial exemption because of religious belief. They are to be freed of the necessity of firing upon enemy soldiers and, therefore, from regular military service, but the act contemplates that they can serve in some noncombatant capacity behind the lines and holds them liable for such service. In such cases the question of physical qualifications is wholly different and there are many fine points that will have to be decided in that connection as the facts present themselves.

Provision for Duplication.

Men who are registered in two jurisdictions under the draft law may cancel one enrollment, the Provost Marshal-General announces, by submitting to the clerk of one of the registration boards an application for such cancellation accompanied by an affidavit from the clerk of the other board, stating that he has the applicant's card in his possession.

In reply to a number of requests from men of small stature who wish to form regiments like Britain's famous "Yorkshire Bantams," the War Department announces that no man will be rejected for service if in the opinion of the recruiting officer his deficiencies in height and weight will not materially impair his usefulness as a soldier. The statement says the regulations requiring men to be at least 5 feet 4 inches in height and 120 pounds in weight will be flexibly applied.

$11,406.24 NEEDED TO BRING RED CROSS FUND TO $2,000,000

Seventy-One Chamber of Commerce Group Teams Expected to Report St. Louis Goal Passed.

Contributions of St. Louis to the Red Cross are rapidly nearing the $2,000,000 mark. Yesterday's total was $588,966.66, making an aggregate of $1,988,593.76 to date.

Most of the contributions received yesterday were reported by the teams as a result of their round-up work after the close of the campaign. But little has been received so far from the 71 group teams of the Chamber of Commerce in charge of the solicitation among employes. The reports from these are expected to carry the total well beyond the $2,000,000.

FINE CITY, I BUY COOK STOVES HERE, GEORGE ADE SAYS

Humorist-Farmer Got One So Large He Had to Take House Apart to Get It In.

HERE AT CONVENTION

Declares Farmers Need More Nerve, but Are Doing Part in the War.

George Ade of Brook, Ind., farmer and member of the Indiana State Council of National Defense, arrived in St. Louis this morning for a two days' stay, as a delegate to the meeting of the Grand Chapter of the Sigma Chi fraternity, being held at Washington University.

When he was seen by a Post-Dispatch reporter at the Washington Hotel at breakfast time, the visitor did not deny that he was the same George Ade who wrote "Fables in Slang," "The College Widow" and "The Sultan of Sulu." But he was much more ready to talk about farming and national defense than about the life of the humorist and playwright. "I live in the country," was his frequent remark.

The title of "The County Chairman," one of Ade's plays, now fits its author, for he is chairman of the Red Cross Committee of Newton County, Ind. One of the first questions he asked about St. Louis was what its Red Cross contribution had been, and when he was told that the quota of $1,000,000 had been practically doubled, he said, "That's a fine record."

Touches on Dry Question.

He commented, at the reporter's suggestion, on the "bone dry" feature of the food conservation bill. "The thing to do now," he said, "is to find out what the Government thinks it should do in order to get somewhere, and then go along with it. I usually keep out of the booze discussion. I have too many friends on both sides. But the weakness of the booze people's case, whenever an issue like this comes up, is that there is no defense for booze.

"The only thing to do with booze is to drink it, in moderation. Don't try to defend booze; it's impossible.

"Our State Council of Defense," he continued, "has been working for the Liberty Loan and Red Cross campaign, and now we are working on the food conservation program. Along with that, we are doing what we can to make the purposes of the war, and the need for conscription, clear to the people. Our people are loyal, but some are still a little bewildered.

"I think Hoover should be given full leeway in dealing with the food question. We shouldn't have five or six congressmen hopping up and making speeches every time someone wants to buy a spool of thread.

"There is no doubt that the farmers have responded to the Government's appeal for increased production. They are showing patriotism, mixed perhaps with selfishness, but they are trying to raise every bushel of corn they can, and they are getting results.

Farmers Need Nerve.

"The chief need of the farmers in my section is more nerve. They don't seem to have the nerve to hold on to their stock, at the present high cost of feed. They are killing off too many calves and young pigs. They tell me, at the stockyards, that the average weight of beef cattle is nearly 200 pounds less than 2 years ago. At that rate, we'll soon have no beef at all."

Ade, who has visited St. Louis before, was asked to give his opinion of the city. "It's a fine place," he replied. "I buy my cook stoves here. I live in the country, and it's hard to keep a cook out there. A few years ago the cook at my place complained that the stove wasn't big enough. 'You bring so many people out here,' she said, 'and expect me to cook for them all on this little stove.' So, on my way back from a trip to Hot Springs I went to a stove factory in North St. Louis and told them I wanted a stove big enough to stop that cook's complaints.

"They played safe, and sold me a hotel range. I had it shipped home, and when I got there from Chicago a few days later I found them putting the house together again. They had had to take it apart to get that range in."

Musical Version of Play.

A musical version of Ade's most successful play, "The College Widow," is soon to be produced in New York. "The management," Ade remarked, "has very kindly attended to the fixing over of the play for musical comedy purposes, and I haven't had to bother with it. Of course it had to have a new name, or it couldn't hope to compete with 'Very Good Eddie' and 'Oh, Boy' and 'Love o'Mike,' and the rest. So they've named it 'Leave It to Jane.'"

Besides the sessions at the university, the Sigma Chi convention arrangements include a dinner at Sunset Inn this evening, a boat excursion tomorrow night, and a banquet at the Washington Hotel Saturday night. Wilbur P. Allen of Austin, Tex., grand consul of the fraternity, is presiding at the meetings, and Cleveland A. Newton of St. Louis is temporary presiding officer. William C. Henning is head of the local chapter, and William H. Woodward and J. Porter Henry are its delegate and alternate.

Stolen Hats Given to Girls.

Morris Schneider, 22 years old, of 918 Franklin avenue, employed as a shipping clerk for the Golluber Millinery Co., 1329 Washington avenue, was arrested yesterday, charged with stealing trimmed hats which he gave to girls of his acquaintance. He admitted the thefts and was released on bond.

U. S. NOTE TO CHINA RAISES NO ISSUE, BARON GOTO SAYS

Probably Polite, Sentimental Expression, Minister Says—No Cause for Alarm as Long as American Motives Are Irreproachable.

By HENRY SUYDAM
A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 28.—On the day prior to my departure from Japan for America, I was received in Tokio by Baron Goto, Minister of the Interior of the imperial Japanese Government. He gave me an important statement which it is now possible to quote in detail regarding the new Japanese-American situation created by the note of the American Government to China, which was delivered by Minister Reinsch, June 6. This is the note which urged the Chinese Government to avoid revolution and to maintain internal stability throughout the republic.

Baron Goto, who is regarded as the strongest man in the present Japanese administration, was educated in Germany and is known to hold views which are none too favorable to the United States, although in his conversation with me he was naturally guarded. This is what he said:

"What the entire Japanese press seems to have interpreted as American interference in China may be nothing more than a polite and sentimental expression of the American State Department of sympathy with the embarrassments of the present Chinese Government. Japan herself has no agressive aspirations toward China, but Japan maintains that Manchuria must serve as a defensive strategic outpost for the safety of the Japanese empire. Furthermore, Japan holds that the United States cannot in fairness to Japan take any action towards China that might thwart the protective designs of Japan.

"England is an island empire. She had neutral Belgium for her protection. Japan is an island empire. She must use Manchuria for the same purpose. We desire nothing more than a China which is both strong and well disposed toward Japan.

"There are in Japan no traditions of hatred against the United States such as I am told some members of the younger generation of Americans are acquiring against Japan. We remember that Admiral Perry opened our country to Western civilization. We remember also that the United States returned to us the Shimonoseki indemnity in 1884, and that the United States was the first power to surrender extra territorial jurisdiction in Japan.

"It is our sincere hope that Japanese-American foreign relations will, in the future, be conducted with such wisdom and foresight as to avert sudden and sometimes dangerous developments. Such developments, in the opinion of some people, were threatened during the past few days, when our newspapers were in doubt as to whether the American Government was deliberately entering upon a new policy toward China.

"So long as American motives remain irreproachable, Japan has no cause for alarm. At the present time we merely believe that our international position demands a strong army and a strong navy."

Upon learning that I had just come from Pekin, where I had an audience with the President of China, Baron Goto asked me four questions, which I answered as follows:

"From your observations in Pekin, what people do you believe are best liked by the Chinese?"

"Americans."

"What people are most disliked by the Chinese?"

"Japanese."

"Why?"

"Because the Chinese think Japan wants to grab China."

"Who gave Japan the example of grabbing China?"

"Great Britain, France, Russia and Germany."

Upon receiving this reply, Baron Goto merely shrugged his shoulders and the interview was closed.

UDELL WOULD HAVE CITY BUY REDUCTION PLANT FOR $336,000

Will Submit Bill to Aldermen Tomorrow to Accept Proposal of Indiana Company.

A bill authorizing the purchase of the garbage reduction plant of the Indiana Reduction Co. at Dupo, Ill., for $336,000, will be introduced in the Board of Aldermen tomorrow by Alderman Udell of the Twenty-third Ward.

Udell announced that he would oppose the proposition of the Board of Public Service to erect a new odorless plant in St. Louis at a cost of $630,000. He said he had obtained from Otto F. Karbe, vice president and general manager of the Indiana Reduction Co., an offer to sell the Dupo plant at actual construction cost. The plant was built several years ago, when the prices of labor and material were much cheaper than now.

"No ward in the city will want a reduction plant," Udell said. "I would fight the location of a plant in the Twenty-third Ward. I do not think the city ought to undertake the construction of a costly plant until after the war, when labor and material prices will be cheaper."

The Indiana Reduction Co. is to continue the operation of its plant until Sept. 1, 1918, to fill its present contract, if the city should accept its proposition.

JAPAN DELAYS START OF ITS MISSION TO U. S.

Viscount Ishii's Party Planning to Reach Washington After Congress Adjourns.

TOKIO, June 28.—Viscount Ichiro Motono, Foreign Minister, in his address to the Diet Tuesday, discussed the Government's foreign policy, voicing the conviction that measures taken to assure Japan's rights and interests in the South Sea islands and Shantung were bearing fruitful results.

China, said the Foreign Minister, had requested Japan's advice regarding America's invitation that she break relations with Germany, and Japan had counseled China to accept the invitation in China's own interest.

Viscount Motono regretted that internal dissension had prevented China's formally entering the war, but he hoped she would decide for war and thus remove the German danger to peace in the Far East.

Premier Terauchi, in his address, emphasized Japan's sincere gratification at America's entry into the war, and voiced his regret that the settlement of the factional trouble in China had not been effected.

Kasue Shoda, Minister of Finance, said Japan's war business had resulted in the growing accumulation of specie abroad, the transfer of which to Japan would disturb the money markets and injure Japan's trade. Therefore, the investment of Japanese capital abroad was imperative. The Minister said the Government should arrange the issue of temporary Treasury bonds to help regulate the internal money situation.

The departure of Viscount Kikujiro Ishii, who has been named as chief envoy of the Japanese mission to the United States, has been postponed to the end of July. It is hoped by the postponement to have the mission arrive in the United States after the present extra session of Congress has ended, in order that the commissioners may have greater opportunities to consult with the authorities in Washington.

CENTURY BOAT CLUB CREW REFUSES TO ROW WITH CAPTAIN

President Buder Insists It Shall—May Not Be in Creve Coeur Lake Races.

Unless the members of the Century Boat Club crew, picked to enter the rowing regatta of the Southwestern Amateur Rowing Association at Creve Coeur Lake Saturday and Sunday, recede from their position, or President G. A. Buder accedes to the rowers' demand, the club will not be represented in the regatta.

The members of the crew say they will not row with Clarence Aid, captain of the club. President Buder's ultimatum is that the crew must row with the Captain or not row at all. Last night the crew received the ultimatum and decided to stand pat. Another meeting is to be held tonight, at which a compromise may be reached.

Aid has been captain of the club six weeks. Aid is objected to by his associates on the ground of alleged domineering ways. He got into an argument with members of the crew Sunday and announced that he was through and would not row with the crew. He was taken at his word and another man was substituted. Then Aid reconsidered and wanted to row. The crew refused to change the new lineup.

RED CROSS WANTS CHANGE IN RULE APPLIED TO MRS. SPIESS

Chairman Davidson Confident Allied Bar Against American Nurses of German Birth Will Be Removed.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Henry P. Davison, chairman of the Red Cross War Council, is making efforts to obtain a modification of the allied Governments' passport regulations which prevent Americans of German, Austrian, Turkish or Bulgarian birth or parentage from accompanying Red Cross hospital units to European fields. This regulation first came to notice with the barring from France of Mrs. Marion Spiess, a member of St. Louis Red Cross Unit No. 21. She was born in England, but is the divorced wife of a German.

Davison said this ruling of the allied nations was embarrassing to the work of our Red Cross, which has never questioned the loyalty of any American citizen, no matter what his place of birth, offering to make the sacrifice which any such volunteer service entails.

"Obviously no such ruling can be applied against our troops," said Davison, "and I am confident that exemption will be made in favor of those loyal American citizens who are sent to do Red Cross work."

30 OF 41 SUSPECTED OF FAILING TO REGISTER FOUND ENROLLED

Another Enlisted, One Under Age, Two Over Age, Two Had Moved, Four Not Known, One Arrested.

Forty-one cases of men suspected of having failed to register for the selective draft, investigated by the police yesterday, revealed that 30 had enrolled. One man was found to have enlisted; one was under age, two over age, two had changed addresses and four were not known.

Joseph Minnegerode of 4720A Idaho avenue was arrested. He showed that he had been under care of a physician for nervous collapse and was ill at home on registration day. His condition was such when arrested that it was necessary to remove him to the city hospital, where he is being held for Federal authorities.

HARVESTING UNDER WAY IN SOUTH

Good Progress Being Made in Central Districts Also.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Harvesting of the winter wheat crop is well under way in all Southern states and good progress is being made in the Central districts with oats and winter wheat. The winter wheat harvest is about 10 days late in Kansas, eight or more in Tennessee, North Carolina and Virginia, and two weeks late in southern Illinois and Indiana.

Co-operation between the Departments of Agriculture and Labor has been arranged so as to have laborers on the farms where the crop is ready to be harvested.

ADMIRAL GLENNON STOPPED MUTINY IN RUSSIAN FLEET

American Patted Sailors on Back and Was Accepted as a Regular Fellow.

MADE SPEECH TO THEM

Afterwards Sebastopol Men Voted to Restore Officers, Support Government.

By ARNO DOSCH-FLEUROT
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
(Copyright, 1917, by Press Pub. Co.)

PETROGRAD, Wednesday, June 27.—From Russian navy officers I have obtained a first hand account of how Admiral Glennon restored order among the mutinous sailors of the Russian fleet at Sebastopol. The American Admiral arrived shortly after the sailors had dismissed Admiral Koltchak. It was Admiral Glennon's frankness, his smile and his democratic manners which gave him an extraordinary influence over the sailors. After he had addressed the men they voted to support the Government, arrest the agitators and restore command to the officers and existant committees.

All that Admiral Glennon would say about the part he took in the affair was:

"I just gave some advice from an older sailor to a lot of young sailors who are trying to work out a revolution. They are a fine lot of boys who merely had been misled, so I tried to set them right."

But the way it was done. Russian officers say, had a deciding effect. Admiral Glennon went to Sebastopol before he knew of the disorder. Upon his arrival he was met by a committee led by a giant sailor. The Admiral, sensing an unexpected situation, greeted the sailor in a democratic manner and asked to see the fleet.

No Officers in Authority.

Escorted there he found it as usual except that there were no officers of authority. Tactfully avoiding noticing this lack, he complimented the committee and patted the sailors cheerfully on the backs and by the time he had reached the third ship word had passed ahead that the American Admiral was a regular good fellow. They asked his aid, Lieut. Bernhard, to test the turrets, an extraordinary offer to a foreigner.

Ashore crowds gathered and the popular enthusiasm grew to such a point that the Admiral found himself adopted by the Sailors' Council. In the evening the sailors crowded the circus and insisted upon an address by the Admiral and Lieut. Bernhard, who were the only officers present. The audience was uneasy at first, but soon broke into cheers and Admiral Glennon smiled a response.

"I am not going to tell you how to settle your troubles," he said. "You can only do that yourselves. But, as we Americans say, we have for 140 years dealt with problems of freedom and somehow we have worried through. So will you, for I noticed that you are serious and trying to do right. We have had the same feeling but always were ready to drop our troubles and face the enemy when in your position.

"Stop All Dissension."

"I have heard much today about free Russia. If you want to keep free, stop all dissension. We are all sailors and we know that safety can be had only when every man aboard does his duty."

Hearty cheers showed that the Admiral had won his audience and he was asked to remain while the voting was announced. The result over, the officers were restored to power. There were further compliments and backslappings, and the Admiral left amid a great ovation.

I asked the Admiral for his impression of the Russian Black Sea fleet.

"Just let somebody attack them," he replied. "They are good sailor men who listened to agitators, but the next day they realized their mistake and made manly reparation. They are not afraid to do their duty. They have my respect and they know it."

GRAND-LEADER

SIXTH-WASHINGTON-SEVENTH & LUCAS

GERMANY SOON WILL BE IN WOODEN SHOES

Billiard Table Rubber Cushions Confiscated; Soap Scarce; Geese Flying High.

By CYRIL BROWN
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
(Copyright, 1917, by Press Pub. Co.)

STOCKHOLM, June 28.—Wooden shoes will be the prevailing fashion in Germany soon. At the first executive meeting of the newly organized war shoe distribution corporation, public authorities were "tipped off" that in future only 10 per cent of Germany's shoes could be manufactured of leather and that the populace must accustom itself to wooden shoes.

An increasingly painful pinch in rubber shortage for military purposes is indicated by a new ordinance confiscating rubber cushions in billiard tables.

Coal shortage is causing much discussion. The latest ordinance requires all consumers of more than 10 tons monthly formally to report their requirements to the Imperial Coal Bureau.

There is apparently an inexhaustible supply of shortages. There is one shortage so acute that "the great unwashed" may become a reality. The latest soap ordinance reduces the monthly ration to 50 grammes of toilet soap and 250 grammes of soap powder with additional rations for doctors, nurses, tubercular persons and infants.

Important recent food developments include the imminent fixing of maximum prices for geese, which will cause this staple meat diet of those who can afford to pay fancy prices for a meal to disappear from the market.

The Post-Dispatch correspondent in his last weeks in Germany eked out his meat ration with cardless roast goose at $2 per portion, since when the goose has flown still higher, although many Germans are willing to pay almost any price because obtainable without cards.

The fruit shortage is disconcerting, too, and will result in the introduction of fruit cards to obtain equable distribution of the small available supplies. Guests at first-class Berlin hotels are beginning increasingly to feel the food shortage thumb screws.

Commerce Commission Enlarged.
WASHINGTON, June 28.—The bill already passed by the Senate to increase the Interstate Commerce Commission from seven to nine members and to provide an additional secretary, was passed last night by the House. An amendment to give shippers the right to appeal to the full committee on decisions given by a part of the membership was added.

Selph Appeals for Home Made Flags.
Postmaster Selph has issued a call to women employes of the postoffice and women relatives of employes, asking them to make United States flags. In a circular letter he explains that there is a scarcity of flags and so many orders that manufacturers cannot fill them. He calls for volunteers to furnish home-made flags for use on Government buildings in St. Louis.

MISS LUSK HELD FOR KILLING MAN'S WIFE

Dr. Roberts Testifies Teacher Asked Him to Tell Wife of Her Infatuation for Him.

WAUKESHA, Wis., June 28.—Miss Grace Lusk, high school teacher, yesterday was held responsible for a Coroner's jury for the death last Thursday of Mrs. Mary Newman Roberts, wife of Dr. David Roberts, for love of whom Miss Lusk shot his wife and then tried to kill herself.

Dr. Roberts was asked: "What did Miss Lusk ask you to tell your wife?"

"That she was infatuated with me," the doctor testified.

A letter dictated to Dr. R. E. Davies, after Miss Lusk had shot Mrs. Roberts and herself, was introduced as evidence. The letter said Dr. Roberts told Miss Lusk repeatedly that he loved her and her only; that he had sworn his love for her on a Bible. Miss Lusk continued in the letter that she had threatened to end all if the doctor did not love her.

Dr. Davies testified that Miss Lusk had told him that Dr. Roberts had said he did not love his wife and promised to tell her before June 15 of his friendship for the school teacher.

When he did not tell by that date, Miss Lusk concluded that Roberts was deceiving both women, Dr. Davies continued. Miss Lusk, he said, further had told him that Mrs. Roberts had exasperated her into shooting when she said that Dr. Roberts had described Miss Lusk as an old fool, who was chasing him. "She called me such names that I couldn't do anything but shoot her," Miss Lusk continued, to Dr. Davies, he said.

Chief of Police McKay testified that Miss Lusk had said at the hospital she was sorry for what she had done.

Letter Left to Mrs. Roberts.

Miss Lusk was questioned Tuesday by District Attorney Tullar, Chief of Police McKay and a stranger who, Henry Lockner, Miss Lusk's attorney, said was an agent of the Department of Justice. Miss Lusk, according to her attorney, repeated all she had told in the letter to Mrs. Roberts left unmailed and found on the day of the shooting, and in this letter the school teacher is said to have told of taking trips with Dr. Roberts, of having gone to Chicago and of having met him in Peoria.

It is said that in a letter written to Mrs. Roberts and now in the hands of the authorities, Miss Lusk told her victim she determined to appropriate Dr. Roberts three years ago, because Mrs. Roberts affronted her at a gathering in the parlors of the Baptist Church. Another passage of the letter says:

"Never in my life have I done anything before which even bordered on the unconventional, and this episode has almost killed me." Still another passage: "You are the good—the moral woman (we call them parasites). You have made of your husband a coward and a hypocrite."

Miss Lusk told Special Agent Steiner of the Department of Justice that she was willing to testify in regard to all interstate trips made in case the Government calls her.

Federal investigators have been verifying hotel registrations of the name of "R. Davis and wife," at various places in Chicago, Peoria and elsewhere, and have arranged with the clerks to determine if Miss Lusk is one of the persons so registered. Federal agents have also reached Miss Lusk's friend, Miss Winifred Freye of Santa Barbara, Cal.

NEW SUMMER HATS
White Satin Hats at $3.49
Georgette Crepe Hats at $4.96
Fashion says ALL-WHITE HATS for Midsummer. They have that air of picturesqueness which will mark the Summer Millinery through July and August.
The Georgette crepe brims have crowns and bindings of satin, very simply trimmed but with fine effect, with tassel or ribbon band—nothing more.
The all-satin Hat is always very smart—mostly tams this season—with folds alternating with cords or the narrow brim crown sailors with just a tassel or unusual finish for trimmings.
And when we tell you that these Hats are priced at these very unusual prices, you may realize in a measure the advantage of selecting your Summer Hat in our Department, Friday or Saturday.

MRS. MAUDE M. O'NEIL TO WED EDWIN W. LEE

Engagement of the Couple Is Announced by Mother of the Bride-to-Be.

MRS. JOHN C. MOON of 3343 West Pine boulevard has announced the engagement of her daughter, Mrs. Maude Muriel Moon O'Neil, to Edwin W. Lee, son of Mrs. Bradley D. Lee of 4400 Westminster place.

Mrs. O'Neil obtained a divorce from James P. O'Neil, who is the son of the late Peter O'Neil, in November, after a separation of several years, during which time she has been residing with her parents.

The marriage will take place in the autumn.

Mr. Lee is an attorney and formerly was Excise Commissioner and Circuit Judge. He is a graduate of Williams College, in 1897, and of Washington University in 1899.

Social Items

The marriage this afternoon of Miss Mary Willis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Willis of Baltimore, to Frederick B. Ewing of St. Louis, is of much interest here, where the bride has frequently visited.

The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride's brother, Luther Willis and Mrs. Willis, at Roland Park, Md., near Baltimore, at 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Eugene Pettus, who was Miss Marquerite Tower, and herself a bride, and Mrs. Luthur Willis will be the bride's attendants. Charles G. Ewing will be best man and Luthur Willis groomsman.

The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Samuel Plant, has been ill and was unable to go on for the wedding. His brother, Nathaniel W. Ewing, and his niece, Miss Marie Wight, are there.

Mr. Ewing is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Auguste B. Ewing of St. Louis. He is a graduate of Yale in the class of '05, is a member of the Country, Racquet and University clubs. He is the brother of Mrs. Ira E. Wight and of Mrs. Plant, and his brothers are Clark, Auguste B. Jr., Nathaniel V. and Charles G. Ewing. He is related to many of the pioneer French families.

Mrs. Albert Todd Terry of 5231 Westminster place and her family will depart this evening for their summer home at Pointe-aux-Barques, Mich., for the remainder of the season. Mr. Terry will join them there in August.

Maj. Edward Carpenter, N. A. U. S., has arrived here on a short leave of absence to join Mrs. Carpenter, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Lee, at "The Shelter," their country home in Normandy.

The marriage of Miss Rosamond R. Hennig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter O. Hennig of 5434 Maple avenue, and Donald B. Neville took place today at noon at the home of the bride, the Rev. C. E. Cleveland of St. Philip's Episcopal Church performing the ceremony.

Only the nearest relatives were present at the ceremony and at the breakfast which followed.

The bride wore a gown of white georgette crepe with a court train of white satin embroidered with a deep border down the sides and across the end with seed pearls. Her veil was of tulle arranged into a coronet, and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

There were two attendants, Mrs. J. Raymond Hennig, the bride's sister-in-law, and Miss Mildred Fischer. They were gowned alike in white lace, but one wore a green chiffon hat, slippers and sash, the other pink garnitures. Both carried Ophelia roses. J. Raymond Hennig was best man for Mr. Neville.

The bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Neville of 5861 Washington avenue. He is a member of the Coast Patrol and the wedding date was advanced because he is expecting orders. He and his bride departed for New York this afternoon and their immediate plans are indefinite.

Before leaving for your summer vacation, order the POST-DISPATCH sent to your summer home. It will be mailed you regularly if you give your order to your carrier, or notify us by mail, or you can phone if more convenient—Olive or Central 6600, POST-DISPATCH Circulation Department.

Tomorrow morning the St. Louis Equal Suffrage League will give a war benefit party in the rose parlor of the Buckingham Hotel. There will be bridge for those who care to play and all have been asked to "bring their knitting."

Mrs. Berenice Morrison Fuller is in charge of arrangements and the affair promises to be very enjoyable. The proceeds will be devoted to relief work for which the League has pledged itself.

Mrs. Edward Lansing Ray of 484 Lake avenue, accompanied by Rolla L. Billingsley, will depart for Harbor Point, Mich., July 5, for the summer.

Mrs. B. Frankel of 4548 Forest Park boulevard and her daughters, Misses Virginia and Elizabeth Frankel, departed for Lake Minnetonka, where they will remain until September.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Luyties, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Reinhard Luyties, to Dr. Ralph L. Cook will take place at the home of the bride, 3842 De Tonty street, Saturday evening, in the presence of the immediate family. Dr. Dodson of the Unitarian Church will officiate.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Butterworth of 1009 Yale avenue and little son, Christy, are spending two months with relatives in Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. John McMillan of 1017 Ann avenue have announced the postponement of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Irene McMillan, to Alvin Strauss, which was to have taken place today, until some time in the autumn. Strauss has made application to attend the second contingent of the Officers' was decided on until he learns whether Reserve Corps, and the postponement he will be accepted.

CAMPAIGN BEGUN FOR SYMPHONY FUND OF $40,000

Society Told at Luncheon That Half the Guarantee Is Expected in Big Subscriptions.

ALL FOR COMING SEASON

Orchestra's Expenses to Be Increased Mainly by More Pay for Musicians.

A campaign to raise a $40,000 guarantee fund for the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra was launched today at a luncheon at the Noonday Club. The executive committee of the Symphony Society hopes to raise one-half of the guarantee, or $20,000, in subscriptions of $1000 or more.

A. J. Gaines, secretary and manager of the society, said before the luncheon that if these large subscriptions could be obtained by July 15, the executive committee would feel that it had a good chance of making up the guarantee fund by smaller subscriptions, and continuing the orchestra's work.

"If we can't see $20,000 in big subscriptions by the middle of July," he added, "we shall be discouraged and feel like taking to the woods."

The money to be raised is all for the coming year's guarantee fund. Last season's deficit, $37,370.55, was covered by that season's guarantee fund, Gaines said.

The expenses of the orchestra will be larger this season, one threatened increase being a demand of the musicians for 10 per cent more pay. This applies only to those receiving the minimum pay, $25 a week.

Th Executive Committee also feels that it will not be safe to count, this season, on the usual percentage of increase in seat subscriptions and ticket sales. Some of the persons who have bought seats in past seasons, and many others to whom the orchestra might have appealed this year, will be absent in military service.

In San Francisco, according to a letter received by Gaines from the secretary-manager of the Symphony Society there, a guarantee fund has been raised for the orchestra which is $14,000 larger than last season's guarantee fund. This was raised, the secretary said, in spite of the $52,000,000 Liberty Bond subscription and the raising of $1,000,000 for the Red Cross.

WOMEN REGISTER AND OFFER TO DO UNUSUAL WAR SERVICE

One Willing to Carry Mail, Others Offer to Teach French or Cook for Invalids.

Unusual service was requested yesterday by some of the 130 women who registered for war duty through the Women's Committee, National Council of Defense.

Mrs. J. D. King, 4652 Maryland avenue, is willing to take a job as mail carrier to relieve some man who can fight. Mrs. Willard Bartlett, 4257 Washington boulevard, member of the Wednesday Club, volunteered to do public speaking. Mrs. Thomas L. Anderson, wife of a former Circuit Judge, wants to do precinct work for registration of women. Others volunteered to teach French to the soldiers, to do cooking for invalids, and to do missionary work or Americanization work among European orphans.

Mrs. T. D. Hinchcliffe has offered her home, "Mansion Farm," near Sullivan, Mo., for use as a soldiers' convalescent hospital. It has 20 rooms, verandas and wide lawns and gardens.

July 28 is the date set for general registration of women who want to help in the war. Most of the women now registering are doing so because they are leaving the city soon and want to be available when needed.

German Political Economist Dies.

BERLIN, June 28.—Prof. Gustave von Schmoller, widely known political economist, is dead at Harzburg. He was born in 1838.

TWO BOYS HURT BY WAGONS

Two boys were knocked down yesterday by wagons and injured.

Belvin Smith, 4 years old, 1602 North Twentieth street, playing on the street near home, ran under a wagon owned by the Fehlig Box Co., 1917 Washington avenue, and received internal injuries. The driver, Edward Roma, 2016 Palm street, did not know of the accident until later. He surrendered to the police.

John Brinion, 4, 1415 O'Fallon street, was knocked down by a wagon driven by Louis Moscovitz, 2230 Carr street, and cut and bruised. Moscovitz was charged with careless driving.

Destroyer Shaw Makes New Records.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The destroyer Shaw has completed a record run from a Pacific coast port to an Atlantic port—approximately 5853 miles—in 14 days, 10 hours and 20 minutes.

The Shaw is a new destroyer whose keel was laid down in February, 1916. Besides making a record run the vessel also broke all records in passing through the Panama Canal, requiring only 5 hours and 45 minutes, as compared with the previous best of 6 hours and 20 minutes.

HOME-GROWN POTATOES BREAK PRICES SHARPLY

Retail Price in St. Louis Today $2.15 to $2.75 — Further Drop of $1 Predicted.

The receipt of large quantities of home grown potatoes in the St. Louis market caused a sharp drop in wholesale and retail prices today. In addition to the potatoes shipped in by train, many wagon and truck loads were brought in by farmers and truck gardeners.

The commission men paid the farmers $1.50 to $1.85 a bushel today, while yesterday's prices were $1.75 to $2.10 a bushel. Three weeks ago the price was $3 to $3.50 a bushel.

At grocery stores the price to consumers was $2.15 to $2.75 a bushel, or 53 to 75 cents a peck. One grocer who was selling potatoes at $2.15 a bushel was making a price of 53 cents a peck, but at nearly all the other groceries the prices for a peck were slightly higher, in proportion, than the bushel prices.

The early planted potato crop in the vicinity of St. Louis is well matured, but the late planted crop, particularly in St. Louis County, has been damaged by a month's dry weather.

Commission men expect the wholesale price paid to the producers to drop to $1 a bushel within ten days.

Press dispatches from New York and Chicago state that there were also big drops in the potato markets in those cities. In New York the wholesale price dropped to $4 a barrel, caused by the dumping of thousand of bushels into the market from southern points. The price has been declining 50 cents a barrel each day for a week. A few weeks ago potatoes were selling at wholesale at $12 a barrel in New York.

In Chicago the wholesale price dropped 40 to 60 cents a bushel. They were selling at $2.40 to $2.65 a bushel. Only 60 carloads were received in the Chicago markets today, but there are 300 carloads of potatoes in the yards to be unloaded. Some of the cars have been on the track for more than a week, during which the prices dropped 80 cents to $1 a bushel.

PRESIDENT PROCLAIMS NEXT SUNDAY PATRIOTIC SUNDAY

Calls Upon Sunday Schools to Observe Day and Make Contributions to the Red Cross.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—President Wilson's letter proclaiming next Sunday Patriotic Sunday is as follows:

"To the Officers, Teachers and Scholars of the Sunday Schools of the United States of America:

"The present insistent call of our beloved country must be heard and answered by every citizen of the United States in proportion to his or her ability to maintain the national power and honor. Many citizens will render their aid by force of arms on the battlefield, while others will make the nation strong by their patriotic gifts and support to the common cause. It is therefore highly fitting that the Sunday schools of the nation should observe a special patriotic day, and on this occasion should make a special contribution to the American Red Cross for the alleviation of the suffering entailed by the prosecution of the present war. It is my earnest hope that your generosity may be unstinted in this, the hour of the nation's need, and that this special day may mean much to you in the undertaking of the cause for which our beloved land now contends. WOODROW WILSON."

MISSOURI PACIFIC EMPLOYES BUY SITE FOR NEW HOSPITAL

Structure to Cost About $500,000, Complete, Will Be Erected at Grand and Shaw Avenues.

Missouri Pacific employes yesterday purchased for $46,000 the northwest corner of Grand and Shaw avenues as the site for a hospital to cost, when finished, including furnishings, about $500,000. Construction work will not be started for several months, owing to the prevailing high prices of buildings material and the scarcity of labor.

The property has a frontage of 266 feet on Shaw avenue and 232 feet on Grand avenue. The proposed hospital will be seven stories, and will be constructed of steel, concrete, brick and stone. It will be fireproof and will possess every modern appointment for the care of the sick.

The present hospital, at California avenue and Henrietta street, has been in operation 40 years. The institution is supported entirely by employes of the railroad.

It is often dangerous to drink water on account of bacteria. BEVO, the new soft drink creation, is always safe besides being wholesome.—ADV.

SERVIANS IN COMPANY SHOT

Executions at Saloniki Result of Plot to Overthrow Present Regime.

SALONIKI, June 28.—Several executions took place in the outskirts of Saloniki yesterday. Col. Dimitrievch, Maj. Vulovich and an Austro-Hungarian volunteer, Malobabach, concerned with many others in a conspiracy of a Servian secret society to overthrow the present political regime of Servia and substitute an oligarchic form of Government, were shot.

Many others implicated received long terms of imprisonment.

POSTAL GIFTS TO RED CROSS

Employes in This District Have Raised $3000 This Month.

Employes of the postal service and railway mail service attached to the St. Louis district raised $3000 in June for the Red Cross, Postmaster Colin M. Selph announced yesterday. Selph has sent a check for the amount to the national headquarters of the Red Cross at Washington.

The postal employes of this district make a monthly contribution to the Red Cross, Selph said, and if it is kept up the men will have given about $36,000 in a year, the donation averaging $3000 a month.

Ebn Ezra Lodge Meeting.

The final meeting before adjournment of the Ebn Ezra Lodge, No. 47, I. O. B. B., will be held this evening at Harburger Hall, King's highway and Von Versen avenues, at 8 p. m.

Today's Beauty Talk

You can enjoy a delightful shampoo with very little effort and for a very trifling cost, if you get from your druggist a package of canthrox and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Your shampoo is now ready. Just pour a little at a time on the scalp and hair until both are entirely covered by the daintly perfumed preparation that thoroughly dissolves and removes every bit of dandruff, excess oil and dirt. After rinsing, the hair dries quickly, with fluffiness that makes it seem heavier than it is, and takes on a rich luster and a softness that makes arranging it a pleasure.—ADVERTISEMENT.

Living on and near the 3900 block of Waterman avenue are nine little girls who have banded themselves as the Flower Club. Their declared purpose as such, pursued with enthusiasm and persistence, is to spread the sunshine of cheerfulness, built upon contributed comfort whenever it may be required as a basis. Last year these little misses adopted the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund as a benevolent institution having prime claim upon their practical interest. This year their contribution was $4.80.

That sum, voted from the club treasury, stands out in large dimensions when the number and age of the members are taken into account, all of the children being in their early teens. The treasurer of the youthful band is Jeanne F. Nathan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Nathan of 3807 Waterman avenue, a little miss whose exceptional talent for literature in poetry form is attaining wide recognition.

Another band of children who manifest devotion to the cause of the destitute and heat-stricken babies each recurring year, through the Milk and Ice Fund, are residents of Parkview. The vehicle adopted for the current season's benefit enterprise was a three-act play, "The Magic Sword," a dramatic work filled with attraction upon time and skill. So faithfully and intelligently did they set about mastering it that its production was far in advance of what might reasonably have been anticipated, and as such brought upon the company, whose members range in age from 10 to 12 years, commendation from critical spectators.

The affair was given on the spacious rear yard of 3248 Waterman avenue, the home of one of the youthful actors, Mary Elizabeth Stewart. A stage had been erected, equipped and decorated for the occasion and the premises were handsomely illuminated with lanterns of a decorative type. Appropriate costumes were also provided, so that the charm of the play was heightened by

The affair was given on the spacious rear yard of 6249 Waterman avenue, the home of one of the youthful actors, Mary Elizabeth Stewart. A stage had been erected, equipped and decorated for the occasion and the premises were handsomely illuminated with lanterns of a decorative type. Appropriate costumes were also provided, so that the charm of the play was heightened by a fascinating stage spectacle. Between the acts there were happily chosen and delivered readings by little Miss Stewart, Parker Finch, 8 years old, and Frances Boogher, 6. The admission charge was 15 cents, and the addition to the save-the-babies' fund was $8.90.

Children in the entertainment were Sarah, Frances and Arnold Boogher, Mary Elizabeth Stewart, Julia Klipstein, Helen Martha Woods, John Vierling, Tommy Hirsch, Roland Crowell, Herbert and Parker Finch and Irwin Bettman.

Five girls, living on the 3500 block of Caroline street, following their own ideas, organized and produced a charming entertainment in which the only aid accepted from older persons was attendance, and realized 75 cents, which they contributed to the Milk and Ice Fund. The children are only 7 to 8 years old, yet the evening was productive of genuine pleasure to an audience of handsome proportions, including many grown persons. These little friends of the poor babies are Virginia Mason, 3581 Caroline street; Ruth Mason, 3536A; Margaret Spellman, 3522; Alma and Olive Gregg, 3524.

KILLED IN FLIGHT EXPERIMENT

British Surgeon Was Studying Effect of Flying on Nerves.

LONDON, June 28.—An army surgeon who went up in the air to study the effect of flying on the nerves was killed in a recent aeroplane accident in England.

He was Capt. James Annesley, who had held that it was very difficult to judge the effect of flying on the nerves until one had had personal experience. He went up as a passenger and was killed with the pilot when the machine nose-dived to earth.

New Home Treatment for Banishing Hairs

(Short Stories)

With the aid of a delatone paste it is an easy matter for any woman to remove every trace of hair or fuzz from face, neck and arms. Enough of the powdered delatone and water to make into a thick paste and spread on the hairy surface for about 2 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed. This completely removes the hair, but to avoid disappointment, get the delatone in an original package.—ADV.

SALT WATER POOL AT SUNSET HILL TO BE OPENED JULY 14

Golf Club Members to Have One of Finest Outdoor Swimming Places in West.

FILLED FROM A WELL

Expenditure on Improvement and on Link Has Been More Than $200,000.

The natural salt water swimming pool of the Sunset Hill Country Club and the new dressing, shower bath and reception rooms, will be dedicated and formally opened July 14. The swimming pool and dressing rooms were constructed at a cost of $60,000, and when the finishing touches are put upon them they will constitute one of the finest outdoor bathing places in the West.

Only the 300 members of the golf club of the Sunset Hill Country Club and their families will be entitled to the privileges of the salt-water pool. The water to be used in the pool will be pumped from a deep natural salt-water well on the grounds. This water, in addition to possessing virtually all of the invigorating qualities of ocean water, contains also mineral properties of high medicinal value. The capacity of the salt-water well is more than sufficient to provide at all times a supply of pure water for the pool.

North of Main Building.

The swimming plant is just north of the main club building, and overlooks the 200-acre golf links which roll far down the western slope of Sunset Hill, overlooking the Meramec River. The dimensions of the pool are 35 by 115 feet, and there will be a depth of water from 3 to 12 feet. The gardens around the pool will be arranged to give the grounds a seashore effect. There will be portable umbrellas shading refreshment tables, and other attractive features.

A crescent-shaped dressing or locker room, 36 feet wide and 345 feet long, is equipped with every luxury and convenience for those who will enjoy its privileges. It contains 300 steel lockers, with plenty of space for clothing and golf equipment, eight shower baths, and reception, massage and exercise rooms. On the walls are hung many hundreds of sporting pictures.

The small club building, north of the main club, has been remodeled for a woman's dressing room. There are 62 large dressing rooms in this building, each containing a dressing table, mirror and other necessary toilet equipment, and two hair drying rooms, furnished with electric hair drying machines.

Entrance to the pool will be so constructed that no one can get into it without passing through a shower.

For golf club members who wish to enjoy more exclusive privileges than those afforded by the locker and dressing rooms, about 15 small bath houses will be placed on the west side of the pool. These houses, of attractive architecture and colors, are large enough for an entire family. They will be rented by the season to members.

$200,000 Spent on Pool and Links.

No expense has been spared to make the golf links and swimming pools the most attractive in this part of the country. When everything is finished, the combined cost will considerably exceed $200,000. On account of the rolling ground used for the golf links, the expense of grading it for golf playing has been large. Playing golf on these grounds will not be all play, for there will be a two-mile hill to climb on the return from the western bunker to the crest of the links. On the steeper slopes concrete steps have been constructed.

The opening day program has not been completed, but the M. A. A. swimming team and several expert divers will participate in a series of swimming and diving contests.

The swimming pool will be open at all times during the season to golf club members. Mondays, Saturdays and Sundays they will be charged an admission fee of 50 cents and on other days the fee will be 25 cents.

The Sunset Hill Country Club recently increased its initiation fee from $25 to $50, but its dues remain at $15 a year. No one can become a member of the golf club who is not a member of the Sunset Hill Country Club. The entrance fee to the golf club has been increased to $200, with $50 a year dues. Members of the golf club pay $10 a year for their swimming pool lockers.

SELPH ORDERS PUBLISHERS OF SOCIALIST PAPER OUT OF OFFICE

Postmaster Refuses to Read Proof of Paper in Bad Repute With Postal Authorities.

Postmaster Selph yesterday afternoon ordered from his office William M. Brandt, publisher, and G. A. Hoehn, editor of "Labor," a Socialist weekly, recent issues of which have been excluded from the mails.

Brandt and Hoehn had an advance copy of a coming issue of the paper which they asked the Postmaster to read, so as to determine whether it contained anything unmailable. The Postmaster indignantly said he would not read proof on their paper and emphatically told them to get out.

The paper has been in bad repute with the postal authorities because of its criticisms of the national administration and because its publishers circulated pamphlets denouncing the selective draft, after an issue of the paper containing the same matter had been excluded from the mail.

FOUR ST. LOUIS DEATHS ATTRIBUTED TO HEAT

One of Two Women Who Succumb Unidentified—Relatives of Other Hunted.

Four deaths yesterday were attributed by physicians to heat prostration. The deaths were the first of the year in St. Louis from this cause.

Mrs. Margaret Meeder, 35 years old, of 307 Rutger street, died shortly before midnight at her home. She lived alone in one room. Her relatives are being hunted.

An unidentified woman about 50 years old and well dressed, died about 8:30 p. m. at the city hospital. She had collapsed on Sixth street, near Lucas avenue, about 5 o'clock. She carried a black umbrella, wore a long black coat, and in a hand bag had a prayer book, printed in German.

Thomas McCaffery, 47, 1517 North Fourteenth street, an insurance adjuster, died in Forest Park, near the intersection of Concourse Drive and Clayton road. His body was found beside the road about 3 p. m.

John Haney, 60 years old, of 1523 North Ninth street, was found dead when his wife went to rouse him from a chair in which she thought he had been sleeping.

TELLS OF TAKING GERMAN YACHT

Glendale Youth With "Mosquito Fleet," Says There Was Gasoline on It.

Edmund Perry, 19 years old, of Glendale, St. Louis County, with the "mosquito fleet" off Portsmouth, Va., in a letter to Miss Barbara Carper of Kirkwood, tells of the discovery and capture of a suspected German supply yacht for German submarines in American waters. After firing a shot across the bows of the yacht, the Americans boarded it and found four German officers and 2500 gallons of gasoline aboard.

Perry, a graduate of Kirkwood High School in 1916, is the son of E. C. Perry, president of the Arrow Boiler Compound Co. He joined the fleet two months ago in Baltimore.

NASH Jeffery MOTORS

AGAIN we sound the warning of higher prices.

The high cost of raw materials which has already forced 44 manufacturers to mark up their prices within the past few months, is still on the upward turn.

Fortunately, as we actually manufacture 93 percent of every Jeffery Six we are forced to buy our raw materials far in advance. We bought our present stock over a year ago at the then prevailing lower prices.

So, because we are so far protected on the material side we can right now sell the Jeffery Six at $1465.

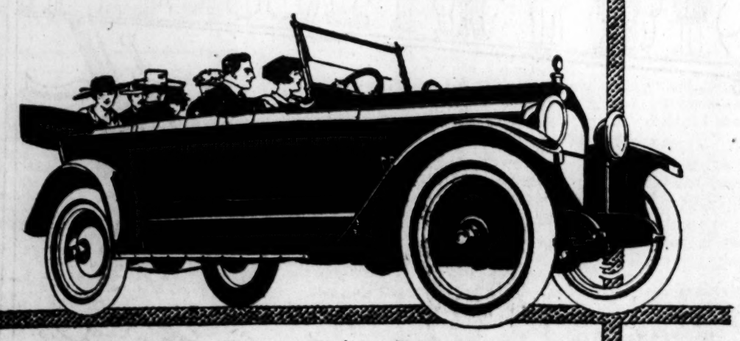

Compare this value with other Sixes. You will find the Jeffery Six is $150 to $200 underpriced. Buy now and effect that saving.

Hundreds have already taken advantage of this opportunity.

When our present stock of raw materials is gone the price must go up.

So act now. See your dealer. Place your order. Get your Jeffery Six at $1465.

Import Duty does nothing for a cigarette

Not a thing—except make the cigarette cost more than it should. Because the value or taste of a cigarette doesn't depend on the Import Duty on the tobacco.

That's why Piedmonts, with all their taste-goodness, can afford to give you better quality than cigarettes which have to take care of the cost of Import Duty on the tobacco.

Besides, VIRGINIA TOBACCO is the only tobacco that has character—that up-and-doing "sparkle" that makes a cigarette a cigarette. Just say "a package of Piedmonts, please."

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Do Teachers Understand Their Pupils?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Upon careful observation I, too, find that the one great fault in our public schools lies in the teachers. It is useless to question their efficiency for the trouble lies in their discipline—in the relation between teacher and pupil. Our teachers lack the understanding of human nature or the majority of them have taught so long that teaching is entirely mechanical with them.

The true American spirit is, independence, and at the age when our boys and girls reach high school they have attained such a feeling of self-reliance and freedom from control of others that, when they are addressed by the high school teachers like an assembly of kindergarten children they show a rebellious spirit. Once the pride of the young, high-minded, true American has been "stung," he becomes antagonistic and there is a barrier between teacher and pupil.

We all know the boy with spunk quits school and goes in quest of work, or perhaps becomes a loafer. The girl, if she is allowed to exercise her own judgment in the home, likewise quits school and if necessity demands, seeks employment. But what kind of employment is offered these young pupils, what chance have they for a future?

We are at an age when the young mind must be given all due consideration. Often the student has a quicker conception of things, has better ideas than the teacher, who has taught in the same old "rut" for the past 20 years. MRS. A. F. C.

Tax Unproductive Land.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Your editorial entitled "Land Hoarding" is right to the point. Some form of taxation that will bring into use the idle land will do more good than any food control. Why not work for a Federal tax of the value of land and on land only, no tax on the buildings or implements. A tax of 1 per cent of the value of the land would bring in a good income to Uncle Sam and also put the idle land to work.

Now is the time to get busy and with the Post-Dispatch on the trail something can easily be done. The Federal Government has the right to tax land and now is the time to exercise that right. The land slackers are a greater danger to the country than all the pro-Germans combined, as every idle acre is working for the Kaiser as food is the most needed of all the supplies required by our allies. A tax law that will put idle land to work will do more to win the war and at the same time do more to help our own folks than any other scheme that can be put through in a short time. D. M. HAGAN.

Wants to Read at Library Coatless.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I always supposed the Public Library was for the benefit of the poor, who cannot afford a private library. After working hard during the day I wanted to cool off and read, so went into the library in my shirt sleeves, because it was too hot and sultry to be comfortable in a coat. I saw the lady in charge of the reading room make some remark to another man in his shirt sleeves. He got up and went out. She then came over to me and told me no one was allowed in the library without a coat.

As we were not supposed to be in society it seems foolish to me to compel a man during this kind of weather to wear a coat in order to have the use of a book. I don't think anyone who goes to a public library is so aristocratic as to be shocked or mortified by seeing a clean pair of shirt sleeves. And that is what the city calls welcoming the poor in the public institutions? I'm sure the other men who were ordered out, as well as myself, sincerely apologized for offending the dignity of such a free institution. ARTHUR ANDERSON.

Nicotine Will Kill Plant Lice.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

The interest in green plant lice plague is general, and blessed be he who will find a way to rid our farmers of this pest as sure as the paris green removes the potato bugs. It is distressing to see great fields being blasted because of the ravages of 2,000,000,000 soft-bodied lice sucking the nourishment from the under sides of the leaves that are intended for the dear old life-giving "spuds."

Several letters have been received in answer to my letter to the Post-Dispatch the other day, as well as phone calls and advertisements of cures for the green pest. Farmers have always had the green lice on different plants, but never before in such plague-like proportions as this year. The generally accepted remedy or killer for them is nicotine. Get the 30 per cent or 40 per cent pure kind, either of a druggist, seed store, or other dealers; mix it with suds of whale oil soap or common yellow laundry soap, and go to work with sprayer and get the mixture on the lice. Contact with nicotine kills them. Be persistent and the plague in your fields or gardens will be removed. A. J. THROOP.

THREE VITAL POINTS.

The proposals on the part of the city for the adjustment of United Railway troubles which City Counselor Daues submitted to the Joint Conference Committee covers the points to be settled and the method of adjustment, but omits the basis of settlement.

We do not understand what is meant by an indeterminate 50-year franchise. An indeterminate franchise is unlimited as to its life term. It has no fixed period. It may continue indefinitely on good behavior and may be terminated at any time on fair conditions. It is the approved form of modern franchises.

In the proposed franchise the city is to have a purchase option at the end of 10 years and every five years thereafter. Why not give the city the right to take over the property at any time on the terms specified? The city will not want to exercise the power without good reason. The charter permits the city to issue bonds for the purchase of public utilities and while requiring 10 and five year options, it does not forbid purchase at any time.

The mill tax is to be repealed with the adoption of the ordinance embodying the agreement between the city and company. The substitute is to be a share in the net earnings of the company.

The mill tax is a just tax, but its abolition will be justified if adequate compensating benefits are gained from the agreement. If the city becomes a partner in the business, of course, special taxation would be unjust and foolish.

The capitalization upon which the company is to earn a fixed dividend is to be agreed upon and the city is to have official representatives on the board of directors. Improvements and extensions are to be provided for.

So much for the form of settlement, but what is the basis of settlement?

What will be the capital value upon which dividends will be earned?

What will be the agreed dividend on the fixed value?

What will be the option price of the property?

These are the vital points which will determine the character of the proposed agreement and its value to the city. They are the substance of the settlement.

Let us bear in mind that while the city is shaping proposals the company is suing for an adjustment. It is at the mercy of the city, which can continue the mill tax and refuse extensions of franchises. The company is the suppliant.

The Post-Dispatch first suggested to the company a settlement or readjustment on the line of these proposals. We believe a just settlement of the relations of the United Railways to the city and public would be advantageous to all. It must be just. It must wipe out the causes of friction and bad service. It must provide a sound basis of earnings, with provision for necessary improvements, including rapid transit.

Dewey's old flagship, the Olympia, is ashore at Block Island, seriously damaged. But she was navigated by a set of sailors who didn't let her get aground in our former war. She put the enemy warships aground.

TO READ ON THE FOURTH.

The magazine of the Post-Dispatch next Sunday will contain the Flag day speech of President Wilson, one of the greatest historical documents of the war. It enunciates a new international declaration of independence, a magna charta for the civilized world.

The Post-Dispatch is reprinting it because we believe that the speech should be read in every public gathering and in every home on the Fourth of July—the anniversary of our own declaration of independence—and then preserved for future years and future generations.

The speech will be printed in the magazine in such a manner that it may easily be taken from the rest of the section and framed or otherwise preserved.

With Venizelos again at the head of the Greek Government, the Archbishop of Athens and the members of the Holy Synod who lately held a formal function and pronounced a curse on him is rendered painfully embarrassing. As it has had so little effect up to date perhaps the best way out will be to reassemble the convocation and take the curse off.

SAFETY-RAZORING RUSSIA.

A shipment of 3,000,000 safety razor blades to Petrograd, with, of course, safety razors in proportion, will complete the work of uplift in Russia which our commission has begun. As a matter of fact the dispatch of the razors should have preceded the departure of the commission from this country, so that on arrival it might have found the ground well prepared for the sowing.

The moujiks under autocracy were bewhiskered creatures. The Czar, perhaps with some reason, was prepared at one time to sacrifice them to the very last moujik for the winning of the war. Would he have been resigned to victory at so great a cost as the immolation of the last clean-shaven moujik?

Though the intimate connection between anarchy and whiskers was long ago pointed out, it has never been positively ascertained whether the one could exist without the other. All we can say is that it is not known so to exist. Anarchy has a flock of ideas that thrive but poorly away from foliage so thick as virtually to be impenetrable except to hay tedders operated by farm tractors, and anarchy is one of the things that are the matter with Russia at present. About the best we can hope for from the country unless it foregoes its beard is majorities for middle-of-the-road Populism. By heroically getting up an hour earlier some morning and making the amputation it can qualify for voting the straight democratic ticket.

Probably it was a big thing for Russia to get rid of autocracy. But a bigger thing would be a shave. It is very important that the new republic should start right and then keep it up at least every other morning.

OUR ARMY IN FRANCE.

"What can America do for the entente as long as the U-boats prevent her from getting men and material across?" sneered German writers and speakers during the week of April 6. "The war will be over before she can send aid of any importance."

The war is not yet over and one of the important factors in getting it over will be those very men and materials which were to arrive only in time to add eclat to the celebration of the predicted Hohenzollern holiday.

After Gen. Pershing's arrival in Europe, before it was known generally that he had left this country, the announcement that the first army he is to command is today encamped in France can hardly be called a surprise. It is exactly what was expected.

When precautions are possible insuring the passage across the sea of these thousands of regulars and marines in safety—when precautions were possible which have enabled more than a quarter of a million of Canadian troops to cross the sea in safety—how can the U-boat peril to merchant ships be regarded an insoluble problem? In the worst aspects of the peril, safety becomes only a matter of sufficient means to provide the indicated safeguards for multiplied numbers of ships.

Things are going well. When the roll is called of nations on the western battle line, America from now on will be able to respond with a triumphant "here," and her representation will constantly and rapidly increase. With the crossing of the sea in the face of such resistance as the enemy can oppose, presenting less difficulties than the crossing of a river in the face of the enemy during land operations, a striking demonstration is given of essential resources in modern warfare in which Germany, with all her military strength in other directions is deplorably weak.

Our entry on the stage is a brilliant achievement and Americans, rejoicing, gird themselves for further successful strokes.

"The more enemies, the more honor," says a German military critic, overlooking the fact that it is dishonor, the violation of treaties and solemn promises that has brought Germany her numerous enemies.

THE EVENING POST'S "FAIR PLAY."

Why is the New York Evening Post so much discussed these days?

Because it is the most conspicuous of the few American newspapers that are trying in the midst of the clamor of war, to keep their heads, their tempers, their sense of proportion and fair play.—From an advertisement of the New York Evening Post.

If the Evening Post is trying to keep its head, its temper and its sense of proportion and fair play, we are glad to hear it.

For of all the recent ill-tempered, exaggerated and unfair fakes that we can recall, it was the Evening Post that was responsible for the worst. That was the story written by the Evening Post's Washington correspondent, David Lawrence, printed in New York by the Evening Post and in St. Louis by the Star, alleging drunkenness, immorality and failure to enforce the law, in the neighborhood of Jefferson Barracks. That story, investigation shows, was a rank untruth and a gross libel on St. Louis. As Col. Irwin said to the Post-Dispatch at the time: "It's perfectly damned absurd." And so it was.

But it was worse than absurd, for its effect was to discourage voluntary enlistment by alarming parents of young men wanting to enlist.

We wish the Evening Post better success in its effort to keep its head, its temper and its sense of proportion and fair play.

A CHRONIC STATE OF WAR.

Prof. Ferdinand Toennies of the University of Kiel, regarded as Germany's foremost political economist, fears that the war will last indefinitely and will become chronic. He admits that he is a pessimist without hope that peace can be brought any nearer by ruthless submarine warfare or any other means possible to the Central Empires. On the other hands Prof. Toennies does not believe that the entente will ever be able to dispossess Germany from the foreign territory that she now occupies.

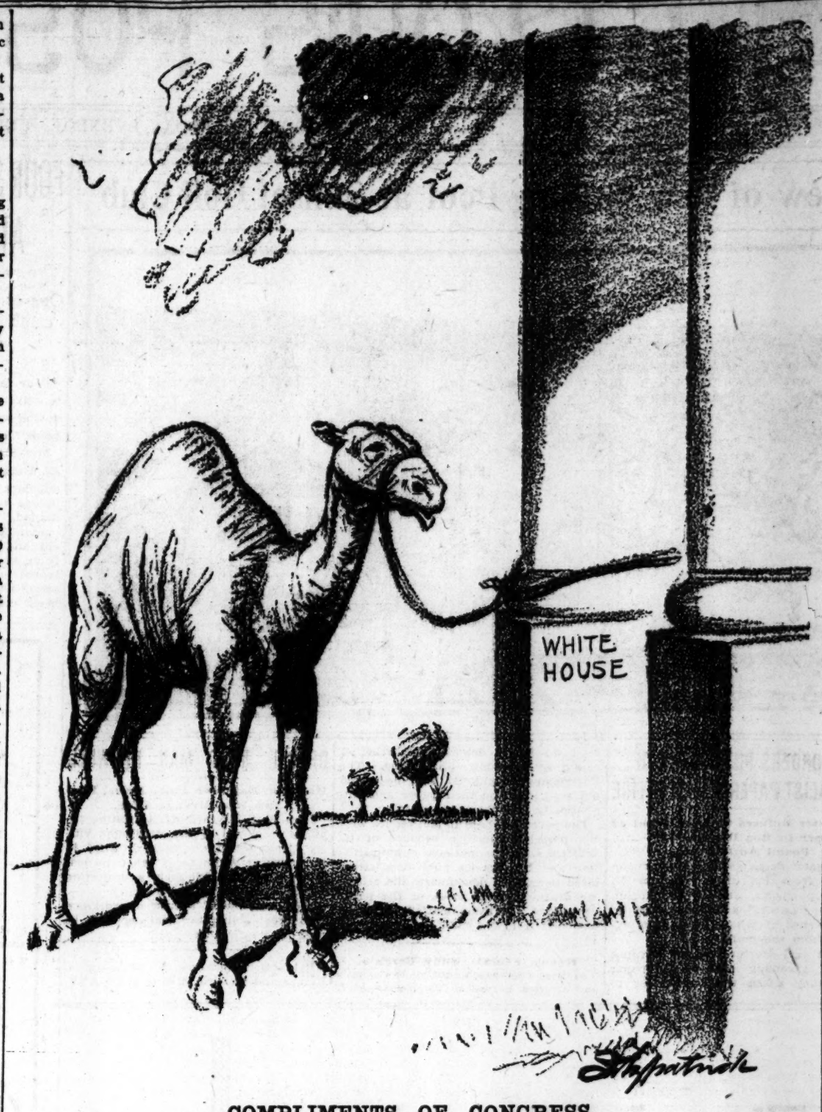

The last "chronic" war in history was The Hundred Years War, which spread over the greater part of the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries. Of course the fighting was not constant during that period and truces were made for years at a time. In fact, only three of the battles fought during that entire period are generally known—Crecy, Agincourt and Poitiers.

Prof. Toennies sees an analogy in the present war. He believes that there will be a succession of fighting periods and armed truces.

It is difficult to disagree with a man as learned in political economy as is Prof. Toennies, but it is hard to conceive a world as interdependent as ours is today and as thickly populated as it is engaged in a Hundred Years War. In the fourteenth century, it must be remembered, all of the fighting was done by knights and squires and the junkers of that time and that half of the people in France and England didn't know there was a war. Agriculture and industry proceeded in the customary manner and the daily routine of the average life was undisturbed.

What would happen to Germany if the war stretched out over a period, say of 20 years? Two or three drouth years in succession, a not uncommon occurrence, would spell disaster, its ships and factories would rot away to dust and Germany would sink back to a manner of living reminiscent of the time when "All Gaul was divided into three parts."

Prof. Toennies overlooks the fact that this is a war of all the people and all the industries in the nations involved. It is too great a war to last very long. Two or three more years, perhaps, but no longer. Crecy was fought at the Marne, Agincourt at the Dunajec and when the Poitiers of this war is fought peace will come.

TO A MOUNTAIN STREAM.

Written in North Cheyenne Canyon, Colorado, June 25, 1917.

FLOW on in glory, happy stream—
With all thy silver darts agleam,
Luring to earth the twinkling beam
Of Pleiades,
Thou art the music for a dream Of Hercules!

The thunder of thy constant rills
Hath cleft a pathway through the hills,
Where cataracts and foaming spills
Their measures play,
In symphonies and burbling trills
Both night and day.

Along thy low and mossy banks
The wild rose bends with grateful thanks—
Unwary of the fickle pranks
That mark thy path,
Felling her sisters ranks on ranks
With whirling wrath!

Fleeing the hills in glad turmoil,
With many a fall and weary coil,
Leaping the rocks with patient toil—
Thou art to me
The deathless spirit of the soil,
Finding the sea.

O may I thus, with hopes as strong,
Follow my own fair path along;
And join the happier, quiet throng,
Beyond the sea
With as divine a light and song
As lives in thee!

HE HAD A REASON.

Sir: David Carter of color (pronounced Cahtah), formerly of Alabama, works for me. Like many of his race, David approximates his age as certainly somewhere between eighteen and forty. I insisted David should register for army service as a protection against possible penalty for failure so to do. He did this reluctantly, and has since appeared downcast. I inquired of him the other day as to what might be troubling him.

He said, "Mistah Tom, I don't want to fight."

I replied, "David, it is not certain that you will be obliged to do so, but if Uncle Sam selects you you will have to go. He makes no distinction between white and black and rich and poor."

"Mistah Tom, if I is got to fight, kaint you git me in de ahmy?"

"David, I'll try," I replied; "but if I were obliged to go I should prefer the navy. Why do you wish to go in the army?"

"Mistah Tom, ef you in de Navy and de boss holler ree-treat, whah you goin' to go at?"

IT WAS EASY.

A man who looked to be a nut drifted in with the heat.

"I have a scheme to end the war," he said.

We turned to him with that resigned editorial air which hears everyone out.

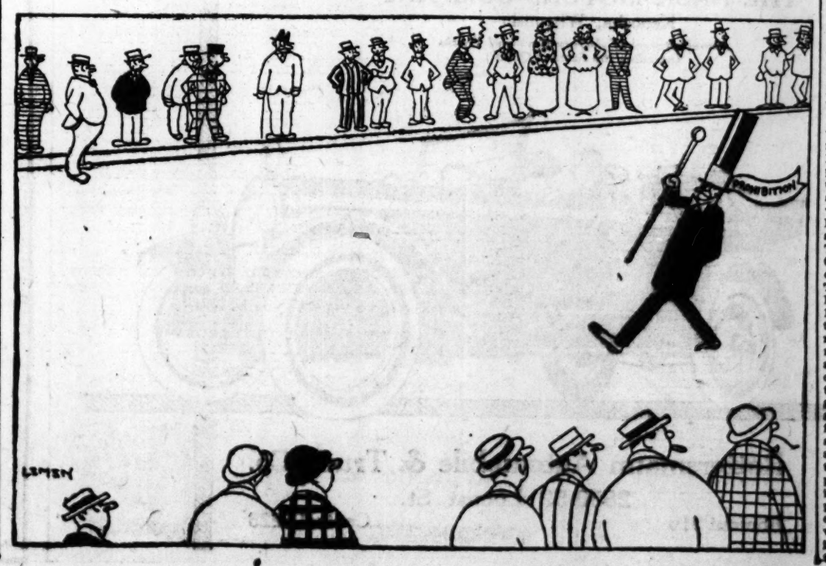

"What is it?"

"I want the nations at war to pair off and fight, leaving the two strongest countries to settle it in the finals."

We regarded him with such compassion as we could command.

"You have been playing too much golf in the hot sun," was all we said.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES.

As we have no information bureau, it is impossible to answer queries by mail or telephone.

CLEANSING.

MRS. M. K.—As to washing flannels and other woolen goods, an experienced housekeeper writes: "Cut enough of wool soap to make strong suds. To each gallon water add tablespoon ammonia. When dissolved and boiling hot put flannels in and let soak an hour. Squeeze out (rubbing any soiled places between the hands), rinse in clear warm water, shake well and hang up where they will dry quickly, but not in sun. This will apply only to white flannels. When colored, let the water get a little cool, so as not to fade colors. I wash finest woolen dresses, Bedford cord coat, etc., in this way, and they are soft until worn out, and do not shrink. I have white flannel skirts that have been in constant use almost five years. The baby's white hose are worn out before they are outgrown. In washing shawls, jackets, etc., they should not be hung up, but shaken well; then lay them down in a heap, shaking every now and then, and changing round until dry. In this way they retain their shape."

HEALTH HINTS.

A.—Your tooth should be treated by a dentist, who should confer with your doctor in regard to extraction during pregnancy.

LAW POINTS.

PEGGY.—Divorced woman may use her maiden name if she chooses to do so.

READER.—If you can prove the slander, phone Prosecuting Attorney, Municipal Court's phone.

X. X. X.—No one can be compelled to pay taxes on personal property if having no property of that kind.

A. L. K.—A son may contest his father's will, but winning the suit would depend upon the facts in the case.

WAR TALK.

CONSTANT.—Letter for marine may be sent in care of Marine Corps headquarters, Washington, D. C. Name his company.

G. K. O.—Every male citizen of the United States who is liable to service is prohibited by the Department of Justice from crossing the boundaries or taking passage for another country. Write State Department, Washington, D. C.

J. G. and A. S.—Age for Signal Corps, 18 to 45. Enlisted men are trained as telegraphers and in the establishment of field lines of information, field and station wireless, ballooning and the installation of telephone systems. Full, free information to be had in Room 305, old Postoffice, Third and Olive.

ROOKIE.—Telegram June 24: The army and navy National Guard represented an aggregate strength of little more than 300,000 men, when the war resolution was adopted. Today between 700,000 and 800,000 are enrolled in the various branches of the fighting service and the great majority of them are armed, equipped and under training. They will be joined at the end of the summer by nearly a million men selected for the new National Army from the millions registered for war duty June 5. The regular army totaled a little more than 100,000 men three months ago. It is nearing the 250,000 mark today, and War Department officials, backed by the press of the country, are bending every effort to bring it up to 300,000 during this week. The National Guard, 150,000 strong when war came, numbered nearly 280,000 today, according to the best estimates available. Of that number nearly 75,000 actually are under arms, guarding against German plotters and doing the job in a thorough and soldierly way, as shown by the trivial damage the plotters have been able to inflict. The Marine Corps, whose slogan of "First to Fight" has been respected by the Government in attaching a seasoned regiment of sea soldiers to Major-General Pershing's expeditionary force to France, has been raised from 17,000 to nearly 30,000 men. The regular bluejacket force of the navy has been raised from fewer than 60,000 to 136,000, while probably 12,000 men have already joined the force of engineers newly created for service in France. Forty thousand picked men are under strenuous training at the officers' training camps, insuring good junior officers for the national army. Other thousands are doing their share at the medical corps and engineer corps training camps and still others are with the naval coast defense reserve, keeping the Atlantic Coast free from the submarine menace and insuring a clear road for the endless stream of cargo carriers which are taking American war supplies to Europe.

MISCELLANEOUS.

MANCK.—For lodges, see city directory in any drug store.

L. S.—We do not find "Martin Luther's coat of arms." His father was a miner and he was a monk.

J. R. S.—"State-wide" does not mean nation-wide. Only Congress could give national width to prohibition.

CENTARY.—As the city has bought 30,000 ties for Free Bridge railroad, it will not grow its own tie timber.

KOHLER.—Brazilian Consul, A. de Figueiridо, 400 South Broadway; Argentina, G. V. Brecht, Vice Consul, 1201 Cass.

BOONE.—Longfellow did not write the verses you mention. In the "Lay of the Last Minstrel," Sir Walter Scott wrote:

Breathes there a man with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said:
This is my own, my native land!
Whose heart hath ne'er within him burn'd,
As home his footsteps he hath turn'd
From wandering on a foreign strand?

SAZERAC.—Byron Bancroft Johnson has been only president of American League, being elected in 1900 for 10 years and re-elected in 1910 for a period of 20 years. Chicago, Kansas City, Indianapolis, Buffalo, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, Cleveland, Detroit teams composed the league when it was organized.

HOT ARGUMENT.—The city was named in honor of Louis XV, a dissolute monarch. If named directly after him it would have been terrible Louisville or Louisbourg. According to French custom it requires the addition of "ville" or "bourg" to convert a personal into a local designation. St. Louis was, therefore, named Ft. Louis after the Patron Saint of Louis XV—Louis IX.

A. W. F.—The present monetary standard was established Mar. 4, 1900. In the Forty-fourth Congress, the silver party, led by Bland of Missouri, attempted to force the passage of a law providing for the free and unlimited coinage of silver approximately at the ration of 16 to 1, but the measure was amended on the motion of Allison, of Iowa, in the Senate, in such a manner as simply to authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to purchase not less than $2,000,000 or more than $4,000,000 worth of silver each month to coined into silver dollars. The measure thus amended was vetoed by President Hayes, but was repassed and in 1878 became a law, popularly known as the Bland-Allison act. In 1792 the Government began to coin gold and silver at the ratio of 1 to 15, but it was soon found that at this ration gold was undervalued, and consequently little or no gold was brought to the Treasury to be coined. In 1834 Congress fixed the ratio between the two metals approximately at 16 to 1; but this was found to be and overvaluation of gold, or, as some said, an undervaluation of silver, and as a result silver was not brought to the treasury for coinage and almost dropped out of the monetary system. Finally, in 1873, when silver dollars were already practically out of circulation, Congress discontinued the coinage of the standard silver dollar altogether—that is, demonetized it—and left gold as the basis of the monetary system.

Woman Who Braved Death Months Aiding Wounded, Is Here to Appeal for Help

Nurse Mazzuchi Drives Ambulance From Trench to Hospital—Wounded Twice.

Marguerite Mooers Marshall

NEW YORK, June 26.

"AT RHEIMS 5000 shells fell in my garden and 500 struck my house. My hospital on the Italian front is shelled heavily every night; it looks like a pepper pot. I have a German bullet in me and I wear an Austrian bullet that was taken out of me. But of what should I be afraid? When I die—I die!" It was Mme. Daisy Mazzuchi, the bravest and the most matter-of-fact young woman I have ever met, who was speaking.

At the outbreak of the war her husband was Italian Consul at Rheims. Mme. Mazzuchi's home and all it contained was destroyed by shell-fire while she and her 12-year-old daughter were nursing 1000 wounded men. She stayed in Rheims, caring for the wounded and the refugees, until Italy entered the war. Then she went to the Italian front and founded the Ospedale di Riserva Latisana in the Province of Udine. She is the only woman on the Italian front who drives her own ambulance from trenches to hospital. She has been under the Austrian guns most of the time during the last 15 months, and has come to America to ask for equipment for another hospital at Gorizia for the Second Army under Gen. Gampoli, a hospital even nearer the trenches than the one in which she has been working.

DURING the past 15 months there probably has not been a day during some moment of which Mme. Mazzuchi's life was not in danger. And yet she told me of her experiences with the untroubled blue eyes, the almost phlegmatic calm, of an Englishwoman discussing a garden party. Racially she is English and Spanish, but if her Latin blood speaks in her fiery achievement, her Saxon self-control cools and makes brusque her voice and the story she tells.

Here it is—consecutively; although I had to extract it by separate and insistent queries:

"Everything we owned in Rheims was destroyed during the bombardment. We hadn't even a chair left. But I was not in my home when it was shelled; I was in the trenches, taking care of the soldiers. We had no hospitals then. And I actually had to send back 30 beds and equipment which were coming to me from England because before they were due the Germans entered the town where I was and I knew that anything from England would be confiscated.

"From the first I assisted with the operations. I had had a little training in nursing before the war; a few weeks in a London hospital. But the work had to be done, and I did it. In Rheims my little daughter, who is only 12, helped me. I was shot once while I was there and the bullet is still in me.

"I WORKED on, caring for the refugees, until Italy came into the war. Then it was thought that I, the wife of an Italian Consul, should work for my husband's Government. So I went to the Italian front. Fifteen months ago I came to America to ask for furnishings for my hospital in Udine. You were most generous, and I received so much that I have been able to aid 27 other Italian hospitals.

"At the Ospedale Di Riserva Latisana I drive my own ambulance. I am the only woman in Italy with permission from the Government to do this. I work 15 hours a day in my hospital and am on duty five nights out of seven. I arise at 4 o'clock, and from 6 to 2:30 in the afternoon I am in the operating room. There is so much to do that I cannot stop even for a cup of soup. When I come out—well, I don't feel like eating much then.

"Every 24 hours I must go 35 to 40 miles in my ambulance to bring in the wounded men. During the past year and a quarter 3500 men have passed through my hospital, and I have a complete record of every case. I have been told that there is no hospital where the books are kept as in mine," added Mme. Mazzuchi, with positively the first perceptible price she had shown during our talk.

"Our hospital has been so shelled that the walls look like a pepper box. There are holes all over them, and we have no windows. I was hit in the leg one night; here is the bullet," and Mme. Mazzuchi nonchalantly showed me a small jagged chunk of lead, attached to her bracelet by a thin gold chain.

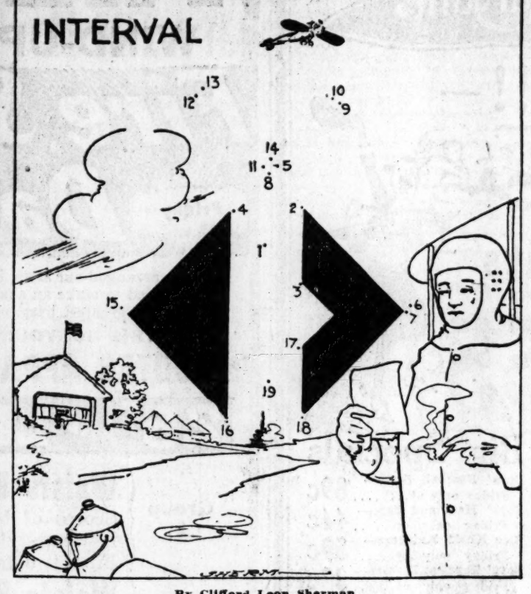

NOW everything is running so smoothly," she concluded, "that I am going to open another hospital in Gorizia. Won't you please tell the readers of the Post-Dispatch the things I need?"

I think Mme. Mazzuchi has earned the right to have her requests heeded, don't you? She wants an ambulance. She also wants bandages, old or new bed jackets, bed socks, flannel or knitted belts, caps, crutches, dressing gowns, handkerchiefs, woolen helmets, mittens and gloves, night shirts, pillows and pillow cases, sheets, slippers, socks, towels, surgical instruments, rubber sheets, dental instruments, hot water bottles, writing paper, envelopes, postcards, games, pencils, cards, magazines and illustrated papers, gramophone with allies' tunes and waltzes, jam, chocolate and cigarettes. And you may send any or all of these things to her at the Hotel Netherland.

By Clifford Leon Sherman.

"I CAN'T just at this minute recall," said the officer, "whether I told you how to call attention when signaling. Anyway, you hold your flags in the same position as you do for the letter 'U' and then wave them about five degrees up and five degrees down. There is another signal you must learn, for it makes it easy to read words without running together. When you see the signaler holding his flags crossed in front of his body below the waist, you will know that it means 'interval.'"

Microbes Have Rush Hour Now

THE microbes will get you if you don't watch out! That is the warning of a scientist, who has let it be known that they have a rush hour in the morning and afternoon just the same as the commuter and the subway dweller. According to evidence adduced by him, 9 o'clock in the morning and from 5 to 9 in the evening is the time of principal danger from myriads of microbes.

By obtaining samples of air both indoors and out, this scientist conducted experiements to determine when friend microbe went abroad in search of whom he might devour. He learned that at about 6 o'clock in the morning the microbe legions began to gather for the day's harvest. From that time onward until 9 o'clock they swarmed the outside air in constantly increasing hosts. And from 9 o'clock until 3 in the afternoon they dwindled. At the latter hour there were fewer of them on duty than at any other time of the day. But the rush soon started again, and by 5 o'clock every abie-bodied microbe in creation was waiting for the commuter.

When, in papering a bathroom with the same tiled paper on sides and ceiling, the paper does not match in the ceiling corners, place a strip of quarter-round there, and color it to suit the paper.

Humanity Vs. Woman's Vanity

"NO," said the shopper, firmly addressing the saleswoman who held up a sport hat adorned with a modest little fringe of feathers around the edge of the brim. "It's years since I've worn feathers of any sort, and I'm persuaded that it's right to hold fast to my resolve."

"But," laughed the friend who was with her, "probably these are 'made feathers.' Half of them are, you know. My husband tells me so, and he is in the business. Really, you needn't refuse to wear those."

"Oh, but I shall, and I'll tell you just why," replied her ardent friend. They had left the millinery department now and were standing apart by themselves, awaiting the elevator which should carry them back to the street floor. "I know, of course, that plenty of the feathers used for trimming hats are from creatures of the farmyard which had already been taken for food. But I don't like the idea of killing a man and then taking his coat, do you? What would be thought of us if we did that with our fellow men? We don't; but, instead, we do it with the birds and animals who cannot protect themselves. Oh, the stories I've heard of the brutes who strip the wings from the gulls, without stopping first to spare them the pain. And there are the inexpressible trappers of the North woods, who it is difficult to believe retain any human feelings at all. I'm done with it all. I'll not wear furs and I'll not wear feathers. You know, with many it is simply a question of laziness. It is far easier to buy a feather-trimmed hat which is becoming than it is to refuse it, as I did just now. It means, you see, that I must look further for the hat which suits me. But I'd rather do that and keep my conscience clear. It seems to me that it is just a question of whether or not one's sense of humanity is stronger than one's desire for idle decoration of one's personal belongings. Because I can't be sure how any feathers were procured, I've resolved to refuse to purchase any at all. I hear that manufacturers are urging increased sale of wings and feathers for millinery purposes. Probably they are getting alarmed for their business, because, when one comes to investigate, there are a number of women who have taken the same stand in the matter that I have. The humane societies are opposing the manufacturers, of course, and most properly. And I propose to help them."

Fireless Cooker for a Summer Camp.

HAVE you a fireless cooker for your summer camp, so that you can put your dinner in to cook in the morning and come in at night, after an all-day cross-country tramp and find it ready to be eaten? If not, you miss a lot of the fun of camping out. Even if you are "roughing it," as you say, you might as well rough it as comfortably as possible. It is not a difficult thing to make a fireless cooker yourself which will do very well, when you are living in a tent or rough cabin. First of all get a big wooden tub or firkin, such as butter is packed in.

Next, buy a 10-gallon tin pail, and be sure that it has a cover which will fit down tightly upon it. The other requirements are a piece of asbestos sheeting, about one yard will be enough, and a soapstone.

Wet this asbestos sheeting and cover the outside of the pail, and also of the cover, with it and press it down tightly, then set it away to dry. (If you cannot get the asbestos, try several thicknesses of paper.) When quite dry, cover the bottom of the wooden tub with sawdust, set the tin pail in the center and pack about with sawdust, almost up to the top. Cut a large piece of thick cardboard to fit the wooden tub, removing a circle from the center to admit of its being pushed down over the tin pail, just below its cover.

Suppose you want to have lamb or beef stew for supper. Prepare it as though for ordinary cooking and let it boil a short time over the fire. In the meantime heat the soapstone until it sizzles when water is sprinkled on it. Put the soapstone in the tin pail and have the stew, or whatever the food is you are cooking, in another pail with a tight cover, and set that into the large pail, also, on top of the soapstone. Be sure that it is boiling hard when you put it in. Then put the covers on both the large pail and the wooden tub and overlay the whole thing with a thick pillow, cut to fit the top. Do not open any part of it until the food has had time to cook. This will be found to be a very inexpensive contrivance and a valuable addition to the conveniences of camp life. It is possible, too, to make larger ones after somewhat the same plan and with little trouble and expense.

Brown Sugar Cookies

BEAT together 1½ cups of brown sugar and ½ cup of butter and, when that is well creamed, beat in one egg. Add ½ cup of milk. Sift together 1 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1 scant teaspoon of soda and 2¾ cups of flour. If it is preferred to drop the cookies instead of rolling them out, use only 2 cups of flour.

The highest railway in the world is the Central Railway of Peru which reaches an altitude of 15,865 feet and has its highest railway station at 15,665 feet above sea level.

HINTS FOR HOUSEKEEPING

NOW is the time when the wise housekeeper is taking account of stock and doing a certain amount of refurbishing and renovating. For example, a old linoleum, if not worn into holes, may be refreshed and made almost as good as new with little trouble. First, be sure that it is stretched and tacked as closely as possible. Then paint it all over with two coats of any good wash paint, letting the first one dry before supplementing it with the second.

When this is quite dry, give the floor a coating of orange shellac. After this is dry, go over it with a second coat.

This gives an excellent finish to the floor and will make the linoleum not only look well, but add greatly to its wearing qualities. An oil mop will keep it clean.

One housekeeper makes her own floor mops as follows: She buys a cheap string mop, cuts off the cotton strings and sews strips of woolen cloth, about nine inches long, in their places, fastening them to the frame or binding.

Mix together one-half cup of kerosene oil and one-half cup of melted paraffine. Dip the mop in this and let it dry; then keep the mop, when not in use, in a paper bag. This mop may be cleaned by washing in warm soap suds and, when dry, moistened again with a good floor oil or furniture polish.

It is quite possible to convert a dingy dark old floor into a very attractive one, golden brown in color. In the first place, it should be carefully and thoroughly cleaned. Next, paint the floor over with one coat of thin white paint. This, according to one housekeeper of an experimental nature, must be so very thin that it will resemble a sheer gauzy veil. Let that dry, then give the floor two coats of orange shellac. Of course, the first one must be allowed to dry before the second is put on. This will not only change an ugly floor into an attractive one, but will give it a good hard finish.

Pockets for Women Return

THE useful pocket has returned and will stay, so many, if not most, women are hoping fervently. And it has returned in a great variety of guises, but, in almost every case, it prefers the full glory of being seen and appreciated to hiding away as though ashamed of its existence as was long its custom. The simplest serge frock has usually two of them, neat little affairs large enough to hold the handkerchief and perhaps a small memorandum pad with pencil attached, or any such trifles. The silk afternoon gown, for home or calling wear, has its pockets, too.

One pretty model in old blue taffeta, trimmed with steel beads, has a fairly deep-pointed pocket, embroidered in the heads, on each side of the tunic. One of the new season's blue serge suits has two squarish pockets on the skirt, each of them being fitted with a patent fastening arrangement in the center of the top which makes for security.

The coat has two more pockets of the same shape, but somewhat larger. The tweed coat mentioned above has two enormous, rectangular pockets, slightly broader than they are deep; in fact, they almost achieve the size of a newspaper folded in quarters.

A button and buttonhole in the center of the top of each secures the contents from falling out, when the wearer leans over suddenly. Above the belt on each side, near the front, is another pocket, this one deep, not very wide and also buttoned to the coat.

Another of the suits, also of dark blue, is trimmed with the once again popular polka dot silk. The pocket flaps, like the collar, cuffs and belt, is made of that and the pocket itself, as well, and it hangs down below the coat so that all may see.

Even the new evening gowns are not deprived of pockets, but have such conveniences made of rich brocades or silks or beads or metal arrangements, in somewhat medieval styles.

The pocket is really quite an ancient institution. It is, in fact, the direct antecedent of the small handbag which women have been carrying for years. Originally, moreover, it was a detached affair, not unlike many that are coming into style at this present time. They were frequently made in pairs and of various materials. Some of them, judging from old pictures, were not unlike the "safety pockets" which women find so useful for carrying money and valuables when traveling nowadays. These of today, however, are usually made of leather or khaki or some similarly strong material.

They are fitted with metal clasps and are attached to a strong band to be fastened about the waist. Some of the pockets worn by the women of the United States in colonial days were made in similar fashion, were flat affairs with slits running from the top nearly half way to the bottom, by means of which the contents of the bag might be inserted.

Some of these early pockets were of figured calico, more elaborate ones were of silk or of linen, daintily embroidered; some were stitched into a band to be fastened about the waist, while others were gathered bag fashion with drawstrings.

Their importance is shown by the fact that they were frequently mentioned in wills as being left as legacies. Also they occur in the inventories of possessions which people of those days were wont to make.

Popular Superstitions

MANY servants believe that if a lady with red hair should chance to call upon the mistress of the house on a rainy day the servants will, within a few hours, be given the customary two weeks' notice to leave.

An omen of good luck is for a servant with a baby carriage to see a dog fight. This indicates general good luck for days to come.

Should the pet canary bird of the house die, it is said to be a sign that the family will soon be obliged to take boarders.

Some servants believe that good luck will follow if they pass several times behind the chair at a table occupied by a hunchback. The luck is increased in proportion to the number of times they can succeed in doing this.

A visit from country relatives is foretold by the stopping of the kitchen clock during the night.

To find the ash can upset in the morning is a sure sign that the girl who first discovers it will soon have a proposal of marriage.

To find the door mat lying upside down is taken to mean that the person who finds it will not be married for at least a year.

If a family is very late in reaching the breakfast table it is thought bad luck to sweep the dining room the same day.

It is often difficult to hire servants to work for a mistress who has a cast in her eye.

It is supposed to bring bad luck to serve a red-haired man more than twice at the same meal.

DON'T LET SOAP SPOIL YOUR HAIR

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—ADV.

Until you try Lux you will never believe it possible to wash your sweater or sportcoat so easily, so perfectly

Wonderful for Sportcoats and Sweaters!

Thousands of women have found Lux wonderfully successful for washing their sweaters and sportcoats. Read what some of them say:

"Have tried your Lux with great success. Washed a white corduroy coat and it looked as good as new—it was a child's coat and very dirty, and I didn't have to rub it at all." —Mrs. F. W. Gordon, Portland, Maine.

"I have used Lux for blankets and sweaters, and have a white sweater which has been washed several times with it and it is still white, soft and unshrunken!"—Mrs. T. W. B. Pratt, 21 Sanborn Street, Reading, Mass.

"I always thought Lux was an ordinary washing powder, so had not used it. Washed two shawls with it with very little effort, as no rubbing is needed. It is wonderful! Being an invalid, I have almost no strength. Had I used common soap, a small board and rubbing would have been necessary."—Mrs. J. E. Webster, 30 Roadsdale Street, Boston, Mass.

With Lux no rubbing is necessary

Lux—in pure transparent flakes—melts completely the moment hot water is poured on it. Let your sweater or coat soak in this hot, rich lather for a few minutes, then dip up and down repeatedly. Do not rub.

Rinse thoroughly in three relays of water of the same temperature in which you washed it, dry on a bright sunny day, and you have a snow-white fluffy garment, as fleecy and soft and big as on the day you bought it.

Lux won't harm anything that pure water alone won't injure.

WOMEN PLAN TO REGISTER FARMERS

Committee Conducting Cannery Want Surplus Products for Canning.

The Women's Central Committee on Food Conservation, conducting a cannery at Fourth and St. Charles streets, is planning to register farmers in the surrounding territory to get them to give all their surplus products to the committee for canning.

More than 500 automobiles and several trucks already have been offered to carry supplies from the farms to the city. These are in the charge of Mrs. William Weston.

The committee will supply speakers for each patriotic gathering in the country about St. Louis on the Fourth of July. They will speak on food conservation.

The daily 10 o'clock lesson and demonstration on food conservation was given this morning on tomato and raspberry canning by Miss Lucille Bell and Miss May Leighton. More than 50 women and one man were present.

Tomorrow the lesson will be on meats. Saturday there will be a special demonstration. Luther Ely Smith will speak on conservation of food, which will be followed by a demonstration of war emergency cooking by Miss Clara Skeel. Mrs. Robert Terry will conduct the demonstrations next week.

Three new food conservation schools will be opened for a week. The first will be at 8 a. m. tomorrow at the Union Electric building. The other two will begin next week at the Laclede Gas Light Co. and Scruggs-Vandervoort-Barney. They will be held under the direction of Misses Bell and Leighton.

Recipes Demonstrated.

Recipes demonstrated today are as follows:

Tomatoes.—Select tomatoes of the same size, ripeness and color. Scald to loosen skins. Plunge quickly into cold water. Remove the stem and skin and cut into pieces if desired. Place rubber in position and fill the jar with the whole or cut tomatoes, packing as tightly as possible. Add one teaspoonful of salt to each quart of tomatoes and fill the jars with boiling strained tomato juice. Adjust tops and partially tighten. Sterilize 22 minutes. Remove jars, tighten tops and set out of draft to cool.

Raspberries—Pick over, wash and stem. Use a colander or sieve in washing them in order to prevent handling or bruising. Place the rubbers in position and fill the jars with the berries, packing them as tightly as possible without crushing. Make a syrup, using one cup of sugar to four cups of water. When the sugar is completely dissolved and the syrup begins to boil, fill the jar with the boiling syrup. Adjust the top and partially tighten. Place jars upon rack and lower at once into canner containing hot water. Place the lid on the canner and sterilize for 16 minutes. Remove the jars, tighten the tops and set to cool, away from draft.

COCCHI HAS ABHORRENCE OF AMERICAN ELECTRIC CHAIR

Friends and Relatives of Ruth Cruger's Slayer Raising Fund to Fight His Extradition.

BOLOGNA, June 28.—"I feel myself acquitted morally, but I am ready to undergo the legal penalty of my country," Alfredo Cocchi, slayer of Ruth Cruger, is quoted as saying to the interrogating Judge at the last questioning. Yesterday, Cocchi, according to reliable authority, sent out this message to a friend:

"I am guilty and I want to pay the penalty. Why spend your money on a lawyer? I won't see him."

There is no doubt that Cocchi has a horror of the American electric chair. This abhorrence is shared by his friends, and they, with his relations, are starting a fund to fight extradition proceedings.

"What seems to me indisputable," said Signor Venturini, attorney for Cocchi, to the Associated Press, "is that Cocchi, owing to Italian laws, cannot be extradited, even if meanwhile he has become a naturalized American, since Italy still claims him as an Italian subject, having been called under the colors."

CASE OF ALLEGED WRECKER OF M'KINLEY CAR IS DISMISSED

Prosecutor at Edwardsville Finds Conviction of Charles Craig Impossible.

The charge of malicious mischief against Charles Craig, on account of the wrecking of a McKinley car near Edwardsville, Ill., last October, in which one person was killed and 20 injured, was dismissed at Edwardsville today because the Prosecuting Attorney declared that a conviction was impossible.

Craig has been in jail since his arrest, following the wreck. He was arrested upon the statement by Curtis Force, with whom he lived. Force told the prosecuting authorities that he went with Craig to the railroad tracks and saw him draw the spikes from the rails. Force was tried and acquitted yesterday.

Indictments for murder against the two men were also dismissed. Force refused to testify against Craig.

CITY CONSUMES MILLIONS BARRELS OF BEER A YEAR

Takes One-Third of Output of Local Concerns, Whose Receipts Are $21,000,000.

STATE GETS $400,000

Breweries of U. S. Use 50,000,000 Bushels of Grain a Year.

If the Senate concurs in the action of the House by adopting a food conservation bill with a provision prohibiting the use of foodstuffs in the manufacture of beer, a tremendous reformation of habit by the thirsty will result, according to the brewers, for the local population consumes 31,000,000 gallons of beer annually, or 1,000,000 barrels. Henry Nicolaus, president of the St. Louis Brewing Association, made this statement to a Post-Dispatch reporter, in pointing out that St. Louis consumes one-third of the 3,000,000 barrel annual output of local breweries, to say nothing of beer consumed from outside sources.

Nicolaus was trying to prove that there never was so popular a drink and probably never will be when he produced the figures. The State, outside of St. Louis, manufactures only 500,000 barrels a year, but consumes 750,000 barrels, relying upon St. Louis and importations from other cities to supply the deficit. The beer is sold to the saloonkeeper at $7 a barrel, net, thus giving St. Louis breweries annual receipts of $21,000,000.

Glasses in a Barrel.

Incidentally Nicolaus produced an interesting table, prepared in his office, showing the number of glasses and "cans" of beer that can be drawn from a barrel containing 31 gallons or 3968 ounces. The figures are based on pure beer without foam. When drawn with foam, it is explained, the proceeds of a barrel are greater than shown. The table follows

Size of Glasses.	Number of Glasses.	Amount at 5c a Glass.
8 ounces	496	24.80
8½ ounces	466	23.30
9 ounces	440	22.00
9½ ounces	417	20.85
10 ounces	396	19.85
10½ ounces	377	18.85
11 ounces	360	18.00
11½ ounces	345	17.25
12 ounces	330	16.50
12½ ounces	317	15.85
13 ounces	305	15.25
13½ ounces	294	14.70
14 ounces	283	14.15
15 ounces	264	13.20
16 (1 pint)	248	12.40

Receipts per barrel when sold in "cans".
16 ounces (1 pint) 248 cans at 5 cents each, $12.40 a barrel.
32 ounces (1 quart) 124 cans at 15 cents each, $18.60 a barrel.

If saloon keepers, a notation on the table explains, do not sell over 12 ounces in glass for 5 cents and over 32 ounces in "cans" for 10 cents, the average receipts of a barrel would amount from $13 to $15.

The price of beer to the saloon keeper has been raised a dollar a barrel since the war started, Nicolaus stated, and another raise is likely owing to the heavy war tax. The saloon keepers, he pointed out, calling attention to the table, can stand the raise without increasing prices to the public.

"With St. Louis manufacturing 3,000,000 barrels of beer annually, of which 1,000,000 barrels is consumed right here," Nicolaus stated, "annual receipts of St. Louis breweries amount to $21,000,000. This is how some of that money is expended: $400,000 a year to the State for schools and roads, and $4,500,000 annually to the Government from the tax of $1.50 a barrel. The beer revenue from the whole State to the State Treasury, biennially, is $2,667,300."

Figures on Grain Used.

"Food conservation, tommyrot!" Nicolaus exclaimed. "The brewers of the United States use 52,500,000 bushels of barley annually in the manufacture of beer out of a crop averaging over 200,000,000 bushels. Who eats barley? Nobody except, perhaps, a sick person for whom broth has been prescribed. The brewers utilize about 16,000,000 bushels of corn products. That's a lot of corn you will say. Yes, but keep in mind the fact that our corn crop will show an average yield of over 3,000,000,000 bushels. The brewers use 2,400,000 bushels of rice—a grade of rice that is not marketable; screened rice, called by the millers "brewers' rice" because it is not suitable for any other purpose. Brewers use no wheat, oats or rye, or any other foodstuff as the ingredient of beer.

"Even what is used in the manufacture of beer is not all lost to animal consumption. Thirty-five per cent of the material is returned to the farmer as a better milk-producing feed than in its original state, leaving a maximum consumption of less than 50,000,000 bushels of grain, only a part of which could be used for foodstuffs. Is it fair to ruin a billion dollar industry to save this grain?

"But the moral question, the psychological effect of beer on the population, you might ask. That is the pet theory of prohibitionists, but it has no place in this discussion, for the matter upon which Congress is voting is one of food conservation—what we shall eat, not what we might think.

"The brewers of the United States now pay a beer tax to the Government of $90,000,000 annually, on the basis of 60,000,000 barrels at $1.50 a barrel, and probably will be called upon for an additional $75,000,000 war tax. It is really surprising to say nothing of the whisky millions, that Congress would wish to deprive the Government of this huge sum in the greatest crisis of the country's history."

There are 2100 saloons in St. Louis, Nicolaus said, paying rent amounting to more than $1,500,000 annually. They pay a Government license of $25 each and a dramshop license of $500 to State, city and county. There are 3800 saloons, including St. Louis, in the State.

Nicolaus declared that the action of the House in appending the Barkley amendment to the food conservation bill was a great surprise to St. Louis brewers. To show that the brewing interests of the country were taken off guard, he pointed out that only four representatives of St. Louis brewery interests went to the capital in the interest of the business.

William J. Lemp, president of the William J. Lemp Brewing Co.; C. Norman Jones, treasurer of the St. Louis Brewing Association; Hugo A. Koehler, president of the Independent Breweries Co., and Harry B. Hawes, representing the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Co., Nicolaus said, spent 10 days recently in Washington seeing committees in charge of food legislation and left with the impression that there would be no drastic legislation affecting the brewing industry.

Nicolaus read a telegram from Washington withholding the signature, which gave as a reason for the objectionable legislation the fact that the "dry" forces were very strong at the capital and "put one over" on the absent brewers. "The brewers should have had a man of keen wit and business ability on the ground all the time, the same as the opposition," the telegram read. Nicolaus declared that the brewing interests of the country did not spend one cent to influence congressional legislation in their favor.

Friends at Sight

Any man who's hungry for a smoke will be mighty glad to meet you when you offer him a package of

U.S. MARINE CUT PLUG

You'll find that this good old standby makes friends right on the spot with most men.

U. S. MARINE is a fine full-flavored pipe tobacco, grown in the mellow soil of Old Kentucky.

It's ripened and aged and manufactured with just one end in view—to turn out a pipe tobacco that's full of solid satisfaction from the moment you open the wrapper to the last pinch in the package. When it leaves the factory it has a flavor of its own that men who smoke it say they can't get in any other tobacco at anywhere near the price. It's this personal quality, built right into the tobacco, that helps to make it a comfort under poor conditions, a luxury under the best.

"OBJECTORS" OPEN PROPAGANDA

Organized as "League of Humanity," Street Meetings Are Being Held.

CHICAGO, June 28.—The "conscientious objectors" movement in Chicago is being organized here with public headquarters and an open propaganda on the streets. It is under the direct supervision of Daniel H. Wallace, said formerly to have been a member of the British army, and C. V. Cook, a salesman, who is secretary, the movement being known as the "League of Humanity."

Cook says that the members object "to the forcible sending of the young men of this country to Europe to help kill human beings over there in the interest of some autocratic outfit."

He admitted that Wallace had received some attention from Federal officials here, but that the street meetings met with little trouble.

"I Recommend to All Who Wish to Reduce"

Says Arbolone Tablets "Is the Best Remedy I Ever Came Across."

Tells Reason for Successful Obesity Treatment to Thousands.

One of the biggest advertising experts in New York City stated in a letter that his wife had greatly reduced her weight and improved her health, and if it were not for fear of undesirable notoriety she would gladly tell the whole world about its great blessings. For Tablets Arbolone has proved itself a real blessing to thousands of suffering fat people. L. M. Hansen, 1917 Master St., Philadelphia, Pa., writes:

"I have taken 3 pkgs. of Arbolone Tablets, which have reduced me 20 pounds, and it is the best remedy I ever came across. I recommend to all who wish to reduce, etc."

Arbolone Tablets is the only treatment that stops the craving for wrong foods, overcomes perverted appetite, eliminates fatty elements and dissolves fat from the body safely, surely and reasonably prompt. One or two packages will convince anyone that Arbolone is a real reducer. Sold by thirty thousand druggists in sealed tubes with full directions. For sale by Wolff-Wilson and all other druggists.—ADVERTISEMENT.

LABOR LEADERS OPPOSE ANY FORM OF PROHIBITION

Local Union Officials Give Views on Proposed War Dry Legislation.

4000 MEMBERS MARRIED

Employes Who Would Be Affected Are Said to Represent at Least 20,000 Persons.

Union labor leaders in St. Louis are unqualifiedly opposed to liquor prohibition in any form. They so expressed themselves to a Post-Dispatch reporter, adding that the rank and file of their respective organizations also were opposed to anti-liquor legislation.

Charles J. Lammert, president of the St. Louis Building Trades Council, returned from Washington last night, where he attended a meeting of the executive council of the Building Trades Council, at which a resolution was adopted requesting Sampel Gompers president of the American Federation of Labor, to call on President Wilson and protest, in the name of organized labor, against the beer and light wines amendment to the Lever food control bill. Lammert stated that the council was assured by Gompers that he would see the President as soon as possible and deliver the protest.

Building Trades Council Acts.

The Building Trades Council met last night, with 150 delegates representing 16 local labor organizations, and went on record against any legislation affecting the manufacture of beer and light wines. The decision of the delegates was unanimous that such legislation would invite economic disaster, Lammert said, and would throw out of employment 360,000 brewery workers in the United States.

The action of the delegates authorized Lammert to urge Missuri Senators by telegraph to oppose any form of liquor prohibition. The council has a membership of 10,000 men in St. Louis, who are a unit, Lammert explained, against prohibition.

"Union labor organizations everywhere are against such drastic legislation contemplated in the food conservation bill as affecting the manufacture of beer, but we are with the administration for food conservation," Lammert declared. "The workingman believes it unjust to deprive him of beer and wine, and is unqualifiedly against any legislation that will throw hundreds of thousands of fellow workmen out of employment.

The Central Trades and Labor Union of St. Louis has 60,000 members, and is on record against prohibition. David Kreyling, secretary, said:

"This organization is opposed to any sort of prohibition measure in any circumstances. We do not believe in anything that infringes the private rights of individuals as long as they are not interfering with the rights of others or violating the laws. It is folly even to think of putting hundreds of thousands of workingmen out of employment to conform to the wishes of a few."

Position of Musicians.

Owen Miller, secretary of the American Federation of Musicians and former international president, pointed out that the organization has 1200 members in St. Louis and 80,000 in the United States, "who are a unit against this prohibition and have declared themselves so time and again at their conventions."

"The question of nation-wide prohibition at this moment is most inadvisible," Miller added. "In fact, it is outrageous to coolly contemplate the destruction of the traffic that has been considered legal since the founding of the Government—that brings in a revenue of $750,000,000 a year. If this outrage is consummated it will mean the destruction of billions of dollars worth of property without a moment's notice; it will mean the throwing out of employment of hundreds of thousands of employes whose dependence amounts to millions of dollars. In fact, I consider the idea outrageous, and if Congress attempts to force this law down the throats of the people it will cause a feeling of dissatisfaction and unrest among the labor people that will do incalculable harm.

"This is not a time to invite discussion. We want to stand together, and to have a few puritanical fanatics fasten this frightful proposition on the country is almost unbelievable."

Brewers and Malsters.

Joseph Hauser, secretary of the Brewers and Maltsters Union, explained that that organization has a local membership of 5000, composed of brewers, maltsters, bottlers, oilers, firemen, engineers, laborers and freight handlers. Other employes of breweries are machinists, steamfitters and millwrights, who have a separate organization. There are about 600 of these, he said.

"Four thousand brewery employes in St. Louis are married men," Hauser remarked, "and their dependents will bring the number of persons affected to nearly 20,000, should this law become effective. More than 50 per cent of the brewers are over 50 years of age, and should they be thrown out of work could hardly start anew and earn a living, as they know no other business."

The organization, Hauser added, has joined other labor unions in unanimous opposition to all "dry" legislation.

U. S. ARMY POSTAL AGENT IN EUROPE NAMED BY BURLESON

Domestic Rate of Postage to Prevail, and Location of Addressee's Unit Not Permitted.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Elaborate preparations have been made by the Government for handling the great volume of mail that will pass between the troops of America's expeditionary forces and home. Postmaster-General Burleson announces the appointment of Marcus H. Bunn of the department force here, as army postal agent in Europe.

Rates on army mail to and from France have been reduced by the department so that the cost is the same as for mail between points in this country. Branch and mobile postoffices will be established in the field for the delivery and receipts of mail, sale of stamps and the issuance of money orders.

Postage stamps will alone be valid for the prepayment of postage on mail for the troops. All letters should be addressed to the division, regiment, company and organization to which the addressee belongs, but designation of the location of the unit will not be permitted.

For That Ice Box

Use Pockel's Victoria White Bath Enamel. It is prepared especially for decoration and preservation of the exteriors and interiors of iceboxes. It is made of the palest, hardest, toughest and most elastic gums known to science, so incorporated with special oils as to be absolutely neutral in its combination with the best and most permanent pigments. It dries hard with a porcelain-like gloss that will withstand hot water, steam, soap, dilute acids and disinfectants, and when applied according to directions, we guarantee it will prove entirely satisfactory. Its excellent qualities make it particularly useful for decorating walls of bath rooms and lavatories, or wherever exceptional durability and permanence of tint are desired. It has also been used with excellent results on radiators, registers, water coolers, sinks, etc.

Slugging of Hornsby and Cruise Feature Victory Over Cubs in Second Game.

By W. J. O'Connor.

Oscar Horstman's signal success against the Cubs, in the second portion of yesterday's double-header, which he won, 6—3, breezing, overshadowed even Hornsby's feat of making three triples and a single out of seven times up.

Horstman was a little surprise package; the world knows that Hornsby can hit—and hit 'em straight-away and farther than any 21-year-old milk-fed Texan on earth or anywhere else.

But pitching is the bete noir of Mr. Huggins' seamy life and when Horstman "arrived" yesterday, Hug acted like a man who had been rescued from a firing squad at sunrise. This was Horstman's second chance of the season to start a game.

On May 22, in Brooklyn, Horstman got his first chance to open a battle in the firing pit. He lasted seven innings against the champions, holding them to six hits and three runs—only two of them earned. The Cards could do nothing with Coombs that day and Horstman was withdrawn in the eighth to let a pinch hitter swing. He lost the game, 3—1.

Since then he has been used entirely as a relief pitcher. He has lived a life of terrible tedium in the bullpen and was kicked into the box score only after flagrant failures by his associates—Watson, Ames, Packard et al. And it must be said that he never made a very favorable impression.

Eddie Herr Responsible.

However, one Eddie Herr, who is an ivory hunter of great renown, having found the spoor of Bill Doak and tracked him to his lair in the darkest jungle of Ohio, is responsible for Horstman's presence on the Cardinals, and Eddie has persisted in the belief that Oscar would some day come through. Herr bought Horstman for a trifling sum last season from the pennant-winning Los Angeles club of the Coast League and deemed him one of the best young pitchers "coming up."

Herr never weakened on his opinion. However, the opportunity for Horstman to start a game was slow in arriving and Herr had all but exhausted his patience when Mrs. Necessity, the old mother of Invention, demanded yesterday that Huggins give Horstman a start. There was no other bomb-thrower available on the Cardinal bench. So Horstman went to it.

He had a curve ball under control that broke "two feet," while he whipped a fast one past their chins and forced more than one batter to bend ground and funned six. He held the Cubs to one hit for six frames and with brilliant support might have earned a shutout. Jack Smith played Merkle's drive badly in the eighth and Fred got a home run. Zelder's double, a scratch hit by Williams and an infield out gave the Cubs their first run. In this inning, however, Horstman purposely passed Elliott, filling the bases and then fanned Prendergast, proving that he had control and the nerve to use it.

Cards Need Horstman.

If Horstman is "here" for a long stay the Cardinals will be eminently well prepared for a sustained drive on first division with an outside chance of challenging the Philadelphia and New York pennant pretenders. With any kind of pitching the Cards should beat out the Cubs, who are ancient and spavined and beginning to weaken under the strain.

Half of Mitchell's collection of castoffs are "track-sore" now. They do not figure to stand the siege of summer heat as well as the Cardinals, who are the youngest collection of players in either league.

President Rickey says he has his hooks baited for two more pitchers, who should give Huggins a lift immediately. If he lands them the Cardinals will not only stay in the upper tier, but they figure to keep on climbing. Any club that carries a kick such as Cruise, Hornsby, Smith and Baird can land is sure to be a pennant factor with anything like an even break on hurling hill.

CENTRAL STATES ENTRY INCLUDES 122 PLAYERS

One hundred and twenty-two tennis players have entered the Central States patriotic tournament, which is scheduled to start on Saturday on the Triple A courts in Forest Park. The entry list will be held open until tomorrow and it is expected that many more will compete. The total receipts of the tourney will be turned over to the Red Cross Association.

Robert Ross of the Triple A club announced yesterday that three army officers had entered the competition. They are Maj. H. S. Pipes of Jefferson Barracks, Capt. A. F. Dillingham, who competed two years ago and is now at the barracks, and Lieut. Stinson, who is here on Government service.

Hunt Albert of Cincinnati, who is visiting friends here, is the only out-of-town entrant.

SPORT BRIEFS.

"Chief" Bender, the Indian pitcher, who was unconditionally released by the Philadelphia Nationals early this season, will rejoin the team in Brooklyn today.

"Hank" Gowdy, Boston National catcher, has left the team to join the Ohio National Guard at Columbus, O.

William Ridley of What Cheer, Ia., topped the amateur division in yesterday's shooting of the Tri-State trapshooting tournament at Memphis with 196 breaks out of a possible 200. Jake Gibbs, professional of Union City, Tenn., was high for the day with 199 breaks.

Erwin Baker, motor cycle racer of Indianapolis and Los Angeles, set what is said to be a new endurance record for 24 hours when he drove his motor cycle 1,086 miles on the Cincinnati Speedway, at the rate of 87½ miles an hour. His actual riding time was 22h. 29m., losing time in replenishing gas and oil and making repairs. His time at 500 miles is said to have set a new record also by 1h. 18m. 58s.

PACKARD OR MEADOWS VS. DOUGLAS IN LAST CHICAGO GAME TODAY

Either Gene Packard, who carried the first battle of the current series to a successful ending in 15 frames, or Henry Lee Meadows, who was knocked out after four innings yesterday, will oppose the Cubs today in the final game of the series. Douglas, the big and effective right-hander, will work for Mitchell. Play at 3:30.

Eugene Paulette, whose work afield and at bat has been very efficient, will be among the missing this afternoon. Gene departed last night for Little Rock to welcome an addition to the family. He will rejoin the club tomorrow in Chicago.

In Paulette's absence Miguel Gonzales will go to first base and bat in seventh place. There's a chance, too, that Larry Doyle will be missing from the Cub lineup, as Larry pulled up lame yesterday and was forced to quit the game in the second inning. Doyle hurt his ankle last fall and the injury is slow to mend.

This will be the farewell appearance of the Cards on the local loam until July 26, when they return to play the Braves. They begin their long trip tomorrow with a game at Chicago, playing two others before swooping down on Pittsburg for four. Then in succession they tackle the Giants, Braves, Superbas and Giants for four games each. In all they will play 23 games on this trip and a record of 13—10 will be eminently satisfactory to Manager Huggins.

In the series with the Cubs the Cards have so far made nine triples and four doubles. Hornsby has made four triples and is now the leading extra-base hitter of the league.

BESCHER BLOCKS DEAL WITH LOUISVILLE; WILL NOT ACCOMPANY CARDS

Bob Bescher has been placed in a very peculiar position, according to his admissions to President Rickey, who talked today of the failure of a deal with the Louisville (American Association) club.

"I had arranged to send Bescher to the Louisville club yesterday, but I was astonished to learn that Bescher declines emphatically to go," said Rickey.

"Bescher draws a salary of $4200 from the Cardinals and has been drawing it for two years. He admits that he is not rendering commensurate services for that salary. I agree with him. He is of no value to our team. But he refuses to go to Louisville, where we have arranged to pay the major portion of his salary.

"Bescher will not make the trip with the Cardinals tonight. He will do the club as much good at home. In the meantime I must determine how to deal with him, although his actions so far have completely astonished me. Had he accepted the transfer, I might have improved the Cardinals. And it is, he has the deal effectively blocked."

3 MUNICIPAL LEAGUE PLAYERS SUSPENDED

Three players of the teams in the Municipal League were handed suspensions for rowdy tactics in last Sunday's game. George Bangert of the Grand-Gravois and E. E. Homan of the Southerns were suspended for one week and George E. Gomen of the Sylvans for two.

The suspensions still standing are those of Roy Jones and Lee Pollock, who still have one week to serve, and Gus Mehrhoff, indefinitely. F. J. Berevell of the C. K. of A. has been reinstated.

E. M. Wetton, manager of the Southerns, and Ed Weismueller of the Grand-Gravois have been warned to keep better order among their players.

JOSTIES AND DREWES ARE AGAIN TENNIS WINNERS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 28.—Play in the fourth-round singles and second-round doubles, which was prevented from being completed by a high wind, featured yesterday's matches at the patriotic tennis tournament in progress here under the auspices of the Missouri State and Missouri Valley sectional tennis associations. No titles are at stake.

Of the visiting players to survive today were: Theodore Drewes, Triple A, St. Louis, who won from Carl Meyers, Kansas City, 2—4, 6—3, 6—4, in the second-round singles; Fred Josties, Triple A, who defeated Gordon Parker, Kansas City, 4—6, 6—4, 6—2, in the same round, and Josties and Drewes, who vanquished R. L. James and Heath Moore, Kansas City, in the second-round doubles, 6—2, 7—5.

Cobb Hits Safely in 24 Consecutive Games This Year

American League Leader Is Within Five Games of 1916 Mark Set by Wheat.

Tyrus Raymond Cobb added two more games to his consecutive hitting string and has now reached a total of 24 straight contests in which he has made at least one safety. He made one of the four hits for the Jungaleers off Cicotte, while he also nicked Dave Davenport for one. He's now only five games short of the 1916 record held by Buck Wheat, the Superba outfielder.

In the twin-bill with the White Sox yesterday, Cobb also raised his stolen base record for the season to 20, while he added another run to his scoring total.

Despite Cobb's efforts, however, the Tigers lost both games to the White Sox, 5—2 and 3—2, and dropped out of the first division, the Indians replacing Jennings' band. Risberg, the Sox shortstop, made four hits, including a triple, in as many trips to the plate in the opening contest.

Giants Again Lead.

Although outhit, 11—5, theGgiants defeated the Phillies yesterday, 4—2, and moved back into first place in the National League. Benton and Perritt pitched for the "Prussians," while Lavender was on the mill for the Phils. Dave Davenport, who has been Moran's men, had a bad day, being charged with four errors. George Burns made three of the five hits for the winners, two of them doing for doubles.

After hurling a no-hit game against the Nationals on his last out, Ernie Shore of the Red Sox was belted for 13 hits by these same Nationals yesterday and beaten, 7—6. The defeat put the men of Barry still further behind the White Sox. The margin between the two clubs is now four full games.

Rigler Banishes Four Braves.

Umpire Rigler is out to shatter Byron's record. Rigler yesterday chased four members of the Braves—Rvers, Stallings, Smith and Tyler—off the field. The Braves took on the Superbas, 7—3, hitting Allen, Reulbach and Hughes hard. Pfeffer worked the full game for Robinson's crew.

The Reds bunched their hits off the Pirate hurlers in two innings and won another game, 6—5. Regan and Ring hurled for Matty's men and Jacobs, Carlson and Miller for the Corsairs. Hans Wagner made three hits in five trips to the plate. Max Carey was again used as a pinch hitter and for the second time in as many days came through with a bingle, his rap yesterday being a triple.

After losing seven straight games to the Yankees, the Athletics, with Elmer Myers on the hill, beat Bob Shawkey yesterday, 8—1, scoring the winning runs in the ninth inning.

Wray's Column

Don't Be a Tennis Slacker.

THE world of sports is doing something toward retrenching, something toward increasing the available war fund; but it is not going the route as might be expected. The U. S. Tennis Association, although active in expressing its sentiment in support of Uncle Sam has not yet landed a real punch straight to the pocketbook.

Whereas the Missouri State, Transmissisippi and City GOLF tournaments have turned into the Red Cross treasury several thousands, only a few dollars have developed from tennis tournaments.

The Central States event, which is about to open Saturday, and which is the most important of the local year, has thus far only 122 entries, or $122 for the Red Cross. The Missouri State golf tourney here sent the Red Cross a check for $1000. And yet the Central States tennis event covers a territory which embraces a number of adjacent states, including Missouri.

Reducing the Receipts.

PERHAPS this is one result of the step taken by the Lawn Tennis Association in limiting its tourneys to "patriotic" affairs and in discouraging other than local entries.

The Central States, thanks to this policy, will be just a St. Louis tournament, and its entry fees will be cut down somewhat on that account.

St. Louisans can offset this situation by entering the event Saturday in the interest of the war aid, if not in the interest of playing.

Your tennis may be bad, but your $1 is perfectly good. Come on in!

Up to the Grandma League.

RESOLUTIONS passed by the New York baseball writers, asking that the National League hear their side of the McGraw "repudiation," excite some wonder as to the course next to be pursued by the venerable Grandma League. That this organization is hunting anxiously for an "escape," like a hare in a coursing park, seems evident from the rapidity with which it accepted McGraw's denial of published interviews, without asking the testimony of the writers.

Branch Rickey, who attended the meeting which accepted McGraw's repudiation, told a Post-Dispatch representative that there was no trial of McGraw and that therefore no evidence was asked or submitted. He stated that McGraw's voluntary and written denial of remarks against President Tener published in New York papers, was satisfactory to Tener. If the remarks were not uttered, no further cause for discussion existed, he said. The matter, therefore, was dropped.

Up to the National.

THIS seems a puny shelter behind which to hide. It is mere sophistry. A wrong has been done somewhere. One would think the league should be concerned enough in its own interest to try and discover if one of its leading lights was of the sort who knocked his own organization and then hid behind a denial.

A league which thus hastily hid away the shells, at its last directors' meeting, is not apt to drag them out again.

It is therefore unlikely that any further hearing of the McGraw matter will ever be held.

The league needs and fears McGraw. It needs and ought not to fear newspaper writers who, with few exceptions, have given baseball every advantage for the past two decades.

As between the two it seems necessary to eventually make a choice.

The Fulton-Moran Bout.

THE Fulton-Moran boxing bout, scheduled by the Future City, is "on" again. This will not please A. J. Rainey of 3292 Lindell avenue, who writes a severe indictment of the match. To him and to most of us, it appeared a weak match, when considered in the light of a FIGHT.

But Tommy Sullivan states that he wants to exhibit Fulton here, and figures that he cannot get a capable man to oppose him for a reasonable sum. He thinks Moran would serve as a vehicle for the EXHIBITION of Fulton.

Most fans believe this will prove a one-sided contest, as a FIGHT. But when announced as an EXHIBITION the matter takes on another appearance.

Many St. Louisans have attended exhibitions, that were advertised as such, with good grace. Nobody expected the McFarland-Trendall bout to be a contest; none expected more than a boxing lesson when poor old Bat Nelson went against Fred Welsh.

Boxing promoters make a mistake in matching a good man against an inferior one. But the real crime against the public is committed when the club exploits such a match as a real contest, instead of an exhibition.

Promoters haven't always learned to be frank with the public.

LONGBOAT, NOW SOLDIER, WINS RACE IN FRANCE

CANADIAN HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, June 27.—Sports held by the army with which the Canadian corps is connected resulted in the rediscovery of Tom Longboat, the famous Canadian Indian runner. In a three-mile cross-country race Longboat romped home well in advance of some of the most famous British and Canadian runners without even extending himself. He had a great reception from his regiment of comrades.

Eddie Plank Will Attempt to Break Chain of Defeats

Gettysburg Gunner Won Browns' Last Victory, Since Which 8 Games Have Been Lost.

CLEVELAND, O., June 28.—Eddie Plank, who won the Browns' last victory a week ago yesterday, will be the St. Louis pitcher at the start of the game with the Indians today, when the teams close their series.

It is also possible that Ernie Johnson will be able to resume his duties at shortstop, thus enabling Manager Jones to present a team nearer to a major league appearance than any since the club came here.

The outfield that Manager Jones presented yesterday will hardly do with Sloan in left, Jacobson in center and Rumler in right. Sloan did all right but both Jacobson and Rumler either dropped or misjudged flies that would have saved runs. Johnson's re-entry in the game will permit Marsans, who has been playing third base, to get back to center field, thus plugging a big hole in the defense of the St. Louis club.

When Dave Davenport, Earl Hamilton and Wayne Wright lost to the Indians, 6—4, yesterday, it marked the eighth game that the Browns have lost in a row. They started in Detroit by losing the last four games played and have dropped as many in the series to date to the Indians.

Browns' Attack Feeble.

While the outfield play of the Browns was ragged in spots yesterday, the attack was weak in the pinches, and good opportunities to score were wasted. Gould, who started the game, pitched to only three batters, whom he walked. Then he was taken out and Ed Klepfer pitched until two were out in the ninth inning. Bagby pitched to the last man, striking out Jacobson, with Ernie Johnson on third waiting to be driven in.

Rumler did even more miserably when the bases were filled in the opening inning by hitting into a double play. A run came over, but it seemed that the Browns should have made more out of this fine start.

Later a triple by Rumler and a double by Pratt gave the Browns their second run; but as many had been scored before Davenport was taken out, and Hamilton gave the Indians two runs.

One run was scored off Wright in the eighth because Jacobson fluffed a fly from De Berry with a man on first. Jacobson didn't make a catch, and the hit went as a double, scoring Evans.

Klepfer weakened in the Browns' ninth, and two runs were scored. Austin walked and Sisler singled. Both runners advanced on Rumler's grounder to the first baseman, a timely single by Severeid scored Austin and Sisler.

Taking no chances, Foxi pulled Klepfer and sent Bagby. Jones tried a little strategy that worked. He used Johnson as a base-runner for Severeid, and the Swede stole second and meandered to third when De Berry's throw got through Chapman.

Bagby outguessed Jacobson, though, and struck out the giant.

The Browns depart for St. Louis after today's game.

No Chicago Crew Coming for Creve Coeur Lake Races

The Lincoln Park Boat Club of Chicago, which has always made good showings in regattas held by the Southwestern Amateur Rowing Association, has failed to send in an entry for the coming events at Creve Coeur Lake on Saturday and Sunday, and consequently the races will be contested by crews representing only the clubs in the local harbor. The two clubs in Quincy and those of Detroit and Peoria also failed to enter.

Although Western has entered 11 of the 13 races to be contested, the crews of the Century Boat Club, who carried off the point trophy in last year's regatta, are again expected to be returned winners. The men under Coach Harry Allen have been working hard for the past two months. Century has entered four junior races and three on senior day.

There is a chance, however, that Century will be represented by more crews on senior day, as the winners of the junior races are eligible to compete in the second day events.

The local clubs that have entered the races are Century, Western, Mound City, Central, St. Louis and Baden, the North End club not having entered a single race.

The events on Saturday, junior day, will be the six-oared barge, single sculls, four, quarter-mile dash, pair-oared shell, double scull and eight-oared barge. The senior day races are the following: Six-oared barge, single scull, four, pair-oared shell, double scull and eight.

SPORT SALAD

By J. C. Davis

John J. McGraw.

My name it is Johnny McGraw,
I'm the peppery boss of the Giants;
I wallop an ump in the jaw,
Then issue to all a defiance.

"I'm monarch of all I survey;
I've figured in many a riot.
The writers I tell what to say,
Reserving the right to deny it.

"At big league officials I scoff;
For magnates I care not a particle.
But when I begin to cool off,
I say 'there's no truth in the article.'

"No adverse decision I'll brook,
When after the pennant I'm tearing;
I'll land on the umps with a hook
And knock him as flat as a herring.

"For years I've been pulling this stuff
And dare anybody to flout me;
The magnates all fall for my bluff;
They know that they can't do without me.

"When newspaper writers impute
A statement to me, I review it;
But when the said tale I refute,
It pains me quite deeply to do it.

"I'm monarch of all I survey
So, don't for one minute forget it;
When anybody gets in my way,
I speedily make him regret it."

Welcome to Our City.

WHILE St. Louis is entertaining the Sigma Chi frat, Miller Huggins is giving a little party in honor of the Weegman Chi outfit.

Rogers Hornsby entertained the guests with an exhibition of three-base hitting. The kid is clever and gave a really wonderful exhibition of the three-ply pastime, but somehow or other the Chi boys didn't seem to appreciate it and displayed little or no enthusiasm.

It's funny how different people view different things in a different light. Now, the Chi boys, for instance, seemed to enjoy the pitching performance of "Hippo" Vaughn immensely. But the Cards just looked at him askance and didn't give "the behemoth of holy writ" a single cheer.

"Twas terribly torrid in Cleveland, yesterday. It was so hot that "Baby Doll" Jake fanned with the tieing run on third.

How Dry Yi Yam!

THE "Wets" are urging the Senators to give us a cereal story that will be continued in our necks.

The Browns continued their wonderful losing streak and donated another frolic to the Indians yesterday. We don't know where the Browns are going but they're headed that way. There is only one team in the league that can stop 'em and those are them Athletics.

He's In Again.

THERE was a man in our town,
And he was wondrous trite;
Time-honored bromides he would use
With all his main and might.

One day when I suggested
That he hand me something new,
Right off the bat he asked me:
"Is it hot enough for you?"

Automatic Autocracy.

The American Association has adopted a rule whereby instead of players being put out of the game by the umps they will be fined $25. Every time the player opens his mouth after the first offense an additional 25 bucks automatically detaches itself from the culprit's bi-monthly stipend.

This ought to work out very nicely. The player will stay in the game but still feel put out.

It also takes quite a burden off the shoulders of the umps. After the first fine has been assessed Coulon received a setback because Coulon lost his title to Kid Williams. But latterly he has come back to the front fighting in better form than ever before.

METEORIC JACKSON WILL FACE DUNDEE FOR SECOND TIME

First Meeting Ended in Knock-out of Italian Star by Then Unknown Fighter.

ABILITY SINCE TESTED

In Bouts With Chick Simler and Other Good Ones Jackson Has Shown Great Promise.

By Robert Edgren.

(Copyright, 1917, by Press Pub. Co.)

NEW YORK, June 28.—Among the really first-class matches to be fought here in the near future is the Dundee-Jackson bout tomorrow evening. This should be hardest fought and the best lightweight match of the season. The Welsh-Leonard bout was sensational because of the way in which Leonard did his share of the fighting, and because he knocked Welsh out and became world's champion. But it wasn't a great boxing match, for it was one-sided. Welsh could do nothing but his desperate best to endure Leonard's punches and save his title by sticking it out. He couldn't fight.

The Dundee-Jackson affair should be entirely different and a hummer, with no odds on either side.

A few months ago Jackson startled the sporting world by knocking Dundee cold down in Philadelphia with a rap on the chin.

It was entirely unexpected. Dundee had shown no sign of "going back." No one else had ever even staggered him for more than a few seconds. And they had all hit him, from Willie Ritchie to Benny Leonard. Jackson, too, was practically an unknown. It looked fluky.

Dundee, to prove that he wasn't slipping, took on as many fights as he could, with the hardest opponents, and he fought better than ever before in his life. He wasn't on the way as a fighting man. This was pretty good proof that Jackson had some class himself. And Jackson went along winning fights in a meteoric way, landing clean knockouts and demonstrating that he didn't hit Dundee by accident. Today he is regarded as a likely opponent for Benny Leonard.

Whether he becomes Benny's next victim or not depends upon how he comes out tomorrow evening with the rejuvenated and revengeful Dundee. There's not the slightest doubt in the world that the "Scotch wop" is out for revenge. He hopes to flatten Jackson flatter than he ever flattened anyone before in his life. If he succeeds he and no one else can claim Leonard's attention for a championship bout.

Lewis Under Welter Limit.

Ted Kid Lewis is back from the battlefield that gave him the2welter title. Lewis according to Manager Johnston, weighed in at the required 145 pounds at 2 in the afternoon, and stepping on the scales after the official weight showed his real weight to be 138 pounds. James says there's no mistake about the 138. He may not have seen Benny Leonard's weight, but he's sure of Ted Kid's.

So there's no doubt that Lewis is entitled to the championship, having taken a legal and official verdict over Britton and within the American limit weight of 142 pounds.

Ted is still going to fight often now that he is champion, and he has an intention of picking the soft ones. It's likely that he'll take on Mike O'Dowd again soon. And no one ever claimed that bird to list among the easy marks.

Frankie Burns a Comeback.

Many fighters have tried to "come back" when their fighting time was apparently over. Few have succeeded. I don't remember one whose effort was as successful as that of the great little New Jersey boxer, Frankie Burns. Frankie was supposed to be at his best when Johnny Coulon was bantam champion. He dropped nearly out of sight for a while after his ambition to whip Coulon received a setback because Coulon lost his title to Kid Williams. But latterly he has come back to the front fighting in better form than ever before.

Must be something in the Jersey climate. Ponce de Leon missed it when he hunted for the spring of youth in Florida.

MARKETS AND FINANCE--SALES AND LATEST QUOTATIONS

WALL ST. MARKET IN STOCKS SHOWS A BEARISH TREND

Early Values Are Higher, but Selling Follows; Trading Is Fairly Broad.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 28.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

"While call money rates today naturally did not continue at yesterday's closing figure of 2 per cent—that was merely an indication of the fact that the day's demands had all been met in the earlier hours—the rate ranged at 6 per cent or less. Well below the 6 per cent rate that has prevailed this week, and the general tendency was towards an easier position.

"It was today's market and tomorrow's, which would naturally feel the full force of the pressure in case the 18 per cent installment payment, due today on the $2,000,000,000 loan, along with the preparation for the July settlements, were to cause actual money stringency. Therefore, today's relation in money rates clearly proved that the exceptional requirements have already been provided for.

New York Bank Helps.

"For the averting of a strain which at one time seemed inevitable, the credit belongs primarily to the Ne wYork Federal Reserve Bank, which has managed a difficult position with great skill. In its arrangements, on the one hand with the local banks and on the other with outside reserve institutions, it was helped by the facilities for redeposit in the member banks of subscriptions to the loan and also, to a considerable degree b ythe fact that large installment payments were made today in the short time certificates of indebtedness.

"Even so, however, the most perfect timing and co-ordination of effort was necessary to avoid at least an old-time 15 or 25 per cent call money market.

"The fact that the banking machinery has been so successfully used to achieve that purpose is the first striking illustration of what the new system means to American finance.

"On the Stock Exchange prices again moved irregularly. Practically all of the day's activity was in the industrial shares, and most of them declined. In a few cases, mostly of the highly speculative shares, the weakness was emphatic. It was offset by the bidding up of prices in a few other kindred stocks, but as a whole the market tendency seemed to be downward for the day.

DETAILED REPORT OF DAY'S TRADING IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, June 28.—With the exception of the motor group and a few high-priced specialties, firmness ruled at the outset of today's dealings. United States Steel advanced a large fraction, affiliated issues recording similar or greater gains. Equipments, some of the metals and oils, Pittsburg Coal and Ohio Gas shared in the rise, which was attended by considerable activity. General Motors, Studebaker, Texas Company and Industrial Alcohol were reactionary, with declines of 1 to 2 points. A sale of Brooklyn Union Gas at 105 represented a loss of almost 12 points. Rails were dull and irregular.

Liquidation and short selling of the automobile divisions, oils and utilities, soon became so general as to affect the entire list. Declines in General Motors, Studebaker common and preferred, Chandler and Saxon Motors ran from 1 to 5 points. Ohio Gas yielded 6 and Alcohol as much, Texas Company falling 3½.

United States Steel reacted a point, but developed fresh strength with Crucible Steel, Baldwin Locomotive and American Car. Coppers, shippings and rails continued quiet at minor changes. Rallies of 2 to 3 points in the more speculative issues set in at noon. Bonds were irregular, dealings in Liberty 3½s being at par or better.

Selling increased in the afternoon, embracing minor industrials and specialties. United States Steel reacted 1⅝. Crucible 2 and Bethlehem 3½ points. Alcohol extended its loss to more than 9 points and rails were mostly under yesterday's final figures.

London Stock Exchange.

LONDON, June 28.—In view of the holiday Saturday and Monday, dealings narrowed down on the Stock Exchange today, although the tone continued cheerful influenced by the war news. Argentine rails were well supported and foreign bonds were in good demand under the lead of Spanish and Brazilian issues, while shipping shares were the features in the miscellaneous section. Otherwise dullness prevailed. American securities barely moving from parity.

Money was in increased demand for month and requirements.

Discount rates were steady.

London Bar Silver.

LONDON, June 28.—Bar silver 39⅞d per ounce. Money 4@4½ per cent. Discount rates short bills 4⅝ per cent; three-month bills, 4⅝ per cent.

Rain in Kansas and the Southwest depressed local corn futures about 1c in the early market today. Trade also was influenced by fairly liberal receipts and less active buying by Eastern export houses. The late market was firm, however, and final values were steady to a fraction over yesterday's close.

Wheat sentiment was bearish, and the July option sold 1c lower, at $1.98. Good rains fell over the spring wheat belt and the crop is making splendid progress. Oats were quiet. Wheat finished easy.

According to the report of the Census and Statistical Office the total area sown to wheat in Canada for 1917 is 13,450,250 acres, compared with 14,897,000 acres in 1916. There are small increases under cultivation in each of the Atlantic provinces and in British Columbia, and an increase of 25,000 acres in Quebec, but for each of the remaining provinces decreases are reported to the extent of 151,000 acres in Ontario, 254,000 acres in Manitoba, 927,000 in Saskatchewan and 158,000 in Alberta.

Of the total wheat area, 809,250 acres were planted last fall, and 12,641,000 acres this spring. The average condition of wheat for Canada on May 31, in per cent of the standard, representing a full crop, was 84 per cent, as compared with 90 per cent on May 31, 1916, and with 91 per cent the average condition on the corresponding date for the seven years ended in 1916.

The anticipated yield per acre of wheat this year is 7 per cent less than the average of the seven years, 1910-1916.

The decrease in wheat area this year is partly due to the curtailment of the seeding season, by the lateness of the spring, and efforts were therefore directed toward increasing the area in other crops.

The Liverpool wheat market was easy with America and more liberal Canadian offers, buyers generally are very conservative. Corn market firm, with scarcity of American first-hand offers, and continued unfavorable reports from Argentina. spot demand generally good and offers strongly held.

The Kansas State weekly crop report said: "Only a few local rains fell in Kansas this week and the crops are beginning to suffer in all parts of the State, especially the western counties, where the damage is becoming serious. On Friday and Saturday maximum temperatures ranged from 100 to 105 degrees in the west and greatly aggravated the effects of the drouth. In the eastern half the only crops damaged so far are gardens and potatoes. Continued warm weather, and sunshine have been favorable for haying and other farm work, which is well up with the season.

"Wheat ripened rapidly and harvest is under way in the southeast quarter of the State under very favorable conditions. In the extreme southeastern counties it is about finished and in another week it will be general in the northeastern counties to the Nebraska line. As a rule it is from a week to 10 days later than usual. Oats made a steady improvement in the eastern half and are looking very fine, but in the western half both oats and barley have been badly damaged by drouth and in many western counties farmers are cutting oats for hay. In the extreme southeastern counties oats harvest has begun.

"Corn continues to be backward, but so far it has stood the dry weather well, even in most of the western counties. It is generally clean and well cultivated and if rain comes soon will make splendid growth."

The Illinois Grain Dealers' Association crop report makes corn acreage 106.8 per cent, as compared with last year. Condition is 81.2 and stocks of old corn remaining to be shipped 4.9 per cent. Latter suggests about 15,000,000 bu. based on Government estimated crop of 1916. Oats acreage, 105.8; condition, 100.2.

Evansville, Ind., reports new wheat being cut there; yield and quality much above earlier expectations.

COTTON PRICES ADVANCE ON LACK OF MOISTURE

NEW YORK, June 28.—This morning's weather map failed to show the rains privately reported in Texas late yesterday and, after opening firm at unchanged prices to an advance of 26 points, active months sold 20 to 30 points net higher in the cotton market early today.

Considerable realizing was encountered around 26.85c for October and 27c for December, however, while there were further scattering reports of showers in the Southwest, which some traders thought might show on the detailed reports received later in the day. Prices eased off in consequence, October selling back to 26.69c and December to 26.85c before the end of the first hour.

PROSPECTS OF EMBARGO LOWERS WHEAT MARKET

CHICAGO, June 28.—Prospects of immediate embargoes to reduce wheat exports to European neutrals gave a downward impulse today to wheat values. The market was bearishly affected also by optimistic crop advices, especially from the spring wheat region.

Opening quotations, which ranged from 2c to 4c lower, with July at $2.01 and September at $1.80 to $1.81, were followed by a slight further decline and then something of a rally.

Corn prices weakened as a result of rains in Kansas, where drouth had been complained of. Besides, reports were at hand indicating that a large amount of corn still remained to be marketed in Illinois. After opening ⅜c to ¼@1c lower, prices suffered a moderate additional setback before a recovery began.

Oats eased down with corn. Buying ascribed to seaboard account, though, proved later to be more than an offset.

Falling off in shipments of lard and meats had a bearish effect on provisions.

Seaboard demand led subsequently to something of an advance in corn, but not of a lasting sort. The close was nervous at the same as yesterday's finish to 1½c up.

Announcement late in the session that the Government soon would completely dominate the distribution of wheat, both for domestic and export operations, and that option trading in wheat would be abolished, brought the market almost to a standstill. Business in the future delivery pit ceased entirely for an interval. The close was steady 1½c to 3c lower, with July at $2.01 and September at $181½.

LIMES—Jamaica, $1.25 per 100.

STRAWBERRIES—Home-grown, [illegible] to $1.50.

WATERMELONS—At $1.50 to $3.75 per 100 lbs. delivered, according to size of melons.

35% Securities Safe as Rent

The great earning power of these securities is based on oil and gas royalties, where you take no chances on prospecting or developing. The pipe lines and oil buyers pay royalties direct to us under the law, and not to producers, which fully protects us as the royalty owners, same as collecting rent on real estate.

Mid-West Royalties

Are based conservatively on an earning power of 35% annually. If they can't be bought by us on that basis they are not bought. Reinvestments keep up this percentage of earning from year to year and offset declining production. Prices are morally sure to advance and increase this earning power. The company now pays 1½% monthly dividends— 18% annually—which will soon be increased to 2% monthly—24% annually.

Gold Bonds of Series A, due February 1, 1965, of Series B, due January 1, 1923, and of Series C due August 1, 1926, and General Mortgage Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds, due March 1, 1975 (all in coupon form) of Missouri Pacific Railroad Company (the New Company organized under the laws of Missouri to carry out the Plan and Agreement of Reorganization as modified July 25, 1916, of the Railway Companies first above named), together with Trust Certificates for Convertible Five Per Cent. Preferred Stock and Common Stock of said Missouri Pacific Railroad Company, all in definite form, and fractional scrip for such bonds and such trust certificates, are now ready for distribution.

Holders of the certificates of deposit above described, issued in the United States, must, to obtain the new securities to which they are respectively entitled, surrender their certificates of deposit to the respective Depositaries which issued the same. In the case of issues marked with asterisks () above (which are exchangeable for trust certificates for preferred stock), the certificates of deposit so surrendered must be accompanied by a statement of the names and addresses of the holders, and the new trust certificates and any checks for adjustments in respect of interest will be issued only in the names of the holders as so stated. Forms of such statements must be obtained from the respective Depositaries. Deliveries of the new securities will be made, so far as practicable, in the order in which certificates of deposit are so surrendered.

In the case of certificates of deposit issued by Central Trust Company of New York for stock, trust certificates for the new common stock will be issued in the names borne by the certificates of deposit surrendered, unless different names are specified by separate instrument in writing by the persons surrendering such certificates of deposit. In the latter case the certificates of deposit surrendered must be accompanied by New York State transfer tax stamps at the rate of two cents per share, and by such Federal tax stamps, if any, as may be required by United States law at the time of such surrender, and the trust certificates will be issued in the names so specified.

All certificates of deposit surrendered to Depositaries must, unless in bearer form, be accompanied by properly executed transfers thereof in blank. Signatures to transfers must be guaranteed to the satisfaction of the respective Depositaries, and, in the case of certificates of deposit issued by Depositaries in New York, every such guaranty must be by a New York City bank, trust company or Stock Exchange firm, or by a bank or trust company having a New York City bank or trust company as correspondent.

The new First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds will be delivered with coupons due August 1, 1917, for interest from June 1, 1917, and subsequent coupons. The General Mortgage Bonds will be delivered with coupons due September 1, 1917, for interest from June 1, 1917, and subsequent coupons. The First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds of each series and the General Mortgage Bonds will be in the denominations of $1,000 and $500, and any holder of a certificate of deposit entitled to receive new bonds of either issue, may deliver to the Depositary, with his certificate of deposit, written directions specifying in which of said denominations such holder desires the new bonds to be delivered; but no holder of such new bonds or of such certificates of deposit will thereafter be entitled to exchange bonds of either denomination for the other, and in all cases where denominations are not specified as aforesaid at the time of surrender of the certificates of deposit, the Depositaries at their option may deliver bonds of either denomination.

At the time of distribution of the new securities, cash adjustments in respect of interest will be paid to holders of certificates of deposit for the bonds in this paragraph mentioned, in the cases and in the manner provided by Article VI of the Plan. Adjustments for interest upon old bonds exchangeable for new bonds will be made up to June 1, 1917, the date from which the new bonds bear interest, but interest upon the face amounts of coupons covered by adjustments will be allowed to June 30, 1917. In cases where no advances in respect of interest have been made under the Plan, the total amounts of the adjustments payable in respect of the several issues, for each $1000 principal amount of bonds, will be as follows: 5% First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds due 1959, $27.75; Forty Year 4% Gold Loan Bonds, $22.20; Consolidated First Mortgage 6% Bonds, $5, in addition to any interest due on such bonds on or before May 1, 1917, and not yet paid over by the Depositary; Trust 5% Bonds due 1917, $119.00; First Collateral Mortgage, 5% Bonds due 1920, $95.80; St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern Railway Company's First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds, $120.40; The Kansas and Colorado Pacific Railway Company's Bonds, $93.33; The Central Branch Railway Company's Bonds (when exchanged for 100% in new bonds), $76.63; The Central Branch Union Pacific Railway Company's Bonds (when exchanged for 100% in new bonds), $21.02; The Leroy and Caney Valley Air Line Railroad Company's 5% Bonds, $27.25; The Kansas City Northwestern Railroad Company's Bonds, $27.25; and Little Rock Junction Railway Bonds, $10, in addition to any interest due on such bonds on or before April 1, 1917, and not yet paid over by the Depositaries.

Holders of certificates of deposit for stock of The Missouri Pacific Railway Company who have paid only the first instalment of $12.45 per share under the Plan, will not be entitled to receive the new securities until they shall have made the final payment ($37.50, and interest, per share). Such final payment must be made on or before August 22, 1917, under penalty of forfeiture.

For all fractional interests in bonds and in votingtrust certificates for stock, bearer scrip certificates will be delivered.

PLANT'S 600 EMLOYES TO GIVE MONTHLY TO RED CROSS

East St. Louis Workers Form Club and Others Will Be Asked to Form Like Units.

Six hundred employes of the Elliott Frog and Switch Works, East St. Louis, met today and formed the Elliott Red Cross Club, the members of which agree to give a percentage of their monthly salaries to the Red Cross while the war lasts. The percentage has not been determined, but suggestions that it be one day's salary have been favorably received by the membership.

The money will be deducted by the company from the pay envelopes and distributed to the Red Cross each month.

John Pero, the manager of the Missouri Malleable Iron Co., conceived the idea, and Daniel McGlynn, an attorney, explained it to the Elliott workers. Other plants in East St. Louis will be asked to form similar units.

COL. OLIVER HAZARD PAYNE, STANDARD OIL TREASURER, DIES

NEW YORK, June 28.—Col. Oliver Hazard Payne, prominent in New York and Cleveland financial circles, died here yesterday in his seventy-eighth year. He was the son of Harry B. Payne, former Senator from Ohio, graduated from Yale in 1863. He entered the Union army in the Civil War as a First Lieutenant and rose to be Colonel. At the close of the war he was brevetted Brigadier-General.

Col. Payne was identified with the steel, oil, railroad and mining interests. For many years he had been treasurer of the Standard Oil Co., and is reputed at his death to have held securities in that corporation valued at $90,000,000. He entered the company with the Rockefellers, becoming its treasurer almost at once.

PLANT'S 600 EMLOYES TO GIVE MONTHLY TO RED CROSS

East St. Louis Workers Form Club and Others Will Be Asked to Form Like Units.

Six hundred employes of the Elliott Frog and Switch Works, East St. Louis, met today and formed the Elliott Red Cross Club, the members of which agree to give a percentage of their monthly salaries to the Red Cross while the war lasts. The percentage has not been determined, but suggestions that it be one day's salary have been favorably received by the membership.

The money will be deducted by the company from the pay envelopes and distributed to the Red Cross each month.

John Pero, the manager of the Missouri Malleable Iron Co., conceived the idea, and Daniel McGlynn, an attorney, explained it to the Elliott workers. Other plants in East St. Louis will be asked to form similar units.

COL. OLIVER HAZARD PAYNE, STANDARD OIL TREASURER, DIES

NEW YORK, June 28.—Col. Oliver Hazard Payne, prominent in New York and Cleveland financial circles, died here yesterday in his seventy-eighth year. He was the son of Harry B. Payne, former Senator from Ohio, graduated from Yale in 1863. He entered the Union army in the Civil War as a First Lieutenant and rose to be Colonel. At the close of the war he was brevetted Brigadier-General.

Col. Payne was identified with the steel, oil, railroad and mining interests. For many years he had been treasurer of the Standard Oil Co., and is reputed at his death to have held securities in that corporation valued at $90,000,000. He entered the company with the Rockefellers, becoming its treasurer almost at once.

Free Basket Picnic in the Woods at Riverview Gardens, July 4th

Come out, bring your friends, and have an old-fashioned, safe-and-sane picnic in the cool, shady woods, overlooking the Mississippi River.

We will have refreshments, music, contests, prizes and lots of fun. Plenty of free, shady picnic grounds. You will also have an opportunity of seeing how we laid out Riverview Gardens, a tract of 255 acres, into beautiful bungalow sites, wooded groves and "Little City Farms," and why $65,000 worth of it has already been sold. Send for illustrated circular.

The Post-Dispatch Daily Short Story

The Loss of the Hornsea

By F. H. Sweet.

"SPOKEN off Point Judith, Nov. 1, schooner Hornsea, Capt. Higgins. Full cargo and all well."

This information, commonplace enough to the operators, flashed to Boston, to Portland, and in the space of time necessary to press the instrument keys and transfer, to Machiasport. There it had to wait an hour before it could be sent down to the Old Captain, at Ledge Point, five miles away, where it ceased to be commonplace.

Three years before, the Old Captain had invested the savings of his lifetime in a schooner, renamed it the Hornsea, in memory of his old home on the North Sea, and then sent it away on a voyage of which he had dreamed since he made a journey of discovery as a boy into the submerged forests of the Amazon. And now this message said that the $10,000 he had sent away, and which had been gone three years and almost given up as lost, was coming back to him increased more than fifty-fold.

Sixty years had the Old Captain been identified with Machias as boy and man, as worker and owner; and 60 years had he held the interests of every boy and man of the community as equal to his own. To them all he was the "Old Captain" and the title was recognized as far away as Eastport and Calias and Ellsworth.

And for 60 years—ever since he had landed as a half-grown, ambitious boy—he had cherished a purpose that had grown clearer and more tangible with his increasing successes. It was to get rich, and then to go back to his old home on the North Sea and purchase the estate that had been lost to the family even before the memory of his father.

It was a dream that had flickered and dulled and grown bright from time to time through all the 60 years, but had never entirely died out. He had no friends there, no relatives, not even a memory of the estate, which he had never known; but he had a knowledge of it, and it would be good to go back and restore the glory of the ancestral acres for his son, and then lay his own bones with those of his ancestors. This was the goal that had been the object of his working and dreaming, always more or less remote, but now, through this message, suddenly become immediate and positive.

But with this thought came the first shadow that had crossed the sunny disk of his life. Hornsea was his old home, but his 60 years of real usefulness and happiness had been passed at Machias. Here he had found his wife, and here his son had married, and here lived, when at home, his dearest friend, John Higgins. He knew every man, woman and child within a day's journey, and every man, woman and child knew him, and smiled to him welcome.

Without egotism, he felt that he had done good here, and won approval. Well, he would do good over there. But even with this thought, and the maturing of his plans, the shadow of separation grew heavier upon his face.

The next day brought something intangible from the sea. It was not a message this time, but a rumor, brought by the sea birds perhaps, or by the wind, for it seemed to have no destination and no source. It was that a schooner from South America had been wrecked somewhere off the Massachusetts coast and many lives lost.

The old Captain heard it with whitening face. But he was not thinking of his treasure, nor of his son, who was captain of a fine vessel on a prosperous voyage among the West Indies; rather his thoughts flew to the wife and five children of his friend, John Higgins. Almost as soon as the rumor reached him, he was on his way to the little cottage near the beach. If the rumor had reached her he would scoff at and ridicule the idea; unfounded rumors were crooked tales, he would tell her, and would prove it by facts from his own experience.

But on his way he was stopped by the mail carrier, who had for him a rea. message, and not a rumor:

"Wrecked on Stellwagens Ledge, schooner Hornsea. Total loss. Captain and crew saved."

The shadow left the old Captain's face with a rush. Hurrying on to the cottage, he met Mrs. Higgins in the doorway. Her eyes were frightened and inquiring. Yes, she had heard.

Shaking the slip of paper above his head, the old Captain called cheerily:

"All right, Mrs. Higgins, John's safe, and so are the men. They'll be home tonight or tomorrow."

A quick cry of joy escaped her lips. Then her face grew anxious.

"And the Hornsea, Captain? Is she safe, too?"

He looked blank. He had forgotten the Hornsea.

"Why, no; I believe not," he answered slowly. "This says she is a total loss."

And that is how the dream of the old Captain's life passed away, for he was too old to begin again. There was nothing but to resign himself cheerfully to a life among the people who loved him, and where his son was meeting prosperity. And that is what he did.

The Sandman Story For To-night

BY MRS. P. A. WALKER

Kitten Grey

KITTEN GREY did not know how large the world really was until her little mistress took her to the country for the summer.

Kitten had always lived in a city where there was only a small yard and no trees for the birds to sing in, so when she saw the country and the fields and trees and all the birds and chickens she felt sure they were all made for her. Kitten Grey began at once to enjoy herself. She liked best to run in the barnyard, and if some one was not near to stop her she would be very bad and catch a poor little chick before it could get under cover of its mother's wing.

Sometimes the old mother hen would chase Kitten Grey, but that frightened her only for the time, and even the old red rooster with his spurs failed to keep Kitten Grey from the barnyard.

If something had not been done to cure her of her bad manner Kitten Grey would have been sent back to the hot city to spend the rest of the summer on the pavements with only the janitor where she lived to look out for her comfort. But something did happen and I will tell you about it.

Kitten Grey's little mistress cried when she was told Kitten might have to be sent home. So the farmer where they were spending the summer thought of a way to cure Kitten and make her keep away fro mthe chicks.

One day when Kitten thought no one was looking she ran into the barnyard; the chicks scampered away to their mother, and Kitten thought she had lost a good dinner, but all at once she spied one little yellow chick standing under a bush, and naughty Kitten ran and caught it in her paw. She picked up the poor little thing in her mouth and ran behind a barrel, where she thought no one would see her.

In a minute she came running out, and around and around the barn yard she flew as if some terrible thing was after her.

The hens and chickens clucked and ran away, watching Kitten Grey, thinking she had gone quite mad.

Out of the barnyard ran Kitten and into the woods, over and over she rolled in cooling moss, and by and by she sat up and began to wash her face.

Her eyes were wild looking, and she jumped at every sound; even the birds which flew very near to Kitten did not tempt her; in fact, she tried to get as far from them as she could, for Kitten Grey never wanted to see another chick or bird. She had been cured.

The little yellow chick in the barnyard was made of cotton and the farmer had managed to put some sticky glue on it, with a little red pepper sprinkled on, so that when Kitten Grey grabbed the chick in her mouth she could not let go until the pepper had done its work.

Poor Kitten Grey thought her nose was on fire, and then that all the needles in the world were in her mouth. She didn't know where to go or what to do, and when at last she found herself in the woods she wondered how in the world she happened to be there.

All at once she thought of the yellow chick, and Kitten Grey knew she never again wanted a chick for a meal.

The birds and the chicks were safe, as far as Kitten was concerned, for the rest of the summer, and Kitten never went into the barnyard again.

Slow Pay—Fast Driver.

"WHAT do you know of the character of the defendant?" the Judge asked a negro washerwoman subpenaed in an accident case. A white man had been arrested for careless driving of a secondhand car.

"Hit's tollable," Miranda said.

"Have you ever seen him drive his car before?"

"Yes, sah."

"Would you consider him careless?"

"Well, Jedge, ez for de car—dat little thing ain't gwinter hurt nobuddy, but being us is all here, I might ez well tell yo' dat he sho' is keerless 'bout payin' fo' his wash!"

Accounting for His Hurry.

"YOU say your neighbor got married and enlisted the same week?"

"Yes; he did."

"Why couldn't he wait a little while before taking a wife?"

"Well, you see, his regiment is not to go into service for several months and he wanted to begin fighting right away."

Holds Drastic Measures A Not Necessary Now Lodge in Senate Asse Prohibition Proposals.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Presid Wilson stepped into the prohibition f over the food bill today, partly to the measure from a row between contending factions and partly to se law he believes the country will prove.

The President told Senate leaders agreed with the proposal to stop ma facture of foodstuffs into whisky gin, but did not believe the brewing beer and manufacture of light w should be stopped now.

A provision to prohibit distilling to empower the President to stop b ing and wine making when he co ers it necessary, he told Senate l ers today, he believed would satisfy bibitionists and also the country. ...ovisions to repeal effect will be ...duced later with prospects of adop

Senator Sheppard, a leading pro tionist, who prompted the commit proposal to stop manufacture of distilled spirits and beer, said to the President desired to have auth to govern brewing and wine making favored it and believed Congress w agree.

Wants Prompt Action.

During the morning the President ferred with Senator Martin, ma leader, and Senator Gerry of Rhod land.

President Wilson expressed to Se Martin his hope for prompt action the bill and anxiety over the pros of delay from the prohibition issue. President, it was said, as a compro on prohibition, suggested the plan t him authority and responsibility t cide whether beer and wine making continue.

"I told the President I was a such procedure," said Senator Mart said Congress itself has the respon ty and should act—not pass it ab the President."

Senator Phelan, however, pos stated that the President, in fav legislation giving him authority to continue or stop manufacture of and vinous beverages, is opposed mediate cessation.

An amendment to meet the Pres wishes, Senator Phelan said, wo offered, probably next week.

"The President feels that such ought to satisfy the prohibitionis well as all others, if he is given a ty and full responsibility, if he de necessary in any emergency to pr further manufacture of beer and w said Senator Phelan, "but he do believe it is necessary to immed cut off the use of beer and othe erages with little alcohol.

The President realizes that prohibition has been made an in Congress it is almost imp to hope for the elimination of sort of prohibitory provision fr food bill.

Postmaster-General Burleson, often represents the President i ferring with Congressmen, went Capitol today and urged several leaders to modify the bill to manufacture of beer and wine Postmaster-General was said t told Senators the President does sire to disturb or divide public ment during the war by cutti consumption of light alcoholic erages in general use and that action is unnecessary, at it wou serve comparatively small supp foodstuffs.
